WELCOMES TOURISTS. This exact replica of an early Colonial home in Worcester County greets tourists entering Maryland on Route 13 south of Pocomoke City. Carrying the Bicentennial theme, it will be operated all summer under the

tennial Committee; Mrs. Mildred Brittingham, Avery S. Gordy, carpenter instructor at the Worcester County Vocational School where the house was built, and William Brown, principal at the vocational school. Students building the structure were Milton Pennewell, Joe Donoway and Larry Lysick from Snow Hill; Randy Molnar and Thomas Rozell from Stephen Decatur High; John Roberts, Pocomoke City and Tim Wehrle. (Times Photo)
