

Premos Are Leaving Montpelier For South

Mrs. Gladys Premo of 3 School St., Montpelier, congenial and efficient hostess at the Lobster Pot Restaurant in the Capital City, completes her duties there today.

Next week Mrs. Premo and her husband, Gordon Premo, will leave for Bennettsville, S. C. where they will visit at the home of their daughter, Joyce, Mrs. Wendell Ingalls and family until after the new year. Mr. and Mrs. Premo will then to to Pheonix, Ariz. to spend the winter months.

Mrs. Premo has worked at the lobster Pot for the past 12 years when it was first opened by William Sykas. She had previously been employed in the dining room of Miller's Inn at the same location when Elmer E. Pierce of Montpelier was manager of the eating place.
