MISS TRUDY CADDEL, with VENUS, CHIEF, JOKER and ACE of TRU-DAL KENNELS—Roseville, California

Samoyeds

By Vera Lawrence
610 Colusa Avenue, Berkeley, Calif.

Folks, remember the recent advertisement from Mrs. Rawlings of England, offering a three year old Sammy for sale? Well, we are happy to tell you that he is now owned by Mrs. Vera Compton, owner of Windemere Samoyeds in El Monte, California. We present Mrs. Compton's welcome ad in our section this time and give you the highlights of her letter to us.

"I have just received 'Nimbus of Antarctica from England. Mrs. Rawlings shipped Nimbus on the Queen Elizabeth, June 25th. He arrived in New York on the 30th and left by United Air Lines at midnight, arriving at Los Angeles Airport at four the next afternoon. He was in wonderful condition and when I put the leash on him, he came right along as if he had known me all his life. I no sooner had the car open than he was in and since then has taken over the household completely.

"He thought my bed would be a good place to spend the night, but when he decided to tear it apart and fix it to his own specifications, I decided differently. Nimbus is three years old, sired by Samoffvar (Grom of Kobe ex Rhoda Silverwhite) out of English Ch. Snow Stara of Kobe (Snow Czar of Kobe ex Snow Gem of Kobe). Nimbus has had a splendid career in England, including a Best in Show win at an all-breed show.

"He is a beautiful dark-eyed heavy-boned dog and has a wonderful disposition. He shares the house with my two year old male Eroff of Snowdrift, and I have had no trouble with them, which says a lot for the disposition of both.

Eroff won his first three points at Gendale just before Christmas and then was Reserve Winner at the following Palm Springs Show. After that he was one of the unfortunate Sams to contract Canine Hepatitis. He is well again but very slow in getting his weight back and his coat is coming in very slowly. (Note: This is the report we receive on all Sams that were struck by that scourge of dogdom.)"

Eroff of Snowdrift and Lady Lasha
Vera Compton, Owner

We are happy to present pictures of Nimbus of Antarctica and Mrs. Compton's two home-breds, Eroff of Snowdrift and Lady Lasha (granddaughter of Ch. Sammy of Petsamo and Khatanga of Snowland).

Among Our Folks

We are told that Hazel Dawes' young Sammy bitch, Dawna of Lucky Dee took two points as Winners Bitch at Pittsburg show in June. Nice going!

Hazel tells us that they have recently bought an eight month old female Maltese Terrier as a gift for her mother. The pup, named Corina of Villa Malta, weighs exactly 2½ pounds—just an armful of lovable beauty and she has just "loved" herself into Mrs. Bunklemans' heart already.

Mrs. Harry Ingersoll of Temple City, California informs us that her Frosty failed to produce as expected, and so will no doubt accompany her folks on their vacation trip north.

Shirley Ann Hill has sent a picture of a nice looking Sammy bitch, Sammie's Princess Kamyé shown with her handler (Shirley herself), taken at the recent Santa Monica show. This pup, bred and owned by Sammie Wahrenbrock of San Gabriel, was whelped September 3, 1951, an in-bred daughter of Ch. Verla's Prince Comet (Tamalle's Miss Muffett, who is a daughter of Ch. Verla's Prince Comet out of Starla of Encino).

Kamyé's show career began at Santa Ana on April 20, 1952 when she placed first in her class. From Santa Ana she went to her second show which was at Santa Monica May 17, 18—Judge Frank Porter Miller passing on the entry of 26 Sams. It was at this latter show that this seven months old puppy went from Junior Puppy Class, through Winners, Best of Winners and on to Best of Breed. A mighty nice win for a seven months old puppy bitch!

There's a very happy Sammy owner up in the hills above Santa Barbara, for she has recently come into ownership of a dog she has long admired and considered her "Favorite Sammy." The dog is Ch. Rainier, son of Ch. Starchak, C.D. out of Snowy Dawn. The new owner is Mrs. Helen Romp, who also owns the young bitch Ju Jue of Wimundstrev (Ch. Guardian of the Arctic ex Belenki). Raini, formerly owned by the Robert H. Wards of Culver City, is getting lots of love and attention and is just lapping it up, so to speak and having the time of his life in his hilltop home overlooking beautiful Santa Barbara. Raini, who is not the least bit gun-shy, will no doubt be used by Mr. Romp on some of his hunting trips this fall. Ju Jue it will be remembered is already trained to hunt and is excellent at her work.

We have only a partial report of the Long Beach show sent up by Mrs. Ed Adams of Los Angeles. Winners Dog and Best of Winners was Elizabeth Wyman's young home-bred Strazha of Wimundstrev (Ch. Guardian of the Arctic out of Belenki). Strazha thus acquired his first major win of four points. Grant Mann of Detroit was the Judge.

Reserve Winners Dog was Shirley Ann Hill's Ski Lad. Winners Bitch, also a four point winner, was Charles Tucker's Du Dinka of Encino. Reserve went to Hazel Dawes' young hopeful, Dawna of Lucky Dee. Best of Breed was Mrs. Ralph Longden's Ch. Gay Boy of Sammar (Ch. Martingate Snowland Taz ex Ch. Frolene of Sammar.) Gay Boy was in beautiful condition—excellent coat and showed in his best style—Gay Boy followed that win by going on to fourth in the Working Group. Congratulations, Mrs. Longden! Best of Opposite Sex was taken by Arthur Teien's Ch. Kathriana (Kikmik of Oceanside out of Tod-Acres' Starlet). Vingo's Snow Fluff of White Way with her brood by Ch. Prince Comet took the Brood Bitch Class

From Dunellen, New Jersey, Mrs. Antoinette Callahan writes that Ch. Tazbel (son of the famous Ch. Martingate Snowland Taz out of Snowbelle), has again come out of retirement, to take part in some of the Eastern shows. He was entered in two of the recent Long Island shows, and in each he placed Best of Breed in a nice entry of Sams each time. "Tinker," as he is called, was also shown at the Rumson show, with almost the same competition—but here he went Best of Opposite Sex.

Among Tinker's recent visitors and admirers, were Lois and Lillian Rayner of California, who are making an extensive tour in the east and who are now in Nova Scotia.

Wouldn't it be nice of some of those excellent Eastern dogs could come out here and take part in some of our California shows?

Richmond, California Show, July 6, 1952

Our thanks to nice Judith Lawrence who marked the catalog showing the Sam placements at Richmond. There was an entry of three dogs and seven bitches with one entered for Specials only for Judge Cross to pass upon.

Winners Dog was Katherine A La Costa's Frosty of Kithu (Vahnka of Lewclaire ex Sonya of Valiki). Reserve Winner was Miss Virginia Poletti's homebred Sergei's Drujak (Ch. Samoyland's Sergei, C.D. ex Ballinki of Encino). Winners Bitch and Best of Winners was Mrs. Blanche A. Poletti's Ballinka of Encino (Ch. Kunto of Encino ex Suretta of Kobe), Charles and Margaret Tucker breeders. Congratulations, Mrs. Poletti. Reserve Winners Bitch was unmarked, sorry to say. Best of Breed was Mrs. Poletti's Ballinka of Encino, with Mrs. Longden's Gay Boy of Sammar Best Opposite Sex. Ch. Gay Boy, it will be remembered had recently returned from a sweeping victory at the Long Beach show, having there defeated several champions of note.

Chicago Show, March 29, 30, 1951

Through the kindness of Betty Kimpflin of Chicago, we are able to give you the placements made at the Chicago Show. Winners Dog was Ruth Young's Barney Boy of Arbee (this we believe completed that young fellow's championship (subject to A.K.C. sonfirmation). Reserve Winner was Mrs. Alstasia Mac-Bain's Silver Storm of Wychwood—a son of Ch. Silvertips of Kobe. Winners Bitch was Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Marshall's Princess Jo of Bonnie Brae, who went on to take Best of Winners. Reserve Winners Bitch was the Frank Adam's Samara's Miss Muffet. Best of Breed was Mr. P. Lewis Bajus and Mr. Kauffman's Ch. Silver Beam of Wychwood.

There were nine lovely Sams in the Specials Only Class: Ch. Chuckles of Breezewood; Smith's Ch. King of Wal-Lyn; P. L. Bajus' Ch. Jingle of Sammar; Mr. and Mrs. Ulfeng's Ch. Taza and Ch. Tazon; Mrs. Lucy Forbes' Ch. Pratika of Top Acres; the Joe Marshall's Ch. Frolene of Sammar and Ch. Frolstar of Sammar; and the Best of Breed winner the Bajus-Kauffman Ch. Silver Beam of Wychwood. Three Sams were entered for Exhibition Only: the Marshall's Ch. Pattee Duff of Sammar; Joe Kimpflin's Siberian Tchory and Peggy Ruick's Breezewood's Sirius of Altai.

News that we are happy to report is that Charles Tucker has left the hospital and returned to his home in Encino and even back to work. We know that it makes "Billy," as well as the dogs, happy to have the boss back home—for they, especially his veteran Ch. Kunto missed their pal.

Kobe-Sur-Raff (Eng. Ch. Raff of Kobe ex Suretta of Kobe), now awaiting A.K.C. verification of his championship, will probably be entered for Specials only at Santa Barbara. Kobe-Du-Dinka needs only three more points to complete her championship, has already made her two necessary majors, each a four-point win. Kobe-Kof-Ka (a litter sister) will be started on her career soon. Altho she has never had any ring experience, she is a jewel for standing and posing with her head held high.

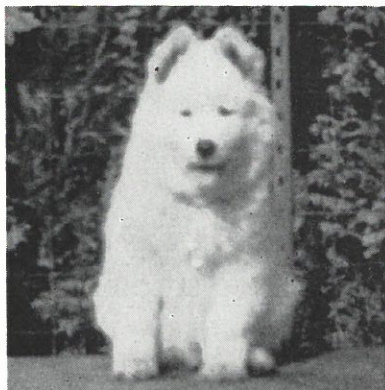

Mrs. Tucker says that there are only two (lovely big fellows) left of the litter advertised in the recent W.K.W. ad. There is another litter due at any time now. More about them later.

It has been our pleasure to read the Souvenir "Annual" of the Alaska Sled Dog and Racing Association, loaned us by Mrs. Levant Brown who had received it from one of the members of the Editorial staff—Mrs. Estelle Mitchell of Anchorage, Alaska. The "Annual" (48 pages) is beautifully illustrated, and carries a wealth of interesting sled dog stories and items, mostly about the Alaskan type of dogs. There is one article called:

"A Case for the Pure-Bred Sled Dog," which gives one a great deal to think about, One paragraph is as follows: "To the strict breeder of recognized pure-breds who is conscious of conformation points, many of the early Siberian imports could not be classified as one type, altho the dogs did have common characteristics differing from other arctic types.

"The Siberians were smaller than the native Alaskan dogs, finer featured, higher strung and seemingly tireless, many dogs have startling blue eyes. The long hair and heavy muzzle found in a few early imports are in the opinion of the writer a fusion of the Siberian Chuck-Chee dogs with the dogs of the neighboring Samoyed tribes. My belief is further strengthened in this because the Norwegian explorer Nansen was furnished dogs by the Samoyed people who in their hunt for sufficient animals went far eastward into the Chuck-Chee regions (of Siberia). Photographs taken during the expedition of the Fram showed many of the dogs to be of foxy type resembling our own Siberians of today, while others were patterned after the long-haired white and biscuit Samoyed dogs."

Another interesting item appears, called: "Stateside Dog Teams Perform." A dog team was part of the transportation sources used to reach the snow-bound streamliner, City of San Francisco this January, high in the Sierras. (This is the team of which some of Mrs. Mason's dogs were a part). "Driven by Lloyd Van Sickle, veteran dog sled racer and winner of many derbies, the team carried a doctor to the Donner Pass when the snow tractor was unable to get through. This was not Lloyd's first mercy mission via dog sled. In 1940, Lloyd and Everett Hese-man brought a sick woman out of the snow wilderness 25 miles southeast of Ashton, Idaho.

"With nine dogs, Lloyd mushed across the snowy Targhee National Forest to reach the Weaver ranch where Mrs. Farre, victim of a heart ailment, and her two small children were loaded into his sled and taken to the ranch of Carl C. Lentz, some 18 miles from the Weaver ranch. Here, arrangements were made to take her by automobile the remaining 60 miles to the Idaho Falls hospital."

One picture of great interest to us, showed Clyde's ad in the paper, advertises A.K.C. at rest beside the shores of Goose Lake. Clyde is one of the first Anchorage mushers to try Samoyeds and has twenty of them in his kennels. He has been placing well in the preliminary races.

Clyde's ad in the paper, advertises A.K.C. registered puppies and trained sled dogs under two years.

While at the Oakland Show in March, we had the pleasure of talking with the mother of Mary Ellen Phillips of Berkeley, who was interested in purchasing a Sam puppy as a companion for her daughter who is nearly blind. It was our pleasure to suggest the owners of Sams who had puppies for sale at that time. Among these was Mrs. Edmund Braetchel of San Jose. Mrs. Phillips reported today that the pup that they bought then, now nine months old, has proven to be all that they desire in a companion dog, and is easily replacing the Seeing-Eye dog which was lost last year.

This young fellow is gentle and lovable, and a constant companion to Mary Ellen. His name is Frosty Mist of Hillshaven—a son of Pala-Sam's Christie out of Obi Snow.

Mrs. Joseph Kimpflin of Chicago, who has Mrs. Ruick's Ch. Chuckles of Breezewood, tells us that on Chuckles' birthday, they called "Mommy Peggy" long distance to Pentwater, Michigan. It was ever so cute to see Chucky turn her head every which way when she heard

Peggy say: "Hello Chucky-Wuck." She looked all around and got 'so excited, and kissed the phone receiver. She was smart enough to know that was where Peggy's voice came from. Her tail was going a mile a minute—it made her birthday complete to hear her darling Peggy again.

Those Kimpflin "Girls" are "Personality Girls" for Sure. "Well, if someone didn't play a mean trick on the girls. They (the water company) dug a six foot trench for a water supply line. The girls made their usual wild dash for outdoors, only to come to a skidding stop when they reached the trench. They stretched their necks to see what was down there—Chuckles acted as if she were going to jump across—but changed her mind. At that they were ever so much smarter than the Cocker Spaniel that fell into the trench three times in six days and had to be fished out each time.

Well, now the trench is closed again—but there's a huge pile of excess dirt around—and their two favorite benches were torn down, however, the folks put up a new one for them—besides they still have the big one under their "squirrel tree."

A letter has just arrived from Ann Winslow of Laramie, Wyoming, who says she must cut down the number of Sams in her kennels. She expresses regret in the necessity of disposing of some of the three and four years olds but finds it MUST be done. Unless these dogs have been badly spoiled, they will adjust themselves to new owners and surroundings very easily. Of course, the dogs must go to people who love and understand dogs. With puppies it's a different matter—no one can resist loving a Sammy puppy—one lick from that pink tongue, or the feel of those clinging little feet around your hand, and you are "sunk"—and that's for sure.

Miss Winslow writes that for four years she was unable to exhibit at any of the shows. However, she did enter three bitches at the Cheyenne show on June 29th. These three were Juliana's Princess Patryska and her litter sister Juliana's Princess Parasha, and Patryska's seven months old pup Doroteya (Dottie) sired by Lois Rayner's Ch. Chinde of Caspar, C.D.X.

Patryska (Patty) went Winners Bitch, Best of Winners and Best of Breed and has two points towards her championship. "Patryska is a fine large female with very dark eyes, perfect black points, beautiful head and excellent tail carriage. During Miss Rayner's trip across the country last summer, she stopped at Laramie and Ch. Chinde was bred to 'Patty'."

Of Patty's former litter, Miss Winslow says that they were mostly males and GOOD males in the litter. The same thing happened with Chinde's litter. The four males were very good, one being exceptionally large. Of the two females in the litter, one was quite small the other, medium in size, though a good one. It appears from comparison that both Chinde and Patty have a tendency to throw especially good males.

Another Sam who must go to a new home (due to the illness of his owners) is the young fellow named Alaska Don, owned by Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Roney of Tulsa, Oklahoma. "Don" is a four year old son of Smiling Sam and Kanda Frenda, and grandson of the Canadian Champion Kandalaska, a son of By Fang of Kobe. Don is quite a member of the household, but he makes himself at home any place. Altho Mrs. Roney realizes that she must let Don go—she says that she does not want to subject him to a trip through the excessive heat at the present time. However, it must be soon.

—Not a bit too early for Christmas Issue plans!

It was good a few days ago to have a visit from Mr. Warren Shelley who owns, with his brother, the Ken-War Samoyeds in Saginaw, Michigan. It was good to visit, even for so short a time, with someone from the Mid-West Sammy group, and to talk "Sams." Mr. Shelley and his sister were on a trip through with friends, so was unable to visit the many folks with whom he would like to talk.
