STOCKTON, MARYLAND

VOL. IV.

JUNE 3, 1932

NO. 2

GRADUATION NUMBER 1932

CLASS OF 1932

Left to right—Bottom row—Marie Jones, Eunice Baylis, Mary Paradee, Eunice Pettit, Hettie Taylor.

Top row—Dorothy Brandon, Marie Coulbourne, Clay Mason, David Hancock, Alvin Hickman, Preston Payne, Elwin Pilchard.

Class Roll

Eunice R. Baylis—"Baylis"—

Acedamic

Motto: "A live wire never gets stepped on."

Favorite Saying: "Ay—my boy."

Class Treasurer (4); Class Play (1, 4); Glee Club (4); Treasurer "Le Cercle Francais" (4); Volley Ball (1, 2); Hit Ball (3, 4); Capt. Field Ball (3, 4); History Club (3); Asst. Mgr. Field Ball (3).

You've guessed it—Eunice Baylis is one of the best athletes ever enrolled in Stockton High School. Eunice's smile and unusually deep dimples will never be forgotten by those

Class History

Somewhere in the dim past we entered high school on a bright fall day in '28. We were Freshmen getting our first taste of high school life. After we had our first impressions of the Faculty, place and students we started to make impressions upon others.

In this our Freshman year, seven of our number were picked for the Glee Club. The radioletta, "Please Stand By," was given by the senior class of '29 in which we took an active part, dancing a Danish folk dance, "Ace of Diamonds." Several of our class proved themselves to be

Class Prophecy

What has the future in store for the members of the Class of '32? For the past four years our parents and teachers have been trying to guide us and determine our dignities. We selected as our class motto "Ever Onward." Yes, "Ever Onward," but where to—in what direction are we moving—what are our aims? Life is too short to spend a life-time in exploration. Some of us have consulted fortune tellers. We have consulted the oracles; we have offered our sacrifices to Apollo; but in vain. We were about to give up in despair; about to graduate from high school without who know her. We know, Eunice, that you will always have pleasant recollections of your school life with us and we wish you success in whatever may be your future.

Dorothy M. Brandon—"Dot"—

Academic

Motto: "Make the best of whatever you do."

Favorite Saying: "Dem's Goldfish."

Glee Club (1, 2, 3, 4); Field Ball (3, 4); Volley Ball (1, 2, 4); Vice President History Club (3); "Le Cercle Francais" (3); Secretary "Le Cercle Francais" (4); Winner Freshman-Sophomore Declamation Contest (2); Wharton Medal (3); County Declamation Contest (3, 4); Class Cashier (1, 2, 3, 4); Class Play (1, 2, 4); Assistant Editor "School Bugle" (4); Class Historian

Here is one of our most popular seniors, a girl always bright and cheerful! "Dot" is the leader of our class and one whom every one admires. There is an unmeasurable amount of knowledge stored in her blond head. She is one of the most congenial class mates and always ready and willing to do her part in anything. "Dot" can make a piano "talk" when she wants to do so. She hopes to advance farther in music and we are wishing her much success and happiness in her life's work.

Isabel Marie Coulbourne—"Re"—

Academic

Motto: "Life is what we make it."

Favorite Saying: "Holy G's."

Hit Ball (1, 2, 3, 4); Glee Club (1, 2, 3, 4); History Club (3); French Club (3, 4); Class Play (1, 2, 4); Secretary-Treasurer Glee Club (3); Wharton Contest (3, 4); Alumni Editor "Bugle" (4).

We find Marie Coulbourne a most congenial class mate. Her willingness to do her share is demonstrated by her engaging in all activities. "Re" has shown her ability on the stage by taking the part of "Sally" in the class play. All during her high school life she has been especially interested in Hit Ball. She has been a member of the Glee Club for four years, and we are wondering who will take her place when she is gone. We are wishing her the greatest success.

David W. Hancock, Jr.—"Dave"—

General

Motto: "A thing worth doing is worth doing well."

Favorite Saying: "You Bum."

Class Play (1, 4); Glee Club (3, 4); Doorkeeper "Owl Club" (4); Business Manager "Bugle" (4); History Club (3).

In "Dave" we find a pleasant class mate, a boy who attends to his own affairs, and makes the best of every opportunity, a serious student who never allows frivolities to interfere with his work. But when his work is completed and his goal has been reached, he has his lighter, more care-free moments. His power of concentration and reasoning things out for himself, will surely be a great aid in making a success of his business career. So, along with others we extend to you the best wishes for a brilliant future.

Henry Alvin Hickman—"Cudge"—

General

Motto: "Be a live wire; not a dead weight."

Favorite Saying: "I have an ide-er"

Glee Club (3); President Glee Club (4); Class Play (1, 4); President Athletic Association (4); Asst. Manager Baseball (4); Soccer (2, 3, 4); Baseball (3, 4); President "Owl Club" (4); History Club (3); Agriculture Award (3).

"Cudge" is one of our most popular seniors, a regular fellow, whom every one likes and admires. His ability as a leader through his school life will undoubtedly be a factor in his success in the future. Some day, we expect to see his "Hickman's Dairies" the finest and most modern and most efficient dairy farm on the shore. Anyway here's wishing you success "cudge" and we know you will make good in your enterprise.

Jennie Marie Jones—"Boots"—

Academic

Motto: "What is to be; will be."

Favorite Saying: "I'll see you on the ice".

Touchdown Pass (1); Hit Ball (3);

Class Play (4); Glee Club (4); French Club (3, 4); Winter Carnival (3); Field Ball (3, 4).

We find "Boots" to be the one in our class to fight for her rights at any time. "I'll see you on the ice" is surely characteristic of her; nevertheless, Marie and her dark brown curls will never be forgotten. Here's wishing you success "Boots"—and we know you will find it.

Henry Clay Mason—"Mase"—

General

Motto: "Laughter is the bright side of life."

Favorite Saying: "Well, I'll be tee-gone."

Baseball (2, 3, 4); Captain Baseball (4); Soccer (2, 3, 4); Captain Soccer (4); Glee Club (2, 3, 4); Class Treasurer (3); Sergeant-at-arms History Club (3); Athletic Editor "Bugle" (4); Class Play (2, 4); "Owl Club" (4).

Girdletree has given us the clown of our class. One is never too tired or in too big a hurry to stop and laugh with "Mase" over some of his foolish antics. He has an inexhaustible supply and always has a ready answer for any kind of question. It is very seldom he has anything to do during study hour. It is with heavy hearts that we bid you farewell, Clay, with the hope that you will be able to joke and laugh your way to success.

Mary Frances Paradee—"Whipper"—

Academic

Motto: "Don't try dying, but die trying."

Favorite Saying: "Good night nurse!"

Vice President Class (2, 3, 4); Wharton Contest (3, 4); Glee Club (3, 4); French Club (4); History Club (3); Hit Ball (1, 2, 3); Volley Ball (4); Field Ball (3, 4); Winter Carnival (2, 3); Athletic Editor "Bugle" (4); Class Play (1, 4); Class Prophetess (4).

"Whipper", the little girl who grew up wanting to be a movie star, but who has of later years decided to carry on the noble art of nursing, is one of our most capable leaders. During her Junior year in high school, she became intensely interested in the life of a French heroine, Joan of Arc, and made her life her own ideal. With this noble woman as her ideal she will undoubtedly find success wherever she looks for it. Combining her training as a nurse and her ideal in Joan of Arc, perhaps some day, we will be glad to point out our classmate as one of the greatest benefactors of mankind; a second Clara Barton; a modern Joan of Arc. So, good luck Mary, and may success which you deserve be yours.

William Preston Payne—"Press"—
General

Motto: "Today decides tomorrow."

Favorite Saying: "I don't care."

Baseball (4); Soccer (4); Secretary "Owl Club" (4); Class Play (1, 4).

Here is the quietest boy in our class "Press" always takes everything seriously and when he smiles it is worth while. "Press" is a good sport and shall greatly be missed. During his senior year he has taken unusual interest in his work. Your classmates are expecting great things from you, Preston.

Eunice Virginia Pettit—"Bill"—

Academic

Motto: "Be the best of whatever you are."

Favorite Saying: "Har! Har! Har!"

President History Club (3); Glee Club (3); President Glee Club (4); Vice President "Le Cercle Francais" (3); President "Le Cercle Francais" (4); Class Play (4); Humorous Editor "Bugle" (4); Field Ball (2, 4); Declamation Contest (3, 4); Parker English Medal (4); Mgr. Field Ball (4); Cheer Leader (3, 4); Volley Ball (4).

This popular senior joined our class in our Junior year. She was immediately accepted as one of our favorites and has become so closely allied with us that it seems she has been always a member of our class. Her ability as a leader is emphasized in her appointments to many honorable positions in extra-curricular activities. Her scholastic standing is proved by her being awarded the Parker English medal as the best English student in the graduating class. We shall never forget "Bill" and her dignified (?) laugh. May her fondest hopes and dreams be realized.

Elwin S. Pilchard—"Pill"—

Academic

Motto "Life is what we make it."

Favorite Saying: "Aw heck!"

Class President (1, 2, 3, 4); Secretary History Club (3); Glee Club (3); Sec'y.-Treasurer Glee Club (4); Editor-in-chief "School Bugle" (4); "Bugle Reporter" (2); Cheer Leader (3); Manager Soccer (4); Freshman-Sophomore Declamation Contest (2); Class Play (1, 4).

We find Elwin an ideal classmate always making some one laugh with his wise cracks. For four years he has made a remarkable class president. He is a good all around student, interested in all school activities. But remember, your eleven class mates will be listening for your tenor voice on the air. We feel success and happiness is awaiting you.

Hettie Elizabeth Taylor—"Het"—

Academic

Motto: "Sink or Swim."

Favorite Saying: "You don't say!"

Glee Club (1, 2, 3, 4); Hit Ball (3, 4); Class Play (1, 2, 4); Volley Ball (2); History Club (3); Field Ball (3, 4).

Here we find one of our ideal classmates. She has been with us for eleven years sharing with us our good times, taking part in suggested plans and cooperating with the class. "Het" a common nick-name which is applied to her around school, has been one of Miss Jones' song birds all through her happy high school days. "You bet your life" that success and happiness will come her way.

—o—

Newly-arrived Freshman, Maud Payne on Baltimore street car, very nervously—"Conductor which end of this car do I get off of?"

Funny Conductor — "It doesn't make a great deal of difference, Miss, both ends stop."

Eddie Foulks—I suppose your father will be unstrung when he hears about your exams.

Miss Jones—No, I wired him last night.

CLASS HISTORY

amateur actors; namely, Bud Houston, Bill Payton and Charles Coulbourne. The baseball season brought forth interest in athletics. Carl Adkins, Charles Coulbourne and Bill Payton were our athletes. It was during our Freshman year that the school issued the first number of our school paper. The pupils were requested to submit names which they thought were suitable. "The School Bugle," the name given by Dorothy Brandon was chosen. In May the seniors went to Washington, several of the under classmen went, too, in order to make the required number. Alvin Hickman, Mary Paradee, and Dorothy Brandon from our class got up courage enough to make the trip.

Upon entering our Sophomore year we found that two of our members, Franklin Redden and Margaret Bevans had decided to wait for the next class. Later on in the year, Myrtle Bennum left our circle. We entertained the seniors this year by giving them a "weenie roast" at Public Landing. The first Sophomore-Freshman Declamation Contest was held during our Sophomore year. James Houston, Elwin Pilchard, Eunice Baylis, Sherrard Aydelotte, Geraldine Sharply and Dorothy Brandon showed their ability in declaiming. Dorothy took first honors and Josephine Houston, a Freshman, received second honor.

The summer of 1930 passed very quickly when school again opened, our class entering as Juniors. Eunice Pettit had left the New Church High School to cast her lot with us. We gladly welcomed this Virginian with her "Tee-hee" laugh which she has kept throughout her school life with us. After selecting our subjects we immediately elected our class officers. Elwin Pilchard as President, Mary Paradee as Vice President, James Houston as Secretary, Geraldine Sharpley, Treasurer and Dorothy Brandon, Cashier. It was while we were Juniors that we labored so hard with "Physics" which we all vowed never to take again. Mr. Belote, our teacher, proved to be very patient in helping us master our difficulties.

One of the happiest moments of our school life was realized when Mr. Dryden told us we were to pick out our class rings. After much comparison and discussion we decided upon what we thought was a very pretty ring. Charles Coulbourne left us after Christmas, yet, staying with us long enough to get his class ring. Our class was represented by Mary Paradee, Eunice Pettit, Marie Coulbourne, and Dorothy Brandon in the Wharton Contest, which was won by Dorothy Brandon. We gave the seniors a party in the school auditorium, which was greatly enjoyed by all.

After having spent a most enjoyable summer we settled down to the business of becoming Seniors. Our class had diminished still more. Bill Payton and Carl Adkins seemed to think it useless to attend school, so stopped. James Houston had left us to go to Buckingham High School in Berlin, and Sherrard Aydelotte to Pocomoke High School. We elected Elwin Pilchard for the fourth year to be our leader. Mary Paradee as Vice President, Dorothy Brandon, Secretary and Cashier, and Eunice Baylis, Treasurer. Geraldine Sharpley left us to become Mrs. Milton Howard Barnes. We were sorry to lose her, but "Cupid" with his mystic arrow had pierced her heart. (Good luck to you, Gerry!). Our class was again represented in the Wharton Contest by the same contestants as the year before. Grace Cherrix, a Junior, took first honors and Eunice Pettit second honors. Our Class Play, "The Heir of Mount Vernon" which is a play dealing with the social life and sterling manhood of George Washington is now being prepared.

We have taken our failures as wholesome medicine, and know that we will profit by them in the future. Words cannot express how grateful we are to the Faculty for their kindly interest.

We are now about to part, some to go hither, some thither, but our knowledge and appreciation of the good times and friendships formed at Stockton High will go on forever. Some of our class relationships and fellowships may be forgotten, but our thoughts and pride in Stockton High School will never die.

"Goodbye! Old schoolhouse!" Echo sad,

"Goodbye! Goodbye!" replies;
I leave you yet a friendly tear!
Fond mem'ry bids me drop it here,
'Mid scenes that gave it rise!

CLASS PROPHECY

knowing whither we are going other than "Ever Onward," when suddenly Mary F. Paradee came to our rescue. We all know Mary's fondness for day dreaming. How many times her teachers have asked her "to snap out of it?" Well, one morning in May, Mary dreamed through one of Mr. Belote's chemistry lectures. As the bell rang at the end of the period, Mary awoke and shouted, "Eureka! Eureka! Classmates, for the past hour I have been reading an item in a newspaper that I picked up while sitting in a large hotel in New York. Glancing across the front page what should I see but a large picture of an army officer. Looking at the name I saw that it was Capt. Clay Mason of the United States Army. I further learned that he would leave New York with 10,000 others for China. Again I looked at the picture—how familiar he seemed, our old classmate of '32 and how proud I was to know that he was representing our country in foreign protection.

Laying the paper aside, I turned on the radio from which issued beautiful strains of music. Listen! the announcer was saying. "We have with us this evening one of the greatest radio stars in our country; even today Europeans listen in for this rich tenor voice and the beautiful strains from his Hawaiian guitar. Elwin Pilchard opens his program this evening with a popular hit of the day "Somebody Loves You." The ring in his voice brought me back to my former days when he used to sing in school. How good it was to hear my old classmate again!

Looking at my watch I knew I must hurry to catch my train for home. Going out of the hotel and walking down the street, I looked up and saw a huge sign "New York's Largest and Most Fashionable Beauty Parlor," Eunice Pettit (owner). I caught my breath. Oh! I know her. Quickening my step, I hastened to the swinging doors and walked in and Eunice, with the same smile upon her face, came down the hall. I talked to her about her career and learned that she had eight buildings under construction throughout the United States. Bidding her goodbye I started again for the station. I was about to cross the street when a small child ran out of the store in front of me and was struck by a fast trolley. I ran to the child and raised his bleeding head; he opened his eyes, gave a moan and then closed them. By this time the police and many others were in sight. I helped to put him into a car and rushed him to the largest hospital of the city. As I entered the hospital I noticed, sitting at the desk, my old classmate Marie Coulbourne, clad in a white uniform. She had become superintendent of this hospital. She told me that she had for her assistants, Hettie Taylor and Marie Jones, who had graduated with highest honors in '35. Meanwhile the boy was put under the care of the most efficient nurse, Marie Jones. Knowing he was in good care, I left the hospital.

Hurrying down the street, whom should I see but a tall familiar figure in front of one of the National Banks. When he turned around I recognized my old friend David Hancock—"Dave" with the same smile of old Stockton High School days. He told me that he was one of the cashiers of the bank and that Preston Payne was receiving teller.

When I reached the station the train had gone. I had three hours to wait so I decided to go to the theatre. The advertisement on the outside read "Musical Contest". Soon after I had taken my seat in the balcony, the curtain rose disclosing a tall blonde woman at the piano. How surprised I was to see my old classmate.

Dorothy Brandon displaying the same grace and same poise as in high school days. After several beautiful and soul stirring selections the program came to a close. How thrilled I was to hear that Dorothy was announced the winner of the gold medal of honor and a trip to Europe as a participant in the "World's Musical Contest."

My three hours were up. I went to the station, boarded the train and rode by several progressive suburbs of New York. I looked out of the window and saw a large dairy farm with many barns and pastures surrounding it. Above the barn was a large billboard "H. A. Hickman's Dairy Products". I then remembered that a friend had told me that Alvin Hickman had moved near New York about five years ago and owned one of the largest dairy farms in the state.

An hour and a half later as I was getting off the train, at my home town, whom should I meet but Eunice Baylis, the joy of our class. She had beside her a tall handsome youth whom she introduced to me as her husband. They were going on a trip to Florida where her husband is engaged in a large mercantile business.

After wishing them much happiness, I went to my home and sat down on the porch. As I was enjoying the cool breeze and pleasant memories I heard a faint sound of a bell. Again—I heard a more pronounced sound. I awoke and found that I was in Chemistry class! Now I know what the future holds for members of our class of '32 and may each one be as happy and successful in his life's work, as I so vividly dreamed.

CLASS WILL

—o—

We, the members of the class of 1932, of Stockton High School of the City of Stockton, being of sound mind and memory do hereby make and publish this our last will and testament, hereby revoking and making valid all former wills and promises heretofore made by us.

We dispose of this will as follows: Item I.

We give and bequeath to our Alma Mater a George Washington Plaque as a constant reminder of the class of '32.

Item II.

To Mr. Dryden our beloved principal we leave our sincere affection, and our eternal memory.

To Miss Hyland some new "L'abbé Constantin" books.

To Miss Jones some new members for the Glee Club to take the place of the departed Seniors.

To Mr. Belote we leave enough red ink to last a year to make his "Danger marks" on reports.

To Mr. Ward—Clay Mason's ability to dance.

To the faithful Juniors—the management of the "Bugle".

To the "Saucy Sophs." we leave our "Rep" as being the most industrious class in high school.

To the "Silly" Freshmen we leave our orderly conduct so they may enjoy much happiness in their future years.

To the members of the Junior Class we bequeath the following:

To Anne Lilliston, Eunice Pettit's fashionable giggle and ability to act crazy.

To Grace Cherrix—Dorothy Brandon's studious ability.

Margaret Bevans—some tickets to the Old Maids' Convention where samples of freckle cream will be given.

Margaret Hancock—a new formula for the preparation of "Coal Tarr."

Lawton Coulbourn—Elwin Pilchard's ability as a speaker so he may make many enjoyable speeches in future assemblies.

Clifford Dryden—"Cudge" Hickman's way of "milking cows."

Richard Hancock—Clay Mason's athletic abilities.

Howard Payne—Preston Payne's "Rep" as being the quietest one in class.

Harrison Petitt—Eunice Baylis' dumbness.

Franklin Redden—David Hancock's Chemistry knowledge.

To Edwina Smith—Marie Jones' fashion in combing her hair.

Alberta Townsend—Marie Coulbourn's athletic abilities.

Harry Smith—a new V-8 Ford roadster so he can take his girl friend "out."

Ralph Tarr—A book on "A Way with the Women."

Estil Trader—some growing mash.

James Ward—a number of units which will enable him to graduate next year.

We trust the class of 1933 will appreciate this will and cherish it in future years.

We do hereby appoint our principal as the sole executor of our last will and testament.

In testimony hereof, we have hereunto subscribed our name and affixed our seal this second day of June, Anno Domino, one thousand nine hundred and thirty two.

Signed

Class of 1932

EDITORIAL

Seniors, in just a few days now we will have completed our work at Stockton High School. We are ready to pass into another sphere, another phase of our life. But, in our new surroundings, our new thought, and our new ideas let us always hold as precious memories, the dear old days we have spent in our Alma Mater which we can never forget. Our school is only a small one, but let us show that we are proud of it, glad to point to it with pride as our Alma Mater. For our school needs us, it still needs our support, our interest to encourage a wide awake program of activities.

Let us patronize these events as regularly and as proudly as if we were still members of the student body. Athletic events, school programs, declamation contests, commencements—every form of scholastic activities. Our faculty and the pupils will enjoy seeing us again. But added to that, they will realize that we are still interested in the progress of our school, that graduation has not in the least hindered our interest in Stockton High School.

Then too, we must remember our class-mates, friends and playmates we have known since we were old enough to come to school. Let's remember these friends, always. Class reunions will serve to reunite the scattered fragments of our group, and there we may recall the dear old days we have spent together.

It will serve as an incentive, as an encouragement for progress in the field of activity, we have chosen for our life's work.

Another means of co-operating with our school following graduation, is through the Alumni Association. The present organization for several years has taken no active part. It seems to lack the personal interest of our alumni. Seniors, let us not forget our school as other classes have done. Let's become active through a new Alumni Association that will be a real aid; a real inspiration to our school. What do you think about it? Even though we have completed the course of study and have received our diplomas, don't let it be the last fond gesture of farewell. Remember you are alumni now and that your school still needs you.

Commencement Activities

The sermon to the graduates was delivered by Rev. O. G. Brewer, of the Methodist Protestant church, in the school auditorium on Sunday morning May 29.

The Seniors were guests at a delightful party presented in their honor by the Juniors on May 16. The party included a boat ride to Chincoteague Island, Va., and a "weenie" roast. Everyone enjoyed the trip and it will certainly go down in our memory as one of the fond memories of our Alma Mater.

Our Class night, Thursday evening, May 19, the Seniors presented their class play "The Heir of Mount Vernon," a colonial play revealing the social life of George Washington.

The seventh grade presented the play "Evangeline" on their commencement night, June 1.

Dr. Regin J. Truitt, Professor of Zoology at the University of Maryland, College Park, addressed the graduates at commencement on June

BI-CENTENNIAL CELEBRATIONS

Our school opened an intensely interesting and active program in conjunction with the nation wide celebration of the two-hundredth anniversary of the birth of George Washington on February 22, the birthday of that famous American. On that day the four high school classes met in friendly competition at a winter carnival of indoor sports. The contest was interesting and highly entertaining to both participants and spectators. The entire elementary school turned out to watch the performance.

The carnival opened with several lively boxing bouts followed in rapid succession by the flag relay, dodge ball, bag race, block race, dodge ball throws, run and catch relay, Tug O' War, Jockey race, rooster fight and a potato race.

The athletic Sophomores not unexpectedly carried away honors with 43½ points and the Juniors came a close second; only ½ point below with 43. The Freshman athletics took 20½ points and the Seniors displayed their athletic ability by capturing last place with 20.

The faculty acted as judges and everyone agreed Washington's birthday was well celebrated and also served as a suitable opening for the Bi-centennial activities planned to follow.

The Freshman class were hosts at our second Washington celebration. Besides several patriotic songs and readings pertaining to Washington's boyhood they presented a short sketch entitled "A Pair of Scissors" picturing the making of the first flag of our nation by the famous seamstress, Betsy Ross, portrayed by Louise Beauchamp. The gallant General Washington was played by Ralph Ardis and a number of freshman girls added atmosphere as young seamstresses adoring the young Mr. Washington. Our personal selection as the best performance among the Freshmen goes to Louise Beauchamp as Betsy Ross.

In our opinion the most colorful and certainly the most elaborate staged program of the Washington series was presented by the sophomores. The high spot of their entertainment was a brilliant and intricate patriotic drill in which the entire class participated. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed this interesting display of talent on the part of both performers and their director. This entertaining feature was supplemented by music, readings and a sketch of an incident of the Revolutionary War. Wilma Tull and Ellen Hancock also entertained us with piano duets. Mabel Hancock, in our opinion, gave the best performance in the sketch.

"Washington's Contribution to Education" was the title of the program presented by the Juniors. Washington as a scholar and as a promoter of education was brought to us through the medium of an essay of that title by Grace Cherrix. They also presented several sketches and scenes of Washington as a boy and a man. In the humorous sketch as a boy the role of George was enacted by Ralph Tarr and in the sketches of a colonial party at Lord Fairfax's estate at Greenway Court, the dashing young Major Washington was played by Harry Smith. An especially entertaining feature of the latter sketch was a realistic colonial minuet. The program was interspersed with readings and patriotic songs. Ralph Tarr gave the most interesting performance in the role of Washington as a boy.

The seventh grade and pupils from other elementary school classes presented the next program of the Bi-Centennial celebration. Besides readings, exercises and songs, they presented as the principal feature of their program, a tableaux picturing famous events and people in the making of our nation. There were Washington, Lincoln, Rogers, and Clark, Betsy Ross, Admiral Dewey, Daniel Boone, and a host of other illustrious Americans. This unique and timely presentation was highly enjoyed by everyone.

The seniors presented the last of the Washington programs featuring a one act play entitled "Dispatches for Washington," a true incident of the Revolution. An interesting and somewhat amusing paper was read on Washington's rules of correct manners and rules of behavior, and a piano duet by Dorothy Brandon and Miss Hyland, a drill, readings, and patriotic songs completed the program.

The Senior Class play "The Heir of Mount Vernon" is another of the special activities of our school's bi-centennial program. This colonial play depicts Washington's social life, sterling manhood and courteous manners.

As a fitting climax to this schedule of activities in commemoration of the two-hundredth anniversary of the birth of the father of our nation, the Senior class will present to the school a specially designed memorial plaque, commemorating to the memory of all future students of Stockton High School the eternal memory of George Washington and the members of the class of 1932.

OUR EXCHANGES

"The Bugle" is pleased to acknowledge several exchanges with other schools. The complete list follows:

"The Hi-Hatter"—N. C. H. S.—New Church, Va.

"The Owl"—H. H. S.—Hurlock, Md.

"The Gist"—Goldey College—Wilmington, Del.

"B. R. C." Reflector—Blue Ridge College—New Windsor, Md.

"The Representative"—S. H. H. S. Snow Hill, Md.

MEMORIAL PLAQUE

The senior class of 1932 takes especial pride in getting an enviable precedent which it is hoped other graduating classes may follow. We are leaving the school a memorial plaque as a constant reminder of our class. It is an especially interesting presentation in that the plaque is also a perpetual memorial to George Washington and is presented when the entire nation is uniting in celebrating the two-hundredth anniversary of the birth of this illustrious American.

The plaque itself is approved by the United States George Washington Bicentennial Commission. It consists of a heavy, ebony finish wood base, with the Washington bust and two scroll plates in oxidized silver finish metal. All lettering is raised and the tops of the letters are polished to form a clear contrast against the oxidized background. The metal image of Washington on the plaque is reproduced from the famous bust, made from life at Mount Vernon by the great French sculptor, Jean Autoine Houdon, in 1795. The bust has never been removed from Washington's home, one of the nation's most beloved shrines, at Mount Vernon.

The presentation of this memorial plaque brings to a conclusion an active program of activities of our school in conjunction with the nationwide celebration of the birth of George Washington.

Mr. Dryden—Which plane is used to smooth the end of a small board against the grain?

Mabel H.—Inclined plane.

WHARTON DECLAMA-

TION CONTEST

The Wharton Declamation Contest was held in the high school auditorium on Wednesday evening May 11th. This Contest was represented by six contestants, four of which were from the senior class and two from the Junior class. This contest proved unusually interesting.

The first number on the program consisted of two vocal selections "Water Lillies" and "Home on the Range" by Sophomore class.

Dorothy Brandon, the first speaker, proclaimed her ability as an orator by giving the selection "Wake Up! America." Eunice Pettit came next with the "Littlest Rebel," after which Elwin Pilchard and Edward Foulks entertained us with some beautiful selections on Hawaiian Guitars. Anne Lilliston followed with a humorous reading entitled "Penrod's Nervous Breakdown." Mary F. Paradee gave a World War selection entitled "For France."

Music was next rendered by a quartette: Dorothy Brandon, Doris Taylor, Elwin Pilchard and Clay Mason who sang "Absent." Marie Coulbourne continued the Contest by presenting "The Wedding Ring." The final reading was given by Grace Cherrix, "Daddy Doc."

Only five of these contestants were eligible for the medal; Dorothy Brandon, winner of the Wharton Medal in 1931 was ineligible.

The judges, Miss Virginia Fontaine, Miss Grace Jones and Mr. Wilbur Jones, were chosen from the faculty of Snow Hill High School. First place was awarded to Grace Cherrix and second to Eunice Pettit.

The Girl's Glee Club next sang the following selections: "Love's Old Sweet Song" and "Pale Moon." The Sophomores sang "Bend meer's Stream," after which the decision of the judges was announced.

PROF. BIRCH'S MUSIC CLASS

The pupils of Stockton High School this year enjoyed an opportunity never before offered our school—instruction on musical instruments. We have been fortunate in securing the service of Prof. L. O. Birch who gives instruction on all stringed instruments except the piano, and on many wind instruments. Up to the present time twelve pupils have taken advantage of this opportunity to develop their musical talents on four instruments. There are four different classes:

Hawaiian Steel Guitar—Elwin Pilchard, Edward Foulks, Mabel Shockley, Maud Payne, Margaret Bevans, Edwina Smith, Howard Payne.

This Class has studied the Kawiki Hawaiian Guitar method. During their three month's work they have learned to play many finger exercises, waltzes and other pleasing medleys.

Tenor Banjo—Rhoda Ellis, Harry Smith, Dorothy Brandon.

Due to the difficulty of learning to play this instrument the number of pupils interested is limited. These three pupils are studying the "Santos Tenor Banjo Junior Method." Up to date they have learned "Tremlo," finger exercises and simple chords.

Spanish Guitar—Allen Collins.

Violin—Vernon Carey.

Elwin Pilchard and Edward Foulks made their first public appearance at the Wharton Declamation Contest playing two selections "One, Two, Three, Four" and "Where the Blue of the Night meets the Gold of the Day" as Hawaiian Guitar duets.

Mabel Shockley, another guitar pupil, expects to make her debut at the elementary performance of "Evangeline."

Soph (at baseball game)—Rah, we've got a man on every base.

Fresh. (irritated)—Piffle, so have we.

BASEBALL

All candidates for baseball were called together for election of a captain, manager and assistant manager for the 1932 season. Everyone was anxious to elect a capable leader. The following were nominated for captain: Clay Mason, Harry Smith and Alvin Hickman. Mason received the majority vote and was elected to act as leader of the team. He has had several years of experience, having played on the team for the past three seasons. Harry Smith was elected manager and Alvin Hickman as assistant.

A meeting of all baseball candidates held the last week in March revealed that a good number were interested in the sport. The boys showed much enthusiasm and were "rearing to go." Much of this spirit was carried out on the field in practice which began the following day. Prospects for a good team were very promising.

SNOW HILL

On April 12, our team visited Snow Hill for the first game of the season. Some of the enthusiasm was lost when the home team forged ahead in the early innings to a comfortable lead, so they thought—but in the seventh Stockton's "Big Guns" opened fire by taking full advantage of the wild pitching of Duer, came so close to evening things up that it threw a score into their opponents. The rally was now quite enough and the game ended with a 9-6 victory for Snow Hill.

Snow Hill returned the game on April 29. The visitors again piled up an early lead but a sudden outburst of cheers from the home supporters was responsible for a batting rally which put the home boys in the lead.

The fielding of both teams was rather poor, and since both showed batting strength many runs were scored on both sides. The result of the game was very uncertain, each team gaining and losing the lead several times. The final result was a 15-14 victory for Stockton.

POCOMOKE

On April 1, Pocomoke visited us with high intentions of winning. Both teams played good ball and were about equal in all departments of the game, but the Stockton boys took full advantage of the "breaks" while running the bases and managed to score 6 runs on 3 hits. The team work of the home team held the visitors to 4 runs in spite of the fact that they aggregated 6 hits. All during the game the boys played "head up" baseball and displayed fine spirit.

A second attempt to beat the Pocomoke boys on May 2 on their own field ended in a 10-3 defeat. Once the home team, which had not tasted victory in five starts, got in the lead there was no stopping them. Our boys just simply couldn't get going, Foulks being the only one able to get his eye on the curves of Levin.

BERLIN

Our team visited Berlin on April 19, but without success. Our opponents made six runs the first inning, which had a dampening effect on the boys' spirit. After this, Mason settled down and the remainder of the game was fairly well played on the part of Stockton, but the lead was too much to overcome and the final score was 13-4.

The Berlin boys played a return game on our grounds on May 6. Our boys tried hard but were unable to get a line of vision on the slants of the visiting pitcher, and as a result had to be satisfied with three runs. Our rivals were more fortunate and garnered a total of 17 runs by taking advantage of the many errors made by Stockton as well as making quite a few hits.

OCEAN CITY

The game which was supposed to have been played on Ocean City's grounds April 26 was transferred to Stockton because of the poor condition of the former following heavy rains. Our visitors were, at that time, one of the chief title contenders and were confident of victory. Our boys played an excellent game from every angle and as a result came out on the long end of a 6-5 score.

HONOR ROLL

Those pupils who have been on the honor roll for the months of February, March and April are:

February

Seniors—Dorothy Brandon, Mary Paradee, Eunice Pettit, and Marie Jones.

Juniors—Grace Cherrix, Lawton Coulbourne and Alberta Townsend.

Sophomores—Ellen Hancock, Wilma Tull, Granvil Matthews and Mabel Hancock.

Freshman—Dan Prettyman and Mabel Pruitt.

March

Seniors—Eunice Pettit.

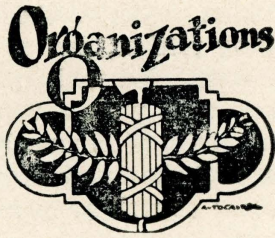

Sophomores—Ellen Hancock, Wilma Tull, Granvil Matthews, and Kathryn Pruitt.

April

Seniors—Dorothy Brandon.

Juniors—Grace Cherrix.

Sophomores—Ellen Hancock, Wilma Tull, Granvil Matthews and Kathryn Pruitt.

GLEE CLUB

With the year 1932, the Glee Clubs of Stockton High School have completed their seventh year as one of our principal extra-curricular activities. Through the competent leadership of Miss Jones, this organization has seen one of its most active years.

A meeting of all former members of the club was called on November 19 to elect presiding officers for the current year. The following were elected:

Eunice Pettit '32—President
Alvin Hickman '32 Vice President
Elwin Pilchard '32—Sec'y.-Treas.

The question of club finances was also discussed at this meeting and it was decided that a fee of five cents per month should be levied upon each member.

The membership of the two clubs for the year 1931-1932 are: Boys Glee Club—Alvin Hickman '32; Clay Mason '32; Elwin Pilchard '32; David Hancock '32; Harrison Pettit '33; Ralph Tarr '33; Harry Smith '33; Edward Foulks '34; Allen Collins '34; Richard Trader '34; James Ward '33.

Girls Glee Club—Dorothy Brandon '32; Marie Coulbourne '32; Hettie Taylor '32; Mary Paradee '32; Eunice Pettit '32; Eunice Baylis '32; Marie Jones '32; Alberta Townsend '33; Edwina Smith '33; Grace Cherrix '33; Doris Taylor '34; Rachel Bennum '34; Mabel Hancock '34; Helen Ward '32.

The Clubs presented a Christmas Song Service on Tuesday evening, December 22 in the school auditorium. They also furnished music for the Wharton Declamation Contest on May 11; for "The Heir of Mt. Vernon," the Senior class play; the Baccalaureate sermon and for Commencement.

FRENCH CLUB

"Le Cercle Francais" was reorganized in December and has held its meeting every two weeks until its last meeting in April.

The past year's programs included an illustrated talk on foreign coins by our principal, Mr. Dryden; a program on Carot, and one on the French province, Provence.

This year the club contributed toward a picture map of France, 25x36, recording and illustrating the country's romantic story from the time of Caesar, Hannibal, and Roland, through days of troubadours, chateau builders and the Revolution down to the Great War. An inset map gives Paris on a larger scale and in the border are pictures of a dozen of the most glorious of the nation's monuments. Other pictures of which the French Club is proud are "Jeanne d'Arc" by Bastion Le Page, "Rheims Cathedral," and "Le Raysage"—Carot.

THE OWL CLUB

The members of "The Owl Club" and a number of invited guests enjoyed a straw ride and weenie roast at Red Hills, Va., on May 9.

*****

The agriculture class visited the Worcester Fertilizer plant in Snow Hill on May 23 to study the ingredients used in the manufacture of fertilizer.

*****

The Owl Club Boys met the Future Farmers of America, the Agriculture class of Snow Hill High School, in a baseball game on Monday afternoon, May 23, at Snow Hill. The game was a very interesting one and ended with a score of 39 to 3 in favor of Stockton.

One of the principal projects of the "Owl Club," since its organization, was improvement of our baseball grounds.

Father—I'm not at all pleased with your report.

Clay M.—I know. I told Miss Hyland that you wouldn't be, but she just would sent it. Just like a woman, isn't it?

FACULTY NEWS

Miss Elizabeth Nelson spent Sunday, May 15th in Philadelphia.

The last week end in April Miss Helen Tull was the guest of Mrs. Helen Hall, formerly a teacher of this school.

Mrs. Theo. Doughty Brittingham spent Sunday, May 15th in Ocean City.

Miss Mabel Jones recently attended a bridge-tea given by Mrs. Jerome Marshall, at her home in Hallwood, Va.

Mr. Ward went to College Park the week end of April 29-30. He attended the semi-annual Vocational meeting of the State.

Mr. Ward has been asked to speak at the annual F. F. A. (Future Farmers of America) State Camp at Mountain Lake Park, July 16. This is a part of the Washington Bi-Centennial Celebration. Many Federal and State officials of prominence will be present. Mr. Ward considers this a great honor and privilege since he has been chosen from all the Agriculture men in the state as the one to represent them. Our school should glory in the fact that a member of our faculty has such remarkable ability.

Mr. and Mrs. Lryden are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of a son. The young fellow is named after his maternal grand father—John Thomas Parker. The Bugle hopes that some day Tommy will be its Editor-in-chief.

SENIOR CLASS NEWS

Gladys Jones and Hettie Taylor recently spent the week end with Marie Jones.

Marie Coulbourne was the guest of Eunice Baylis the week end of the 16.

Eunice Baylis spent May 7 in Salisbury.

Dorothy Brandon represented our school in the County Contest at Ocean City, May 17th.

Marie Coulbourne, Mary Paradee, Dorothy Brandon and Eunice Pettit represented our class in the Wharton Contest. Eunice Pettit was given second mention.

A number of our class enjoyed the "Weenie Roast" at Red Hills given by the "Owl Club," May 9.

Dorothy Brandon and Mary Paradee gave their readings "Wake Up, America" and "For France," at the Epworth League in the M. E. Church at Girdletree, May 25th.

We, the Senior Class, greatly enjoyed the Boat Ride and "Weenie Roast" to Chincoteague given by the Juniors.

JUNIOR NEWS

Quite a number of our members attended the "Weenie Roast" given by the "Owl Club" at Red Hills on May 9.

Annie Lilliston and Grace Cherrix entered the Wharton Declamation Contest.

We are sorry to report that Harrison Pettit had the misfortune to hurt his hand while playing ball.

Those who are in the senior play from our class are:

Ralph Tarr, Harry Smith, Lawton Coulbourne, Harrison Pettit, Richard Hancock, James Ward, Alberta Townsend, and Grace Cherrix.

Our class is proud to know that Grace Cherrix won the Declamation Contest.

We are sorry to lose one of our class-mates, Josephine Houston who became the bride of Mr. Elijah Justice. We wish her a long and happy married life.

Our class entertained the seniors and faculty on a boat ride and weenie roast to Chincoteague on May 16th.

SOPHOMORE CLASS NEWS

Five members of the baseball team came from the Sophomore class: Allen Collins, Milton Matthews, Edward Foulks, Edward Coulbourne and Wilson Lang.

We enjoyed the sketches given by the High School in honor of George Washington. Our class presented one entitled, "A Stitch in Time."

Who won the Inter-class Winter Carnival?—Sophomores — Who else could!

The Sophomore Class sang "Home, Home on the Range," and "Water Lillies" at the Declamation Contest, May 11, 1932.

Kathryn Pruitt and Wilma Tull spent a week-end not long ago with Mrs. Harry Hall, formerly Miss Helen Jones.

We welcome Dorothy Abrams from Virginia into our class.

Ellen Hancock and Kathryn Pruitt have been on the spelling honor roll for the entire school year. Congratulations.

FRESHMAN NEWS

As the Freshmen had perfect attendance the first week after Christmas, we were awarded a picture of George Washington.

Roger Paradee, a member of our class received honors for writing a composition "Why the Other Planets Have Years" for current Science.

The High School held athletic games February 22, in honor of Washington's two-hundredth birthday.

February 17, the Freshman class gave a short sketch entitled, "A Pair of Scissors," the first of a series of plays given by the high school classes in honor of Washington's Birthday.

The characters were as follows:

Betty Ross	-----	Louise Beauchamp
George Washington	----	Ralph Ardis
Abigail	-----	Lucille Pilchard
Achsah	-----	Florence Baylis
Prudence	-----	Lucille Pilchard
Deborah	-----	Mabel Pruitt

We were glad to welcome Rev. and Mrs. D. B. Prettyman and son Dan, back from Conference, as Dan is our class president.

On the evening of April 22, Jeanette Foulks very delightfully entertained a number of her friends.

Most of the members of the Freshman Class attended the Matinee at Pocomoke, Wednesday April 27. The pictures shown were pertaining to lives of Washington and Hamilton.

Florence Baylis while playing hit ball on May 10, had the misfortune to sprain her ankle.

Gladys Jones was entertained overnight by Marie Jones on Wednesday, May 11.

Staunch Friends, and True

Good books are good friends—friends you can always rely on. They have entertainment, and they have information you want, and people you want to know. More people have known Tom Sawyer than ever knew any ten Presidents you might name.

BITS O' NEWS

—o—
An unusual test was given the Seniors one morning recently. In a test specially prepared by the department of education of Washington College at Chestertown, we were asked to name the teacher in our four years of high school which we liked best and to give our reasons for liking that teacher. We were then asked to name the teacher we liked least and our reasons, and also the teacher under whom we learned most with reasons. No names were mentioned but the teachers were designated by "A", "Z" and "N" respectively.

The Worcester County Woman's Club held their March meeting in the music room of the high school.

A Polish army officer gave a highly interesting and entertaining lecture to the high school students early in May. He gave graphic accounts of life in Poland and especially stressed the friendly international relations existing between Poland and the United States. His talk greatly enlightened our knowledge of Poland, raising it from a seemingly obscure nation to one of the progressive countries of modern Europe.

The president of Blue Ridge College, New Windsor, Md., recently addressed the Seniors on the advantages of Blue Ridge as a junior college.

A state test in arithmetic was given the grammar grades on May 11.

A complete edition of twenty-five volumes of Funk and Wagnall's "New Standard Encyclopedia" has been added to our growing library.

A large number of the students witnessed a matinee at the Mar-Va Theatre, Pocomoke, at the presentation of "Alexander Hamilton" with George Arliss and an added feature, "Washington, the man and the Capitol."

The second in a series of two Pressey tests in English composition was given the pupils from the seventh to the eleventh grades inclusive. Each class showed a much higher median over the previous test in November.

We wonder how many years it will be before the long awaited beautification of our campus will be realized?

"The Bugle" wishes to express its appreciation to Mr. Belote and Avery Ingersoll '31 for their cooperation in the preparation of this issue.
