AMERICAN and CUBAN CH. ROCK FALLS TROUBADOUR — Owned by Howard and Lee Iverson of San Francisco, California

Samoyeds

By Vera Lawrence

610 Colusa Avenue, Berkeley, Calif

At last, folks, here's the story we have been promising you along with some pictures out of the snowy Sierras.

"Gets Around Fast Behind His Team of Dogs."

That is the manner in which the Sacramento Union of February 17th speaks of Constable Harry Johansen of Tahoe City — the big blond Nordic who loves the outdoors and the mountain life.

He is a constable and Deputy Sheriff for Placer County — his beat—200 square miles of rugged Sierra wilderness. But he's more than that. With his dog sled of Siberians (Samoyeds) he's an institution and a growing legend to the people of Tahoe City and the surrounding Country.

Winter or summer, if a tourist or a hunter or fisherman, is lost, a skier hurt, if someone is sick and must be taken to a doctor, if a car is stalled in a snowdrift, or an isolated cabin needs supplies, by ski or dogsled if it's winter — by horseback or automobile in summer, Johansen can be counted on to reach them. He's done it so many times that many of the year round residents often expect the impossible of him.

At Christmas time it's part of the annual celebration at Tahoe City for Santa Claus to arrive by dog sled, behind 8 big Samoyeds. Johansen looks forward to this event just as much as the kids do — and gets just as much fun out of it as do the children who come rushing out to mob him and the team.

"In rough country when a skier is hurt, and must be taken out — then it's a dogsled job.

On occasion he and his dogs traveled 80 miles in a single day.

Like most sled drivers, Johansen makes his own dog harness and sleds. Built from rawhide and hickory, not a nail is used in construction.

Constable Harry Johansen and a Couple of His "Deputies" in the High Sierras, Placer County, California (See story on this page)

He also trains his own dogs — pure-bred Siberian Samoyeds. He chose these dogs because of their gentle nature — for unlike the Malamutes of Alaska, there is no wolf blood in the Samoyeds.

(Incidentally, Constable Johansen's original Samoyeds, his breeding stock, came from the Mason's White Way Kennels in Sacramento).

When he harnesses his team, he stretches the gear on the snow — and each dog, leader, swing-tuggers and wheel, steps into his designated spot whining and fidgeting in the excitement of wanting to be off on a trip. Johansen and his dogs are old hands at movie acting too. The high Sierra is a favorite locale for many northland films.

Johansen has had a lot of exciting experience in his 20 years at Lake Tahoe, but he doesn't talk much. But the people of Lake Tahoe will tell you how during the recent snow storm that left Lake Tahoe isolated for days, Johansen worked almost 24 hours a day to take supplies to stranded families and to see that medical aid was brought to them who needed it.

When the full story is told, it will be found that Johansen, formerly of the Swedish Air Patrol, later served in the Northwest Territory with the Canadian Mounted Police. It was there he learned to handle dogs and dogsleds and got his first experience with the police. Upon coming to Tahoe he joined the Placer Ski Patrol, of which he is still Chief.

The story of Constable Johansen and his Samoyeds brings to mind another story published in 1948, as told to Mrs. Mason by Viggo Hoyer, Chief of Police of Crescent City, California. Officer Hoyer owned Sheila, a daughter of Ch. White Way of Kobe out of Ch. Herdsman's Faith, obtained in jail for car theft. One day they broke jail — everybody was looking for them. I was cruising about the outskirts of the city figuring they would try to get a ride — also looking in all empty buildings around, and at a particular building Sheila called my attention to a loose board in the floor. I lifted the board and could see a shoe sticking out. I then told Sheila to get under there and get them out. She pulled one of them out by his leg — the other came out by himself. She has helped me on several occasions. If there is a fight going on all I have to do is open the door and before I can get to them, Sheila has them stopped. She hates a drunk — and can spot them a block away. One day I was in a store — and on my return to the car Sheila had a drunk by the arm. He had tried to reach in the car and she grabbed hold of him and held him until I got there and took him to jail. The city made a nice little sum on that deal.

In the car (protecting her owner's possessions during his absences) she is about the meanest dog living. Nobody dare touch the car, but outside the car, or with her master near, she is the sweetest and meekest dog you could think of. Sheila loves to show off. She can get my hat, shoes, coat and gun upon request. Every morning she goes after the paper — and of all her fancy "tricks" her favorite is the game of "piggy back" — when she jumps on Chief Hoyer's back and goes for a ride.

"Sheila is one of many of our Sams fulfilling a dual purpose — that of assisting her master in his police work and serving as guardian and companion dog during quieter moments.

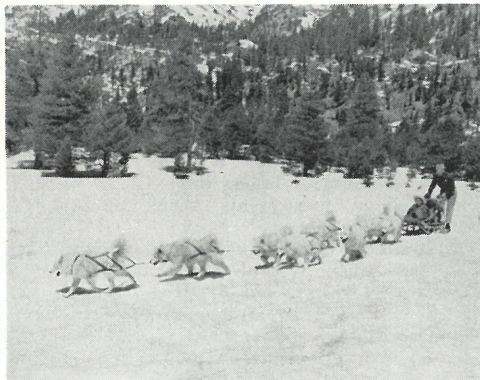

It seems to this writer that Sams trained to work such as the dogs of Chief Hoyer and Constable Johnson, should automatically be awarded the title of C.D.X. and U. D. dogs. They have certainly earned such titles.

There are several items in the grand Bulletin recently received from Ed and Gertrude Adams of the Pacific Coast Division of the Samoyed Club of America which we hope to publish here (with their permission).

The first is a resume of show reports during the first months in California, followed by some of the major east or midwest shows of a corresponding time. It will prove only too well how our Pacific Coast Sams are progressing to such a degree which puts them in higher point-rating brackets. For instance — beginning with May 15 we shall need 15 dogs and 14 bitches to warrant us 5 points in either sex — while the old rating of 6 dogs — 5 points still holds place in most spots beyond the Pacific Coast regions.

Let's scan the Pacific Coast shows:
Palm Springs—December 1951 (total number of dogs in show 581) eleven Sams—judged by D. Rayne. Best of breed—Mill's Ch. Prince Comet. Best Opp. Teien's Ch. Kathriana. Winners dog — Sleighbell's Snowdrift (Morgan). 5 dogs — 1 point. Winners bitch—Morgan's Superb of Arglade — 3 bitches, 1 point.

San Bernardino—January 1952. Number of dogs in show 816 — 17 Sams. F. Miller, judge. Best of breed — Ch. Prince Comet. Best Op-

Thanks Ed and Gertrude Adams for the stupendous task you have accomplished in the above items.

The following timely item is taken from the text of a paper "The newer knowledge of our dogs," presented on November 13, 1951 at the meeting of the Western Reserve Kennel Club, Cleveland, Ohio by Harry Miller, Director of the Gaines Dog Research Center, N. Y.

"In infectious hepatitis, a widespread and commonly occurring disease in our dog population, there have been important discoveries. The high incidence of this disease is easily understood when it is realized that infected dogs eliminate virus in the urine for at least 200 days. Exposure possibilities are therefore enormous when consideration is given to the amount of traveling dogs do these days to dog shows and other places. Fortunately, there is a serum available for this condition, even though protection as yet only lasts about three weeks.

"Work in the Cornell Laboratory has also shown that infectious hepatitis virus can act simultaneously with distemper virus and produce more severe illness. The full evaluation of its relation to encephalitis has not yet been established.

"The important point made by Dr. Baker is that progress has been made, and is being made on infectious diseases. No longer is the veterinarian satisfied to apply generalized treatment, but insists on an analytical scientific approach to the problem of diagnosis, prophylaxis and therapy.

"Also said, Dr. Baker, 'there has grown a great sense of responsibility on the part of the manufacturers of foods, medicines and biological products to provide only the very best of dogs. Evidence of this can be found in the extensive research efforts now going on.'

An Open Letter to All Sammy Owners

"Are you getting ready to attend the Samoyed Specialty to held at San Mateo on August 3, 1952?

"Dear Samoyed Owner:

"Now that the Pacific Coast Division of the Samoyed Club of America has received the approval for the Specialty Show to be held in conjunction with the San Mateo Kennel Club's Show to be held August 3rd, let us get together and make this the Biggest and Best Show ever held on the Pacific Coast. Each and every one of you are essential to the success of this show and we look to you to make an all-out effort to enter as many Samoyeds as possible and prevail upon your friends to do the same. We MUST put this over.

"Our goal this year is 100 Sams—let's don't have any less. Bring out the youngsters and all the oldsters you can. Our trophies are very enticing and we feel sure your dog will win something.

"Last year the response to my wild appeal was very encouraging, and we did have a good show, and I want to take this opportunity to thank each and every one of you who participated.

"Please send me a list of your entries, and if possible, the names of the dogs to be entered, as we have a little surprise for you, and please get them in to me as soon as possible, as again, Time is the Essence in order to get the proper benching and the information in the catalog.

"Come on Folks! Let us get busy and be proud of our Pacific Coast Division of the Samoyed Club of America, and let the world know we can do it if we want to, and I know YOU WANT TO.

"Yours in the Sammy Bond. (Signed) Dorothy Larson, Chairman Entry Committee."

The Santa Ana show completed the championship of Kobe-Sur-Raff (subject to A.K.C. verification). The following gives a partial record of "Kobe's" wins:

May, 1951 at Beverly Riviera under Judge M. Riddle, there were 18 males, five points for "Kobe"; July, 1951, Santa Barbara, eight males, two points, Judge J. C. Quirk; November, 1951, Ventura, six males, two points, Judge Vera Lawrence; January, 1952, Orange Empire, seven males, two points, Judge F. P. Miller; April, 1952, Santa Ana, 11 Sams, four points under Judge Casselman.

The record shows that "Kobe's" points were won under five different judges. In the seven other shows in which he was entered, "Kobe" was Reserve Winner five times.

We are sure that Charles Tucker, in his bed at the Veterans' Hospital at Sawtelle is happy

DOG RESEARCH NEWS

No. 15

Authoritative information on the scientific care and feeding of dogs. Published by Albers Milling Company (a division of Carnation Company) under the supervision of Dr. E. M. Gildow, B.S., M.S., D.V.M., Director of Research.

Eye Trouble of Pups

A puppy's eyes usually begin to open at 7 to 10 days. The lids first part at the inner corner and gradually extend to the outside. If the lids fail to open properly, it may be due to pus formations which may be determined by running the finger over the eyelids and finding them distended.

By placing a layer of 2% yellow oxide of mercury ointment across the lids and working it in, the accumulation usually can be softened and the lid parted at the inner corner and drained. Use the ointment under the lids but do not try to force the lids completely open. Repeat at least twice daily.

Such treatment has proved to be most successful at the Friskies Research Kennels. However, any eye condition which does not respond rapidly should be treated by a veterinarian.

Hundreds of healthy litters, the offspring of dogs that have been fed Friskies for generations, have been produced at the Friskies Research Kennels.

Clip Dew-Claws

For those breeds which require it, the dew-claws may be removed at the third day.

These claws perform no function and may even be dangerous to the animal, through having its eyes badly cut by the dew-claws. Snipping the claws off on the third day with a pair of scissors and touching the spot with iodine removes this hazard permanently.

Amino Acids and Growth

Because meat protein contributes so much toward growth and the building of sound body tissues, there is naturally a great deal of interest in the various amino acids, from which proteins are constructed.

Regarding the relative contributions of the various amino acids from beef muscle and horse meat, a glance at the table below will show that, insofar as amino acid content is concerned, there is very little difference between beef muscle and horse meat.

APPROXIMATE AMINO ACID CONTENT

Calculated to 16.0g. of Nitrogen

Amino Acids	Beef Muscle	Horse Meat
Arginine	7.7%	6.3%
Histidine	2.9%	3.6%
Lysine	8.1%	8.7%
Tyrosine	3.4%	3.9%
Tryptophan	1.3%	1.5%
Phenylalanine	4.9%	5.9%
Cystine	1.3%	1.0%
Methionine	3.3%	3.2%
Threonine	4.6%	4.4%
Leucine	7.7%	8.0%
Isoleucine	6.3%	6.3%
Valine	5.8%	5.8%
Glycine	5.0%	—

The surest method open to dog owners for providing a sufficient amino acid intake is to feed a reputable commercial dog food like Friskies. Friskies is rich in meat protein, in amounts scientifically designed to provide all the amino acids dogs need for proper growth and the building of sound, healthy bodies.

And that reminds me, folks, Mr. Tucker would be most happy to receive cards or messages from his many friends in the Sam Club. Mail may be addressed to him at the hospital or sent to his home in Encino.

There are some new puppies down in Camarillo, California. Mrs. Althea Hall's "Sue" now has a litter of six.

Mrs. Tucker's Po-Tim-Kin of Encino is the English-bred dog purchased from Mrs. Ann Marie Goelkel of New York. The sire is Snowland Fyodor, dam Snowland Shelagh Janmayen.

We extend our sympathy to Mrs. W. R. Ingram of Snowdrift Kennels in La Pine, Alabama, who has recently lost her beloved Sammy bitch, Franie's Tana (Sooltan ex Tania of Pet-samo.) She died while whelping at the age of eight years and two months. Mrs. Ingram says, "Although Tanya as she was called has left us, she still lives in our hearts and in our memory where she will be forever. She was a great bitch and a great producer."

A Letter from Australia

From McKinnon, Australia, we have received a letter from Max Enkhardt, who writes that there are about one hundred Samoyed dogs there—of which he "holds the champion." This dog is Gyda Hyperborea, sired by Yukon Waitemata out of Minki of Gyda.

Minki of Gyda is owned by Mr. L. S. Graham, who is President of the Samoyed Club of Australia. The Copy of the K.C.C. Kennel Gazette, kindly sent us along with a copy of the lovely illustrated magazine of Australia, called "Your Dog"—bear the pictures of some of the Australians. One picture (dog un-named), shows a stylish looking Samoyed in beautiful stance.

Mr. Enkhardt writes that he, his wife and their "champion-dog" are making plans to go through the United States on their coming world tour. They will be looking around for a mate (an American bitch) for "our spoiled baby." With the market what it is now—plenty of summer youngsters on hand, Mr. Enkhardt will no doubt find choosing just the right one a none-too-easy matter. Good luck—and a happy visit—Mr. and Mrs. Enkhardt.

The next few weeks will find a variety of shows to attend. We hope that our readers will send us their show reports—from the present "moth-eaten" appearance of our "Crissy" there will be a very few shows in which she may compete.

Esther! Topper did go Reserve, however, so that eased the pain somewhat. But there were a lot of surprised faces around the ring, you may be sure.

In the 6-9 puppy bitches, there was another "repeater" win. This time for Capt. Lowman's Vickifranz Nunkistar, by Valleylee's Bright Dagger ex Surfspray's Penelope. She won over three others. 9-12 had only three entered and was won by Hergozin Fricka, owned by Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Fitzsimmons. The breeding on this puppy is Gala Lad of Hartwood ex Joogo Flirtation. In the Novice Bitches we saw four entered and it was won by George B. and Hazel M. Schack's Hulda Von Schack. She is sired by Count Me Too of Mackaleen ex Duchess Barbara Lee.

Bred by Exhibitor had two entered, and here again Freya von Halberacher took the class. American-bred had two present and was won by the Horvaths' Golden Poppy of Baghdad, by Ch. Mazelaine's Sweepstakes ex Queen Sheba II. Open Bitches had a total entry of six and was taken by Madelaine B. Stapleton's Stapleton's Cover Girl. This bitch is by Ch. Mazelaine's Masterpiece ex Stapleton's Beau Allure. She also took Winners Bitches and her Reserve was the Novice winner Hulda von Schack. More surprises! Best of Winners also went to Cover Girl. Too bad all you people couldn't have seen Madeleine Stapleton, she was so happy she was crying. But it really made us all feel happy, as the bitch certainly deserved to win.

Only three of the four champions entered showed up, and the Best Boxer went to the Kay Therps' Ch. Roxanna Fra Elsinore. Best Opposite went to a dog we haven't seen for a long time, Ch. Mazelaine Sweepstakes, now owned by the Peter Horvaths. Let me just add one word here now—the Judge hesitated a long time before putting Sweeper up over the Senior Puppy! To many observers and especially breeders it is hard to justify giving any puppy points as in so many cases you find that when the dog is fully developed he has gone sour. It seems that in the long run a more consistent valuation of a champion could be obtained if he could become eligible for points until at least a year old—or preferably eighteen months of age.—Donald M. Conway.

JUDY'S ON THE WING AGAIN

Italian exhibitors at dog shows will have an opportunity to have their dogs judged by American arbiters. Capt. Will Judy and Mrs. Judy will be seen in the show ring at the annual championship show of the National Italian Kennel Club at Rome June 7-8.

They will also be judging at the four-day championship show at Milan under the auspices of the National Italian Kennel Club on June 11-12 and June 14-15.

Capt. (a WWI military title) is Editor of Dog World, author of several good dog books, publisher of dozens, as well as other non-doggy items. He is founder of the Oldtimers in the Kennel World and founder of National Dog Week celebrating its silver anniversary this year.

Mrs. Judy holds a regular license for judging Cockers, but WJ, under AKC rules cannot hold a regular license on account of the dog publications mentioned above.

As an international judge no other American has had as many engagements. During the last few years he has travelled 80,000 miles to judge championship shows in Mexico (three shows); Santiago, Chile; Caracas, Venezuela; Rio de Janeiro, Brazil; Havana, Cuba (several shows); all points in Canada; farthest North dog show ever held—Alaska; North and Southern Ireland, Belfast and Dublin; Blackpool, England; and more recently the championship shows of Madrid and Barcelona, Spain. He will judge the championship show at Johannesburg, South Africa in October of this year.

Capt and Mrs. Judy will fly from the United States to Italy by way of Paris and Zurich.

ELSIE PUBLISHES A COOKBOOK

Elsie the Cow has joined the authors' circle with the publication of "Elsie's Cook Book," which Harry Botsford, well known food editor and author, helped write and which is published by The Bond Wheelwright Company. Publication of the cook book, which is subtitled "Tested Recipes of Every Variety," makes Bond Wheelwright the 27th licensee currently under contract with the Borden Company's Elsie Enterprises. Like other authorized licensees, Bond Wheelwright will pay royalties to Borden's on the cook books sold. For while Borden's has approved the book and is helping promote it, it is not subsidized by the food company as a publishing venture. Nearly 2,500,000 novelty items featuring the glamor cow and members of her family are sold annually by Elsie Enterprises' licensees.
