SENIOR CLASS of Worcester High School

Foreword

This year was basically the same as any high school year; we studied, had fun, and experienced sad moments of trial and error. School bonds were passed. There were games and dances and voices hoarse from pep club-rooting and singing. There were brief moments of glory for some of us in sports, musical and dramatic productions. All shared the hopeless reality of examinations and deadlines, the semester grades, and the noontime rush. These impressions are only a few that were packed into this full year.

Credit for the production of this book goes to the loyal Indian Staff. The Staff, however, has furnished only the outlines of the story that we find when we turn these pages filled with warm smiles of friendship and many happy recollections. The rest is up to the individual. Underclassmen who return to WHS in the fall will continue to keep up the high standards of the school and strive for improvement. Graduates will go their separate ways using the knowledge they have gained here to attain their goals.

It will not be today when we will really appreciate the INDIAN. It will be tomorrow, when it is not so easy to think back on 1967, when we will treasure the memories this book has stored for us.

The following statement will always hold true:

"Pictures give birth to pleasant memories."

WORCESTER HIGH SCHOOL'S PHILOSOPHY

We believe that the chief role of the public school is to provide for the development of boys and girls to their greatest potential; therefore, we must consider all phases of the child's life--the physical, intellectual, emotional, moral, and social--and guide his total living in school in order that he may meet these needs as an individual, an American citizen, and a member of the world community.

We recognize that every child is unique and different from every other child. He has his own pattern of growth which is right for him and he can be compared with no other child.

We believe that each child possesses intrinsic worth and value and that his own awareness of this fact helps to release his power to learn and to function effectively in his world.

Finally, we believe that the public school program should be based on the needs, characteristics, interests, and capacities of the children it serves and that we, as educators, have an obligation to provide a curriculum that is rich and flexible enough to provide every child with challenging opportunities to learn.

Superintendent

You have now completed one of the most important phases of your preparation for life. For you it is the close of one day and the dawning of another. It is my hope that we have aroused in you your greatest potential and inspired you to live generously and fully in a world that is presently difficult to envision. May the next decade be equally as exciting and dynamic for you as the last one has been.

Robert Gaddis

Assistant Superintendent

May I express the combined feelings of all those who would be called your teachers in stating: You have made a giant step toward preparing yourself for the complexities and adventures of an adult life. Continue to demonstrate your desire to make your personal life better, your families stronger, your community nobler, and your state and county institutions meaningful. You, I am certain, will be beyond the highest expectations of those who have shared in your education to date.

William H. Buser
County Assist. Supervisor

It is a pleasure to extend greetings and to congratulate you on the publication of the 1967 Indian.

Each individual needs dignity to work out his destiny in light of his abilities. A successful life today requires a higher degree of development of the rational powers of every individual.

There are no secrets of success. It is not limited to any one area of your life. It encompasses all of the facets of your relationships, as student, as friend, as citizen, as neighbor, and as worker.

Success is not confined to any one part of your personality, but is related to the development of all parts - body, mind, heart and spirit. It is making the most of your total self. It is discovering your best talents, skills and abilities and applying them where they will make the most effective contributions. It is focusing the full power of your desire to achieve.

Success is a continual spiral of progress; it is a perpetual growth. It is also having the courage to meet failure without being defeated. Success is accepting the challenge of the difficult.

CONGRATULATIONS!

John A. McDowell
Principal

The Class of 1967 is particularly fortunate to be graduating at a time when "hope" for a richer life has been raised in the heart of every American by the social engineering taking place in our society. You are anxious, I know, to join the main stream of American life to see what contribution you will make. It is important for you to know that the objectives of your Alma Mater should enable you to become a potent force in the political, social, and economic markets of your community.

At Worcester, we have tried to strengthen character and to bring into being sensitive, knowledgeable, creative young people. We looked beyond the learned automations or simple artisans, and sought instead to develop the ability to think, to feel, and to become refined individuals.

As you integrate the work-a-day world, we trust you will have learned the value of team work. However, we urge you to guard jealously with dignity your integrity and your individuality.

The completion of your work here marks a new beginning for you. I have faith that you will make full and satisfying use of the abilities, interest, and skills that the Worcester staff has attempted to discover and nurture in each of you. Employ these assets as your foundation for building a future that will make you a worthy member of our great society.

CONGRATULATIONS

Hattie G. Hamilton
Vice Principal

A Tribute To Our Teachers

We the People . . .

realize the inevitability of wasted hours were we to seek knowledge without the guidance of others. For this reason we understand the importance of an efficiently run plant where this knowledge can be conveyed from teacher to student.

The administration of this "plant," our school, is of primary importance.

Therefore: We, the people wish to express our gratitude to the Administration and Staff of Worcester High School, each of whom has aided us in countless ways. We take this opportunity to pay tribute to their constant activity in our behalf - the wisdom of their experience - their readiness to assist us in our undertakings whether they be academic, athletic or social - and the many hidden tasks they perform, contributing to the smooth function of our school system.

What's Next???

Message from Senior Class President

To Our Devoted Friends:

How shall we today free the world of tomorrow? As young adults, worthwhile and responsible, we shall venture forth courageously with an appreciation for the devotion of our friends.

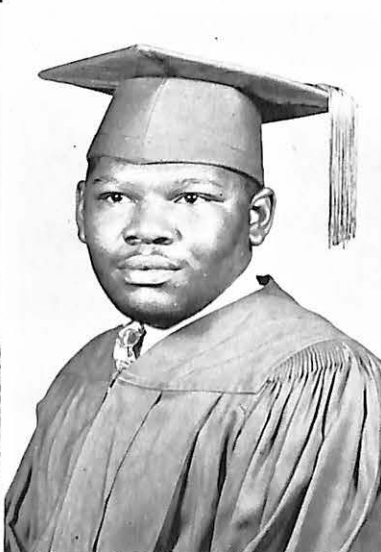

The fulfilment of our academic requirement shall be a great guide in setting new goals. We shall use it wisely to benefit us and others and try to make our world a better place in which to live.

We now have the courage and the skill to step into the world above. We now realize that major and minor decisions shall rest upon our shoulders.

Our devotion to our parents and teachers, who have been the girdles of our strength, shall never cease. For without their patience, sacrifice and time spent for our benefit, we would not be able to undertake this great task. We shall succeed. We shall pursue until we have achieved our goals. Forward we shall go with determination to make significant contributions to our respective communities, to our nation, and the world. We shall not fail. A. Bowen

Yearbook President Speaks

Tremendous effort, time and skill have been put into this yearbook. Undying faith and matchless dedication of the editor and staff along with our advisors and parents enabled us to meet the publication deadline.

We are greatly indebted to our layout artists and our typists for their near professional work. It is not difficult to realize that only ingenuity coupled with cooperation could have made this year's INDIAN a credible Publication.

Editor Speaks

With pleasure, we present the 1967 edition of the WORCESTER INDIAN. We, the staff, have tried to make this yearbook rank among the best in the school's history. The satisfaction of having completed this annual, our final project for Worcester, is exuberating.

We extend our sincere thanks to the members of the several communities. Your support, both moral and financial, was essential in the production of this project.

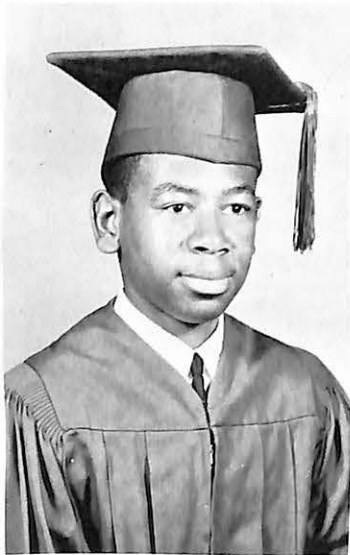

The greatest credit for the production of this book goes to the staff, for they worked diligently until it was completed.

I'm wishing next year's editor even superior heights of success.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA SONG

Within our hands will soon be placed the destiny of our race.

It will be our task to see that the youth learn the need of filling their place.

We are the Future Teachers, Teachers in a band
And we see our duty as a great one in our land.
We'll do our level best to guide the children's lives,

And lead them to a future that will make our country strive.
