Dear Madam:

We do not find your name on the mailing list of the New York office, and as your address is Salisbury, Maryland, we think that perhaps your original inquiry was sent to our office at Baltimore. If this is the case your letters should all be addressed to the Baltimore office.

Your letter indicates that you have some impression that we have prepared a book or pamphlet of reports on active listed securities, but this is not the case. Information on various stocks is coming in almost daily, and it would be impracticable to make up miscellaneous reports in book form, as many of the reports would be out of date before the book could be printed. Our reports on stocks are all separate and we have several hundred of them.

It is unlikely that you would find time to read them all if we sent copies of each, and it is improbable that there are more than a very few stocks at most in which you are interested. If you will let us know the name of the stock or stocks on which you wish information we would be very glad to supply reports if we have them, or make up in letter form such information as we think you would find interesting.

With best wishes for the New Year, we are

Yours very truly,

G. F. REDMOND & COMPANY, INC.
