

For more information, times, updates, and locations for Symposium events, please visit www.schoodicsculpture.org.

MEET THE ARTISTS

AUGUST 7, 7PM

Meet the six artists participating in the 2009 Symposium and see a slide presentation of their work presented by Symposium coordinator Jesse Salisbury. The audience will have a chance to talk with the artists following the slide show. The event will be held at Hammond Hall, 427 Main Street, Winter Harbor.

FILM PREMIERE

AUGUST 23, 7PM

The premiere of the "Schoodic International Sculpture Symposium" video will take place at Hammond Hall in Winter Harbor. In attendance will be Jesse Salisbury, the Symposium coordinator/sculptor, and filmmaker Richard Kane. Other guest appearances to be announced.

CLOSING RECEPTION

SEPTEMBER 12, 1PM

The finished sculptures will be on view during the closing reception, which will take place at the SERC campus in Winter Harbor.

SCULPTURE TOUR

The seven sculptures from the 2007 Symposium are part of a growing public art collection that you and your family can now visit. The sculptures are located at public sites in the following Maine communities: Ellsworth, Southwest Harbor, Sullivan, Winter Harbor, the Research Center (SERC) at the Schoodic Section of Acadia National Park, Steuben, and Milbridge. For more information about the 2007 artists, sculpture locations and suggested tour routes, or to donate online please visit our website at www.schoodicsculpture.org.

SONGUL TELEK, TURKEY

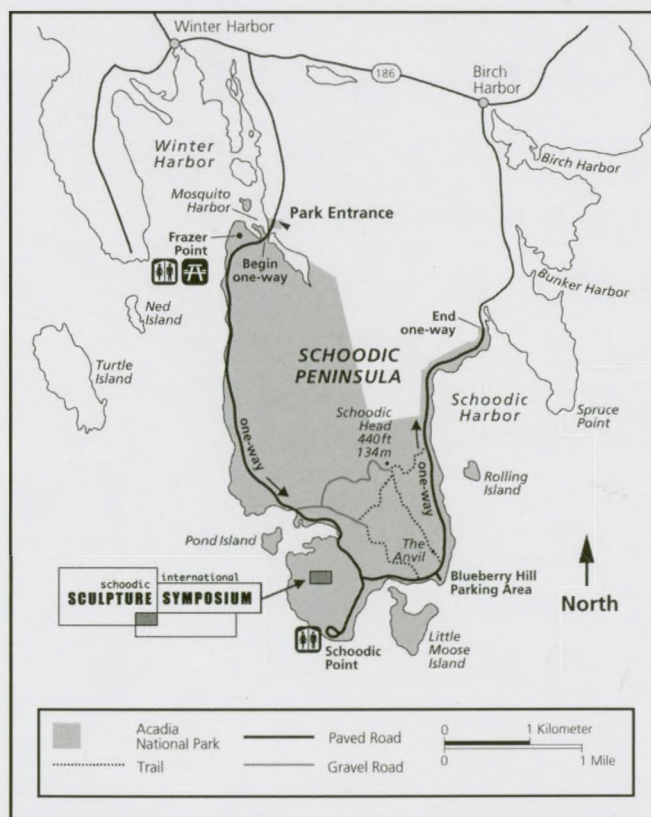

MARK HERRINGTON, USA

DIRECTIONS

The Symposium is located at the Schoodic Education and Research Center (SERC), which is located on Schoodic Point in Acadia National Park in Winter Harbor.

From the intersection of Rte 1 and 3 in Ellsworth, travel north on Rte 1 (appx. 19 mi) to Rte 186. Turn right onto Rte 186 (SERC is 12 mi from this turnoff). Once you arrive in Winter Harbor, use the map below to find the Symposium.

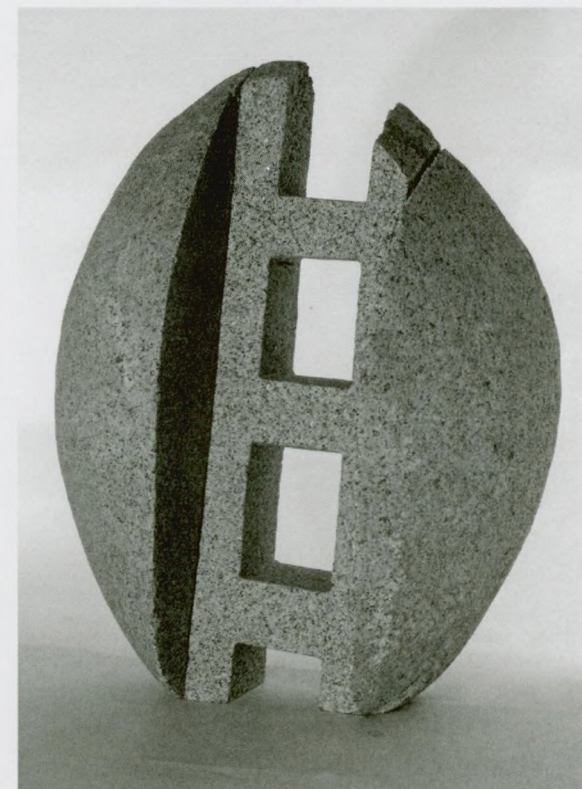

OUR MISSION is to hold biennial, international stone sculpture symposiums at Schoodic Point in Acadia National Park that will result in a large public art collection in Down East Maine. The Symposium is sponsored by grants, foundations, individuals and corporations. For a complete list of sponsors or to donate online, please visit schoodicsculpture.org. Schoodic International Sculpture Symposium is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization.

Schoodic International Sculpture Symposium
PO Box 22 Steuben, Maine 04680
www.schoodicsculpture.org

2009

Schoodic International Sculpture Symposium

August 1 - Sept 12

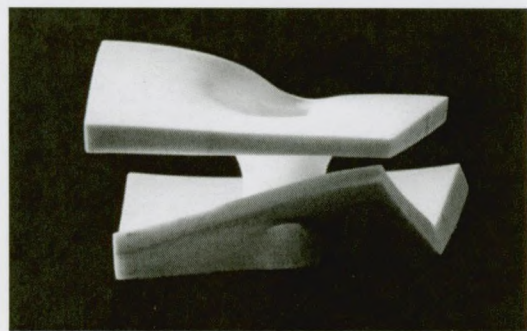

schoodic international
SCULPTURE SYMPOSIUM

AUGUST 1 - SEPTEMBER 12, 2009

Schoodic International Sculpture Symposium

You and your family are invited to watch six international artists create monumental sculptures from Maine granite during the six-week symposium. The Symposium is a biennial cultural event that brings together artists, visitors, and communities to create public art. The Symposium is FREE and open to the public. Visit schoodicsculpture.org for a complete list of events.

ATTILA RATH GEBER, FRANCE

JHON GOGABERISHVILI, REP OF GEORGIA

COVER: MARK HERRINGTON, UNITED STATES

PARTICIPATING ARTISTS

EGYPT Ahmed Karaly

FRANCE Attila Rath Geber

REP OF GEORGIA Jhon Gogaberishvili

GERMANY Roland Mayer

MAINE Mark Herrington

TURKEY Songul Telek

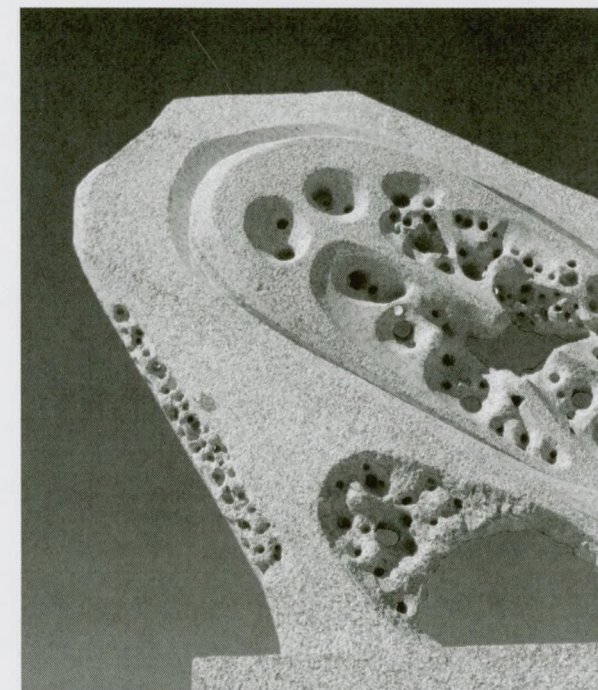

PARTICIPATING COMMUNITIES

The sculptures from each Symposium will become part of a Public Art Collection. The sculptures from the 2009 Symposium will be placed at public sites in the following Maine communities:

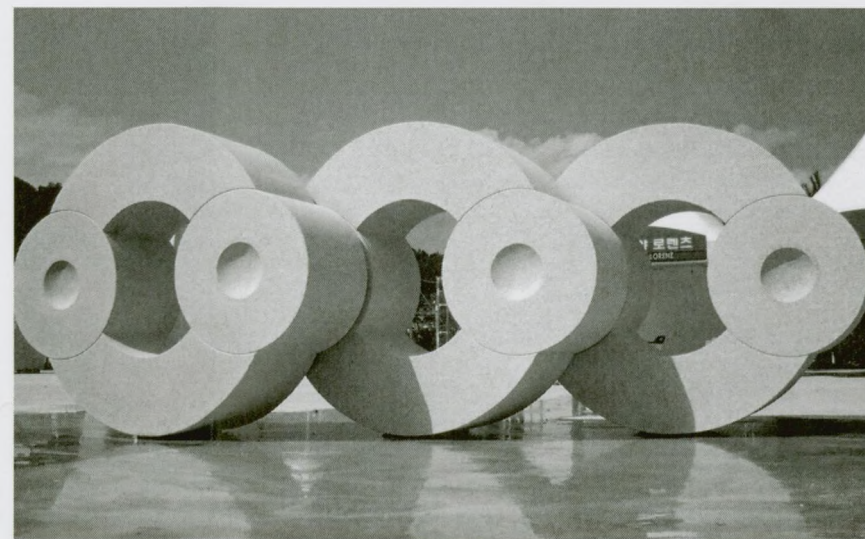

Franklin
Gouldsboro
Machias
Deer Isle/Stonington
Bar Harbor
Lamoine

SYMPOSIUM HISTORY

The first sculpture symposium took place in 1959 in Austria in an abandoned marble quarry. Since then symposiums have been held in Europe and Asia, with a few held in the United States. One hundred years ago Maine produced more granite than anywhere in the United States.

AHMED KARALY, EGYPT

ROLAND MAYER, GERMANY

Public Sculpture for Maine.

www.schoodicsculpture.org Please visit our website for a complete list of events, updates and opportunities.