CLASS SONG

Now is the hour when all our ways must part,
Tho' memories linger, deep within each heart;
All through the years, wherever we may be,
Dear Alma Mater, we'll remember thee.

Now is the hour, when we must say good-by,
To all our Teachers, every girl and boy,
All through the years, wherever we may be,
Deal Alma Mater, we'll remember thee.

Shirley Howell

CLASS COLORS: Crimson and White CLASS FLOWERS: Red and White Roses

MOTTO: "The harder the challenge, the greater the triumph!"

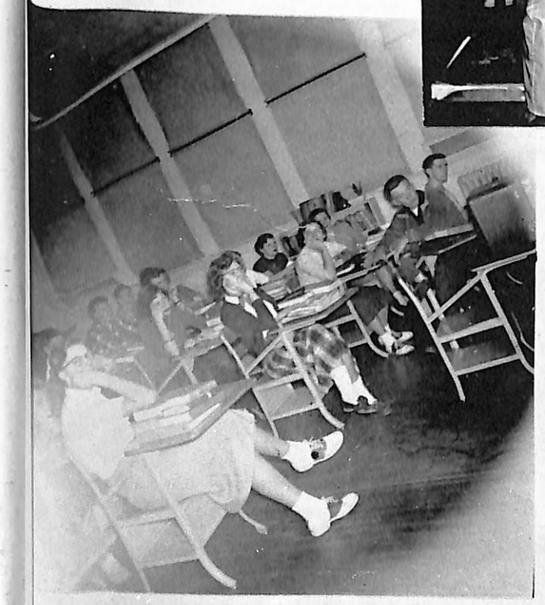

Last Will and Testament

We, the Seniors, will to our Alma Mater the loyalty, gratitude, and devotion that all seniors feel toward their school as they come to the end of their high school days.

We, the Seniors, will the faculty the new Senior Class, knowing that they will show them the patience, credit, and consideration that they have shown us during our high school days.

We, the Seniors, will the Juniors the name of Seniors and the privileges and pleasures that make up the best year of their lives.

We have endeavored to distribute these gifts impartially and justly, and hope you will accept them as such.

I, Ann Adkins, will Ruby Holland my pink jacket provided she only wears it in the summer, and to Jerry Lambertson my height, provided he doesn't get over 5'5".

I, Robert Adkins, will George Bishop my job as "flag bearer" for the school; and to Carson Lankford, I will my ability to keep my temper, if he needs it.

I, David Aydelotte, will Gordon Harrison the ability to play basketball and Calvin Palmer the ability to play soccer.

I, Ellen Braun, will Mary Carter my success in art provided she will become famous someday.

I, Shirley Cowger, will Dicky Bundick the ability to take a girl to the "pine tree" provided he stops instead of riding back and forth; and to Eddie McGee I will my ability to take flashbulb pictures when people are not expecting it.

I, Ellen Crockett, will Alan Jewby the best of luck in all he undertakes in the future, and to Fred West the strength to carry the burdens of M. Y. F. presidency.

I, James East, will Betsy Justis a pack of cigarettes so she won't have to bum them anymore.

I, Faith Goswellen, will Gwen Murray a certain boy provided she treats him well.

I, Birch Hare, will R. V. Gladding my driving ability in case he should come close to hitting a telephone pole, and Johnny Vines my high-heeled boots so Peggy will always look up to him.

I, Barbara Henderson, will Janet Pusey my muscles provided she treats them well.

I, Billy Hurley, will Ruth Jean Stevens my ability to get along well in typing class.

I, Bob Kallagis, will Charles Houts my title of "Best Athlete" provided he makes more than 20 points per basketball game.

I, Dot Lambertson, will Tom Miles my blonde hair so he won't be tempted by the peroxide market.

I, Cliff Lawrence, will Jean Taylor my ability to type provided she doesn't look at the keys.

I, Ethel Mason, will Dougie Llewelyn my orange hat so it will go nicely with his hair.

I, Ralph Mathias, will Peg Silverthorne my 12 gauge shotgun to shoot Gene if he isn't nice to her.

I, Peg Mitchell, will Betty Reid my share of gauze and adhesive tape just in case she gets hurt or runs out of supplies.

I, Alvin Murray, will Nancy LeMasters my light feet, provided she uses them for Charles.

I, Jackie Parsons, will Hannah Matthews my old shotgun so she can have peace and quiet at the "old pine tree."

I, Barbara Peacock, will Percy Madux a belt in case his pants ever get too big.

I, Russell Phillips, will Bruce Morse my football ability if he will take advantage of it.

I, Carroll Pilchard, will Murrell Foxwell my ability to speed with a good car and not be caught.

I, Jimmy Russell, will Nancy Clayton my ability to keep Carroll away from the "pine tree" provided she doesn't use it much.

I, Jeanne Scott, will Benny Phillips the "old pine tree," provided he never goes alone.

I, Bev Stant, will Juanita Mears my ability to transcribe shorthand provided she doesn't make as many mistakes as I did.

I, Jeannie Ross, will Annabelle Taylor my long hair provided she doesn't have it cut.

I, Harold Braun, will Mary Faye Martin all the shorthand that I never had a chance to learn; and to Jim Payne I leave my ping-pong technique provided he gives the Bundick boys competition.

I, James East, will Billy Bundick my place at the "pine tree" because I've found a new one.

I, Faith Goswellen, will Rowena Williams my typing ability providing she doesn't surpass my record.

I, Bobby Kallagis, will Janet Baxter my ability to drive providing she doesn't go under 50 m. p. h.

I, Ethel Mason, will Gary Hill my ability to get along just fine with his brother.

I, Barbara Henderson, will Richard Mason my behavior in classes.

I, Shirley Howell, will Maurice Brimer my admiration for the opposite sex, and to Hunter Peacock my naturally curly hair so he won't have to put his up in pin curls again.

Class History

Anno Domini 1955

Muddled class schedules, lost books, and new faculty members--this was the new environment to which we had to adapt ourselves on arrival in senior high school.

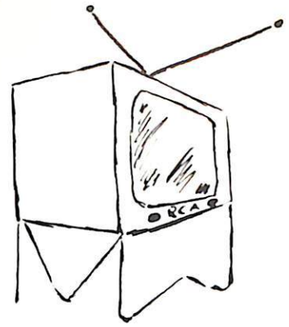

Then the chaos began to seem less chaotic. As freshmen, we planned a dance. It was informal. The wearing apparel for the evening was dungarees and old shirts.

Sophomore year brought out our sophistication. We decided on another dance. We called it "The Thing Dance." Our decorations were simple but pleasing to the eye. We had hay to sit on, boxes hanging from the ceiling, and a sliding board for the entrance. Everyone enjoyed himself thoroughly. Later in the year we had a "Shipwreck Dance." We decorated the auditorium using fishing nets, conk shells, and sea weeds. This dance proved more successful than the first.

Junior year brought class meetings, arguments, and last-minute catastrophes. Then we began to concentrate on our Junior Class Play. It was a mystery comedy entitled "Boarding House Reach," which we believe to be one of the best plays ever. The proceeds from the play were used for our prom. The theme of our prom was "Gay Paree." The decorations were beautiful. They consisted of sidewalk cafes, with the Eiffel Tower in the background. Everything was colorful and gay. All in all, it was a never-to-be-forgotten night!!

At last we were Seniors!!! We started the year off with the Sadie Hawkins Dance, with wedding ceremony, cider, and all. Christmas drew near so the Juniors and Seniors together gave the Christmas formal. Among the pine and candles and brightly lit Christmas Tree, members of the Senior High School and their dates danced to the dreamy music of the Aristocrats.

It's over. Through four inspiring years we've dreamed of this day, but as we look back on what has been, and look forward to what might be, we all leave with sorrow in our hearts.

FIFTEEN YEARS HENCE

Time: 1970

Sleepily I sank into a cozy armchair after a hard day of housework, and pushed the remote control of my television set. I located a good channel. The specific place was a celebrated night club in New York City owned by the notorious CARROLL PILCHARD. The orchestra leader, who was playing some hot rhythm music, had his back to the mike. When he finished his piece and turned, I saw that it was none other than BILL HURLEY. As Bill took his bow, the announcer came up and took his place. I looked at him, astonished, for he was RUSSELL PHILLIPS, a guy who, to me, had always seemed reserved. I was surprised at the swift spiel he peeled off.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he said, "I wish to interrupt our program for some important news flashes. Here he is, that peeping Tom who sees everything and knows more, RALPH MATHIAS."

"Thank you, Russell. From Maryland comes the news that an Eastern Shore farmer, JAMES EAST, has successfully crossed wheat and tomatoes, the result being a very delicious sandwich.

"Paris: BARBARA HENDERSON has designed a new type of dress that is guaranteed to make short, stocky people look really tall and slim.

"Pocomoke, Maryland: FAITH GOSWELLEN and ANN ADKINS are advertising for husbands. Each wants one that will refrain from wife-beating, and who has the means of supporting them and two children acquired from their first marriages.

"Hollywood: A new picture entitled, 'Don't Get Married If You Can Stay a Bachelor,' has just been released, starring BOB KALLAGIS. Co-starring are BIRCH HARE and CLIFTON LAWRENCE. And that, ladies and gentlemen, concludes tonight's news."

As I glanced back at the TV screen, Russell, with many wild gestures, was introducing the notorious dancer, ALVIN MURRAY. My eyes strayed to a table and I noticed, in a party of about five, JACKIE PARSONS, who had recently been elected to the honorable office of Overseer of the Street Cleaners of New York. JIMMY RUSSELL is his assistant. SHIRLEY HOWELL, another member of the party, seemed engrossed in watching the actions of the different types of people there, and I recalled the fact that she was writing a book revealing New York night life! The other two people at the table were none other than DOROTHY LAMBERTSON and JEANNE SCOTT, and that is the tall and short of it, for they are two distinct types of dress models at MARLENE WELLS'S GOWN ESTABLISHMENT.

"I would like to introduce several celebrities," the announcer said, "who are present tonight. MADEMOISELLE MARGUERITE MITCHELL, famed hairdresser, who specializes in hair-dyeing; BEVERLY STANT, who wrote that wonderful pamphlet 'Why Birds Can't Fly Backward'; the famous comedian, DAVID AYDOLETTE, is sitting with MISS ETHEL MASON, who in a recent contest was judged as having the most unique pair of bowlegs in the United States; SHIRLEY COWGER, who coaches the girls' hockey team in a noted school in Maryland is here discussing with ROBERT ADKINS, of the Board of Trustees, that wonderful game, even though he thinks it's too rough; HAROLD BRAUN, noted Engineer, is sitting with his sister, ELLEN, famous artist, and the well-known singer, ELLEN JANE CROCKETT.

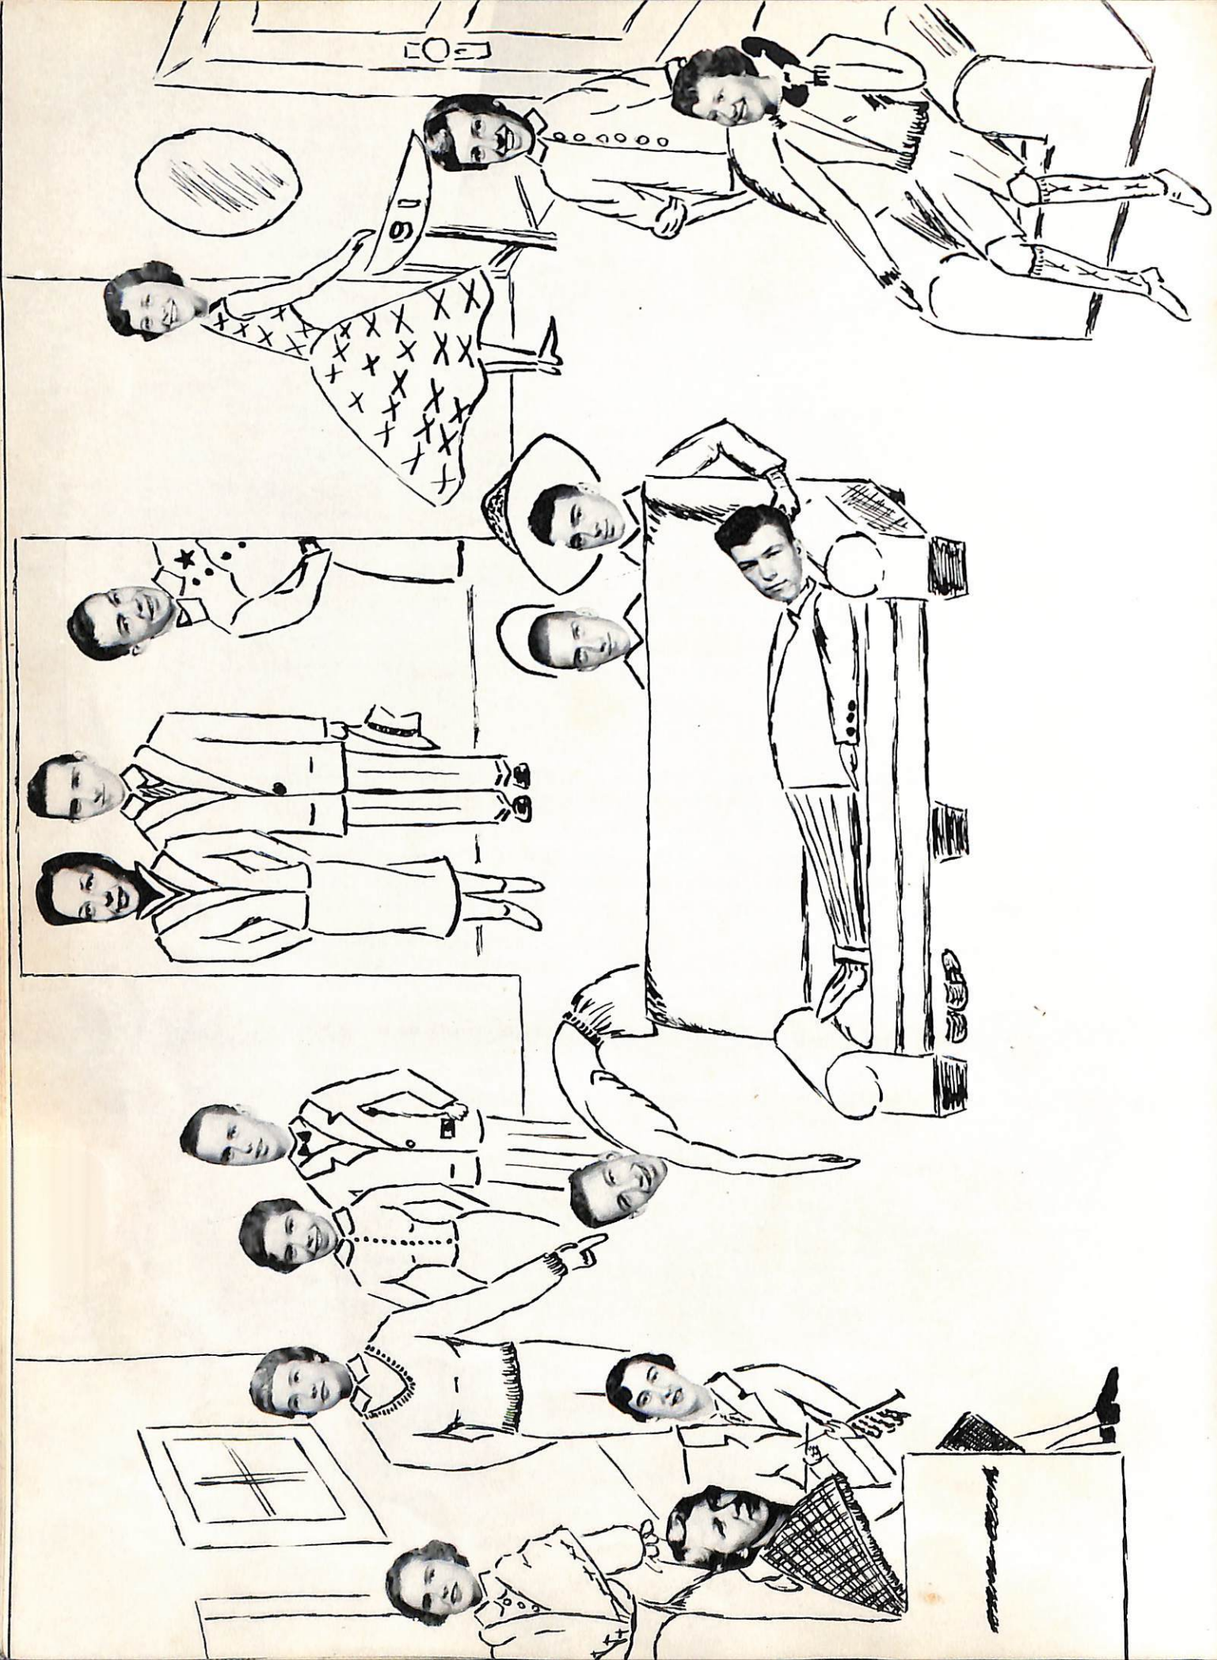

"Believe it or not, folks, it is now 3 A.M. and time for us to close."

With that, the light on my television blinked out. At 3:30, I lazily climbed in bed. I knew that fifteen years ago my high school friends had cherished quite different ambitions.

"Oh, well." I thought, "Although they are not really famous, they are rather notorious because of the unique lines of work they have chosen."

I yawned once more, then slept.

ALMA MATER

Hail to thee, our PHS,
Hail to blue and gold!
All of those who bear thy crest
Strive their lives to mold.

Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
Hail to glorious days!
May our hearts forever echo
This, our song of praise.

Chorus:

Shout your victories loud and mighty!
Sing your praises long!
In your walls we're ever trusting,
Always sure and strong.

Music: "Alma Mater"
Words: Kay Conaway, '52
