Samoyeds

By Vera Lawrence

610 Colusa Ave., Berkeley, Calif.

Oakland Kennel Club Show of March 1 and 2, 1952 had an entry of 38 Samoyeds for Judge Edwin L. Pickhardt to pass upon. Somehow it seemed to be ladies day for Sammy owners, every major win going to a Sam handled by one of the feminine sex.

It was a 5-point show for each sex (California scale of points is higher than anywhere else in the United States) 14 dogs and 13 bitches are required for five points in the respective sexes.

Results of the judging were very acceptable in most cases, but there were a few placements made in minor classes which did not find full favor from the ringside.

Winners dog was Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hampton Jr.'s Ladmielchk of the Valley (Ladoga of the Valley ex Mielchka). "Mickey," as he is fondly called, was in gorgeous coat and was beautifully handled by Mrs. Hampton. He was born August 25, 1946, bred by Percy A. Stang of Mill Valley. He is a litter brother of Sonolad of the Valley. We do not have his full record of wins, but hope to obtain them from Mrs. Hampton by next issue.

Reserve winners dog was J. W. Hunt's White Way Snow Spark (Rex of White Way out of Czarina of White Way).

Winners bitch was Mrs. A. E. Mason and Aljean Larson's Starchak's Warnistura (Ch. Starchak C.D. ex Ch. Staryvna of Snowland). Born Nov. 1, 1946 in Culver City, bred by Capt. and Mrs. Robert H. Ward, Warnistura (called "Sissy") was already the possessor of 18 championship points — but needed this major in order to complete her championship. Reserve winners bitch was Albion of Lucky Dee, owned by Mrs. Jennie Bunkleman of Cupertino. Best of Winners was Ladmielchk of the Valley.

There were seven Sams entered for Specials class — with Ch. Bunky of Lucky Dee (Ch. Lucky Labon Nahum — Ch. Faustina Fauna) taking the honors for Best of Breed—handled by his owner, Hazel Dawes. Ch. Vrai of Lucky Dee (litter sister to Bunky) handled by Mrs. Edmund Braetchel, was best of opposite sex.

Best Sam in the Local class, handled by our niece Cynthia (of Irish Setters) was our "Crissy" (Dragoya of Wimundstrev) Ch. Guardian of the Arctic out of Belenki. Incidentally, this was Crissy's first indoor show, and she took it like a veteran, enjoying every minute spent with her handler John Davidson. Watch for this team at some of our coming shows. "Crissy" proved to be a regular "personality gal" on the bench, and had her picture snapped while hob-nobbing with her next-bench neighbor "Cindy," owned by the Edgar M. West's of Oakland. This picture appeared in a copy of the Oakland Tribune following the show.

Sams entered in the champion parade were Mrs. Ralph L. Longden's Ch. Gay Boy of Sammar; Mr. Ralph Longden's Ch. Alstasia's Ditzzy Boo; Mrs. A. E. Mason and Mrs. Aljean Larson's Ch. White Way's Silver Streak; Mrs. Chloe Witcher's Ch. Samoyland's Vojak; and Mrs. Levant Brown's Ch. Borealis of the Far Steppes, unavoidably absent due to the recent illness of his owner.

We'd like to make one suggestion regarding the handling of Samoyeds in the ring — that is, Sams show best — and can only get into their natural stride on a loose lead. Any handler using the tight lead pulled up behind a Sam's ears (as used in showing terriers) is all wrong for Sams. Try showing him on a loose lead — you'll find the Sam co-operates by being able to use his head — so pass up that tendency to tighten the lead behind the ears of the Sam — it's all wrong.

A letter from Mrs. Gleason of Seattle says:—

"It is a pleasure to report the Sammy entry in the Seattle Kennel Club show on February 2 and 3, there were 23 entries (two absent). Never before has there been a showing like this, everyone was thrilled. There were 10 dogs, 10 bitches and 3 Specials. The two absentees were from down your way, the Dawes Ch. Bunky of Lucky Dee and Modoc of Lucky Dee. We were disappointed in not being able to acquaint ourselves with these two lovely Sammies.

"Judge Percy Roberts of Connecticut judged and placed as follows: Winners male and Best of Winners Goldie Klein's Polaris Pan (Kikmik of Oceanside ex Tod-Acres Starlet) a beautiful coated dog. Reserve winner was Bernice Cooper's Taku Bo Yee (Cheechaco of Taku ex Karma's Della Ann Snow Frost).

"Winners bitch and Best Opposite Sex, Bernice Cooper's Celo Polaris. Reserve winner Clifford Tompkin's Karma's Silver Girl. Best of Breed was our Ch. Stormy Weather (Ch. Maulcheek of Rhanor ex Vicky of Betty Blue).

"To say the least, we were very happy with Stormy's win. We noticed in February issue of W.K.W. Helen 2 mentioned that Percy Roberts had Sams 'way back when,' and was interested in the breed. It certainly made Ch. Stormy's win so much better to us, to show under a judge that has owned or knows our breed.

"The Western Washington Kennel Club show at Puyallup on January 12 and 13 there were 10 Sams with Earl C. Kruger judging. Winners male and Best of Winners, Bernice Cooper's Taku Bo Yee. Reserve Winner, Goldie Klein's Polaris Pan. Winners Bitch and B.O.S. Bernice Cooper's Cleo Polaris. Reserve winner's bitch Betty A. Arnesons Selma of Betty Blue. Best of Baby "STAN" raps for attention! All together now—Happy Birthday to You Grandma Brown.

Breed was our Ch. Stormy Weather." The above report was submitted by Georgia Gleason of Seattle, Wash.

A welcome letter has recently come to us from Mrs. Betty Strachan, formerly of Santa Barbara, now living in San Bernardino, California.

The Strachan's have recently bought Silver Fleece of Wimundstrev, 2 year old son of Ch. Guardain of the Arctic out of Belenki. "Just Frosty, to us" says Mrs. Strachan, and continues—"When my sister Loretta Watts saw him she just had to find herself a puppy. And hearing of the pups out of Mrs. Romp's Ju-Jue — By Ch. Rainier, she obtained Zaritza of the Mesa — just Kristie to us. Now little Kristie is almost 5 months old — weighs 34 lbs. and is 18 inches at the shoulder.

Now she and Kristie are going to Obedience school — and what a change is notices in them!

"Since my husband and I ski and love the mountains we have been taking the dogs with us — and do they love the snow — and do they steal the show" writes Mrs. Strachan, adding "We are looking for an excuse to move to Big Bear. Frosty enjoys his game with us of ski-joring. He really leans into his harness and runs like mad."

And folks, the above story reminds us of what Hazel Dawes told us recently. She now has a sled, and is learning the art of speed travel behind a team of fleet-footed Sams. Her sled is not on wheels but glides on its runners.

Picture for yourselves — three or four Sams hitched to a sled rarin' to go — with only a slim driver at the controls. Then the take-off through the orchard — with any moment a tree looming up darkly as a possible barrier — so far nothing has happened—but if some day you hear of Hazel Dawes being found wrapped around a tree you'll know the team took the wrong turn! Happy and safe travelling, Hazel—and lots of luck in your new venture.

A newcomer to our Sammy ranks is Mrs. Althea Hall of Camarillo, California who recently took her Princess Suanna to Mrs. Tucker's kennels in Encino to be mated to her English-bred, American-born Po-Tim-Kin of Encino (Ch. Raff of Kobe ex Suretta of Kobe).

Before closing our report on Oakland show, we wish to commend the one to whom we are all grateful for the benching decorations for the 38 Sams entered — our chairman for the benching was Mrs. Robert Lathe (Dorothy Hewitt of Richmond) who found it no easy task to choose the best available on the amount sanctioned by the Club for this purpose.

When time came early Sunday A.M. Dorothy and her husband and young son did the work alone, as the promised assistance failed to appear in time to help.

It is to Dorothy Lathe and her folks that the Sam exhibitors offer a hearty "thank you" for a job well done.

We welcome to our ranks Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Schneider of Indianapolis, who wrote: "Mrs. Layman here in Indianapolis, owner of Ch. Vodi Norpauin, C. D. V. is proud of the six grandchildren of their winning Sam — two males and four females. They are out of their Lt's Lula Luloto by Balaiya Doroga Booraya (Stormy) a son of Deyomas of Ibur. That makes eight Sams at Elltee kennels, wrote Mr. Schneider.

Thanks to Ruth Bates Young, we hear that Ch. Pratika's daughter, called Princess Jo (born in June '51) sired by the lovely Ch. Guardian of the Arctic and owned by Joseph Marshall, has won two majors toward her championship at Ft. Wayne and Cleveland Shows.

News however, that we are sorry to report, is that Mrs. Young's "beautiful Ch. Missie Kris of Obi (Ch. Sport of the Arctic—Olga Pogie of Obi) is gone — just short of 11 years of age — a toxic condition affecting the heart. She was the best 'woo-woo-er' of them all — the best R roller in all the different notes. She and my husband could carry on the most fascinating conversation — each trying to outdo the other. She was always a house pet." Writes Mrs Young. A picture of her appears in this issue.

The sympathy of all those who own or love Sammies is extended to Mrs. Young.

Mrs. Young has correctly recognized the "What's my name" Sam in February W.K.W. as Mrs. Lucy Forbes' Ch. Pratika of Top Acres. Congratulations.

Watching for the guests to his 1st birthday party

Another Sam to take the long trail "asleep for always" (at the age of 11 years) is Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kimpflin's "Leja," of Chicago, Illinois — one of the "three Graces" — the other two being Siberian Tchory and Ch. Chuckles of Breezewood.

Mrs. Kimpflin sent a couple of snaps taken of them shortly before Christmas—as they watched T-V. In one picture, Leja and Tchory rested 'on the furniture,' but Ch. Chuckles thought it best to remain on the floor as her former 'mom', Peggy Ruick, had taught her to do. In one picture Leja was playing with her favorite toy, a musical kitten. We trust that Tchory and Chuckles will do their best to fill the vacant spot left by the family 'pal.'

So glad you folks are back home safely again — after your travels — we were so sorry not to be able to have a nice visit with you down in Ventura.

Karma's Della Ann Snow Frost). Puppy dogs 9-12 months winner was Erma Ackermann's Cholly of Betty Blue (Ch. Chimi of Betty Blue) Piu — Lengi-Nichi).

Novice dog taking the blue was Mr. and Mrs. John G. Meissner's Karma's Jascha of Honey Dew. Open dogs had a class of seven, in which the winner was Goldie Klein's Polaris Pan (Kikmik of Oceanside ex Tod-Acres Starlet) bred by the Williard Todnems.

This dog went on to place winners dog — with Polar Star kennels' Taku Bo Yee going Reserve.

Junior Puppy bitch winner was C. H. Diesner's Yipak of Kaiak (Ch. Frost King II ex Kaiak of Polaris).

Senior Puppy winner was George and Ethel Read's Oregon Polar (Oregon Snow Boy — Oregon Judy).

American-bred bitch taking first was Mr. and Mrs. Clifford E. Tompkins' Karma's Silver Girl (Karma's Silver Tip II — Karma's Sanvihar Tamara).

Open bitch winner, and winners bitch was Polar Star Kennels' Cleo Polaris (Chee-Chako of Taku ex Karma's Delta Ann Snow Frost. Reserve winner was Karma's Silver Girl).

Best Samoyed was Georgia M. Gleason's Ch. Stormy Weather of Betty Blue (Ch. Maulchek of Rhanor — Cicky of Betty Blue). Best Opposite was Cleo Polaris.

Down in Glendora, California there are a couple of Sam puppies still in the care of Handler May Pridham — who is anxious to sell them for U. S. Navy Lieutenant Don Smith—owner of the pups and Princess, their mother. May thinks that they are nice pups and should make good show dogs.

Anyone interested in buying an older Sam pup — (whelped in August) would do well to see these at May Pridham's kennels.

The charming picture sent us by Mrs. Tucker of Encino, shows Mrs. Wheelock with her Sams at Curundu, Canal Zone. She is a member of the Eastern Division of the Sam Club of America. About a year ago she bought Nicolette of Altai from Mrs. Lucille Miller. As there is another Samoyed bitch down there, Mrs. Wheelock decided to buy a male — and so, on 15 November, Geor-Ofki of Encion (Ch. Kunto of Encino out of Suretta of Kobe) arrived in Panama City — to start serving 4 months in quarantine, before becoming a member of the Wheelock home and Nicky's playmate.

A few weeks ago Mrs. Wheelock wrote that George had passed his halfway mark of quarantine with flying colors. He was in perfect health and as sunny disposition as the day he arrived. In those two months, Mrs. Wheelock has missed only 2 days of visiting him twice a day—on those two days she spent two hours with him each morning. Their daily walk is down a palm lined path, then back to Georgie's 'Hotel' for those very good things Mrs. Wheelock. In the picture George faces the camera and Nicolette rests on the lawn.

Panama City had its first dog show on February 13. It was held at the Juan Franco race track and sponsored by the Inter-American Women's Club for charity. There were 100 dogs entered in the show. Mrs. Wheelock's Nicolette of Altai took the ribbon for the third best dog in the show.

Mrs. Tucker reports on the Bakersfield show — the week previous to Oakland. Dr. J. J. Duncan of Atlanta, Georgia judged the 28 dogs entered.

Best of Breed was Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shapiro's Ch. Maxine's Snow Boots (6 champions entered). Best opposite sex went to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bristol's Ch. Princess Startinda.

Winners dog, four points, was Deyomas of Ibur (now in the care of Charles and Frances Hurley). Reserve was Tucker's Kobe Sur-Raff of Encino.

Winners bitch—B. J. Morgan's Imp. Superb of Arglade. Reservex, Vera Compton's Lady Laska. Best of Winners was Deyomas of Ibur. The Bristols went to Bakersfield on Saturday A.M. with their sled team, and in the afternoon drove their team through the streets of Bakersfield.

The highlight of the show was when Ch. Snow Boots, in beautiful condition, placed fourth in the Working Group — bringing honors to our breed. A welcome visitor from Northern California was John Poletti of San Francisco.

A Note from Nova Scotia

Mrs. C. Seldon Bezanson of Nova Scotia sent us some lovely photographs of their Ch. Spark of Altai—from which to choose one for Mrs. Miller's dedication to Catharine Quereaux. Unfortunately, they arrived after the page had been "set".

The three pictures would have made a lovely panel described by Mrs. Bezanson as "Spark showing his happiness when spoken to of Catharine, or upon recognizing letters from her—a sadder photo" shows concern over her illness—and a third picture so aptly titled by Dr. and Mrs. Bezanson — "Ch. Spark in mourning." "Catharine appeared to be one of those divine souls who just go on and on loving, advising and helping others," wrote Mrs. Bezanson.

"The Sams are all so beautiful this winter—the last puppy went today, such a darling we would have loved to have kept her."

Mrs. Clifford Chamberlain, our National Secretary sent some snapshots recently taken at her apartment by Mrs. Gertrude Di Carlo of West Virginia.

The one we produce here shows the two lovelies—Ada of Snowland (left) and Irish and Amer. Ch. Snowland Stara, "and Lucile will have fits to see them on my furniture" wrote Mrs. Chamberlain. From the looks of the dogs it appears they have a few doubts themselves as to being in that particular spot.

Mrs. DiCarlo was visiting with the Chamberlains while awaiting the arrival on the Queen Mary of a baby girl Sammy — coming from Mrs. Ada Westcott's Kennels in England.

Warren Shelly of Saginaw, Michigan is mighty proud of that litter of puppies out of his Tess of Altai and sired by Ch. Pattee Duff of Sammar — and from the looks of the "baby" quartet under the Christmas tree they are husky little beauties.

Such a Scrubbing !!

It seems that up at the James Romps' place high in the hills above Santa Barbara on a warm Sunday in February, Mr. Romp undertook to bathe the five remaining pups of JuJue's litter by Ch. Rainier. After each one was bathed it was dried under a big hair dryer. The pups were so good — just lay quietly in the tub while they were soaped, then rinsed, then they went up on the bed as he rubbed them with a towel while warm air blew over them. Then each pup in turn hopped down and was investigated by those already bathed — and did they look beautiful!

"Darling Melaya — a second Crystal and very feminine — loves to be held and cuddled, whereas Stareina is satisfied to come up for a pat now and then. She is on Raini's build — and large with a harsh coat.

It gives us pleasure to present a picture of Mrs. A. E. Mason's Starchak's Warnistura (Ch. Starchak, C. D. out of the late Ch. Staryvna of Snowland) winners bitch at Oakland — who completed the necessary points toward her championship with a total of 3. "Sissy" as she is fondly called, worked on the dog team two years previous to starting her show career—and has the fame of having been one of the team that parachuted from a plane to take part in the Idaho derby of February 22, 1948. "Sissy" no sooner landed from the plane than she started off to chase a rabbit—"fiushed" from its hiding place when the sled hit the snow. "Sissy" is a self-possessed Sam — a born "showman" and is devoted to children above all else.

"Parachuting of the Sacramento Samoyeds to the race track was in line, Mrs. Mason stated (in an item for Alta Pet News in March 1948) with the Army's experimentation in developing rescue crews of this type for use in the Arctic." The experience gained by the team in rescue work came in good use in a recent rescue event — when Rex the lead dog and one of his pals left the San Francisco show where they had gained show honors for themselves to be flown to Truckee, to be met by Lloyd Van Sickle, thence to go by sled to take part in rescuing the couple marooned in a snow blanketed house in the snowbound Sierras. Because of the success of this undertaking, Mrs. Mason has decided to leave the trained team with Lloyd Van Sickle during the pressing need for rescue work. The latter is difficult at best — and to use a green team would make matters worse. This change from life as successful show dogs to actual rescue work dogs is another proof of the versatility of the Samoyed — and further proves there is no need of dividing our breed into two types as some recommend. Any Sam can be trained to meet any demand put upon it, is the opinion of those who really know our breed.

That Rex is a clever "thinker" is proved by his ability to obtain his desires. For one thing, Rex hates fences — will jump any fence, scales them with little trouble. Will tear down or go through windows to call upon a "special" Sammy girl.

He has even learned how to open the double-hung windows — never a tell-tale tooth mark on the window sill either. "One day recently" writes Mrs. Mason, "Aljean caught him going through a window and made him go back just as he had gone through. In each case the window is raised just about 12 inches, just enough for the dog to go through."

Another of the Mason Sams to make the headlines is the pup called Romeo!

This young fellow was entered for competition in the Oakland show, but for a time it was uncertain if there would be a Romeo to attend.

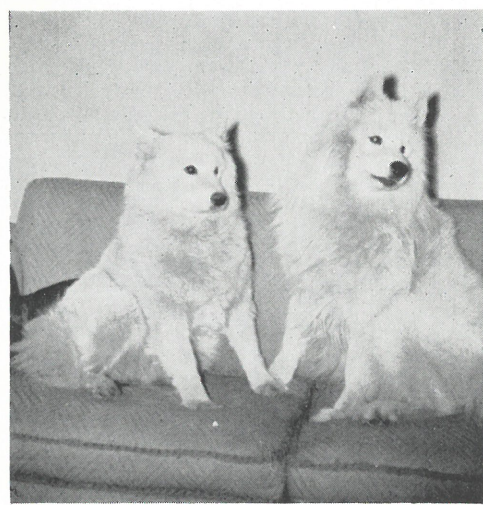

It seems that Rudy Talso of the Sierra Lodge in the snow country had borrowed Romeo for companionship and work while his own dog Tilka, purchased some time before, was being cared for by Mrs. Mason, following an accident when the dog was hit by a truck (the only truck on the highway) during the time highway 40 was closed.

The following story as told to Mrs. Mason by Rudy Talso is one to be read and re-read for a better understanding of the miracles that do happen.

"If this letter were to have been written this morning it would have started something like this: I regret to say that Romeo has wandered off into a blizzard and his whereabouts or even his being alive is a matter of conjecture. But as it is, I have a pleasant story to relate. Might even be of some news value — Man Rescues Dog — Rescue Party leaves on hazardous mission with casks of Friskies under their chins. Anyhow, Romeo is O.K. the knucklehead. This morning I was particularly concerned when Lloyd called and said you wanted Romeo for showing (on the 27th, was it?) O, rather embarrassing there was no Romeo. He was out in the wilds of the summit with a raging blizzard going on.

"To start with the beginning, here is the story: I've been keeping Romeo since Lloyd said he was 'heavy' with dogs right now and had no place to keep him and no time to train him. He has been a wonderful dog, both with me and with the guests here at the Lodge. In fact, he seems to fit into the crowds and excitement much more so than Tilka. Anyhow, early yesterday three of us decided to take a short cross country ski trip of not more than 6 or 7 miles starting from the summit and ultimately winding up at Donner Lake. The weather was fair but snowing a light fluffy kind of snow, little wind with the temperature at about 12 degrees. There was a fairly deep powder snow, where you sink from 12 to 18 inches on skis. Naturally I took Romeo as it would be very good exercise for him. He is in good physical condition and has been minding me very well. (He hasn't even chewed up anything except a rubber sponge ball I gave him, no taste for wallets or five dollar bills yet). (When Rudy first took Tilka up there he chewed a good pair of ski shoes a mitten, and to top that he chewed up his wallet with a ten and five dollar bills in it as well as his identification records). The excursion went along fine until about three miles out. The wind came up and it began snowing in blizzard proportions, but there was no real concern as we were familiar with the country. What did concern us was the poor visibility and the fact that we had about 3 miles to go in any direction to get to shelter. It was already afternoon, the going was very slow, and the powder kept drifting higher. All this time Romeo had been having a delightful time running this way and that and rolling around in the snow. Than for reasons known only to dogdom, he refused to follow us. I called and whistled, I begged and pleaded but he would not come. Then I tried to catch him. That was useless. I'm sure he thought it was a game as he wagged his tail and playfully jumped just out of reach. It was a frustrating situation. If you have ever been in deep snow you know how hard it is to maneuver with any degree of speed, especially when aboard a pair of skis. This little game went on until I was exhausted and so damned mad I almost choked. Romeo was enjoying the whole act as he nimbly jumped away from grabbing hands and floundering feet. This could have gone on for hours. Finally, we just had to make the decision to leave him in hopes that he would either follow us or make his way back to the Lodge alone. We were in danger of being caught in the dark in treacherous terrain and in a blizzard. The last I saw of him through a sheet of driving snow was that he was sitting on a mound of snow with that wise grin.
