MOST EXCITING THING THAT HAS HAPPENED SINCE THE LAST REUNION: The last time I was in Snow Hill was in 1968. Since then a lot has happened. I'll try to keep it short. In October of 1970, I married Patrick Goossens and in January of 1971 we immigrated to South Africa. Most of our time there, we lived close to Johannesburg. I once met the girl (AFS) who spent her year in Snow Hill as well. Both our children were born there; Pauline in June of 1973 and Christiaan in September of 1975. Our years there were absolutely fantastic, but due to the unsure future of the country, we decided to leave - so sad, so full of mixed feelings. In September of 1984, we were back in Holland after nearly fourteen years. Last year we moved into the house we live in now and we decided that we won't move again for a long time! Patrick works here as a Product Support Manager for a Dutch company selling Caterpillar fork-lift trucks. I spend my time as a wife, mother, doing a lot of sewing, gardening, playing golf, volunteer work for the World Wildlife fund, readings, etc. That's it in a nutshell.

And, praise the Lord, I recovered without surgery! I was hospitalized from Dec. 19, 1985 until Jan. 2 1986, and went back for a final angiogram on Jan. 21, 1986 which showed everything normal again! But wow, what a headache, and a long time to gain back strength again.
