Another White Way Sammy Bitch Finishes Her Championship (Subject to A.K.C.)

Mason's Trooperine of White Way was Winner Bitch at the Golden Gate Show, January 27, 28, 1951, where she completed the necessary points for her championship.

It will be remembered that Trooperine won her first major show with five points at Long Beach in 1949 with 38 Sams entered. Her next five-point win was at the Long Beach Specialty Show, June 24, 1950, in an entry of 110 Sams. Trooperine is a daughter of Toby of White Way out of the late Ch. Nianya of Snowland (Ch. Siberian Nansen of Farningham of Snowland out of Vida of Snowland, a daughter of the famous Ch. Storm Cloud out of Morina of Taimir.)

Trooperine has not been shown often due to the fact she was working most efficiently as one of the mainstays with the Mason sled team, with Lloyd van Sickle, when not taking care of puppies. The lovely group picture shows some of the Sams taken just after the Long Beach show—with Trooperine at the far left sitting at full attention—waiting for the command to go.

Next to her in the picture is the Mason's Warnistura (Ch. Starchak, C.D. ex the late Ch. Staryvna of Snowland). Warnistura (called "Sissy") needs only a point or two to complete her championship. Warnistura has had time out from shows to raise a family, and at present there are only two puppies left for sale from the litter now ten days old.

The third Sam in the picture is Ch. Petrof's Nick of White Way (Ch. Petrof Lebanov out of Dascha of Laika). This fellow placed as Best Sammy in the Golden Gate Show—21 entries. Petrof's Nick and Silver Streak of White Way were Best Working Brace of the five braces entered in the show.

The lead dog in the team, lying at rest, is none other than the Robert Ward's Ch. Starchak, C.D., bred at the Mason Kennels, a son of Ch. Herdsman's Chattigan out of Ch. Silver Star of White Way. The fellow next to him—and ready for a dash—is (we believe) Starchak's son, Ch. Rainier, out of Snowy Dawn, bred by Elizabeth Wyman of Santa Barbara. Rainier, a grandson of the famous Snowland Kennels lead dog, Ch. Moscow of Farningham of Snowland, is proving himself as an excellent stud dog as well as show dog.

Yes—There are Sam Puppies Obtainable In California

Mrs. Dorothy Larson of the Valiki Kennels of Santa Rosa, tells us that Natushka of White Way whelped four lovely male puppies, January 29, 1951, sired by Vahnka of Lewclaire. Mrs. Larson is delighted with the heavy coats which they bear—and plans to watch them closely.

Natushka chose as her whelping box Vahnka's night box, and had to be carried with her newborn pups to her whelping box.

Mrs. Larson has recently sold another puppy to Dr. Hadden of Berkeley. This pup weighed 12½ pounds at six weeks of age—a real personality pup. It took less than two days for the housekeeper to fall in love with the pup—a son of Vahnka of Lewclaire—who will be called Vahnka II, after his sire.

Mrs. Larson has also sold a pup of another litter sired by Vahnka—also a sister to the pup bought by Mr. and Mrs. Breatchel; the latter goes to Mr. and Mrs. Kotejin of Oakland.

Another litter of pups is at Margie Olin's in Palo Alto—four males and three females sired by her young Saijan (the young male that placed first in the American-bred dogs class at the Golden Gate Show). The mother is Snowcrest's Tanya.

There are Sam pups in San Francisco, born January 5, 1951, out of Siberian Silver Sue by Toko. Silver Sue is a daughter of Lois Rayner's Ch. Chinde of Caspar, C.D.X., out of Samoyland's Lady Sno Chrystal. Toko is by Reningrad out of the late Ch. Nianya of Snowland. Reningrad was a son of the late Silver Spark of the Arctic ex Bourgoin's Anya. Toko is a lovely big dog carrying a gorgeous coat of the Arctic strain type.

Mrs. Dunaway, the owner of the pups is looking forward to seeing the results of this chosen breeding, and of course is hoping for a future championship for each of them.

The Earl Pulley's Snowball's expected litter will have arrived by the time this magazine reaches you. Sire of the expected litter is the Thomas Witcher's Ch. Vojak, C.D., C.D.X., U.D. Do write us about them, won't you, Mrs. Pulley?

Mr. and Mrs. William Powell's Starell (Ch. Snowland Stara ex Buffy) is in whelp to the now famous stud, Ch. Rainier.

Sams Again Make the News

The Sunday Oakland Tribune, February 11th gave a full page spread to pictures of some of the dogs to be shown at Oakland. Dorothy Dye's four did the honors for our Sams, with the help of two lovely college girls showing Starsun of Altai, Icy Girl of Altai and their two pups. Good work, Dot, and thanks to Mrs. Reed who worked to get us there!

Our thanks to R. E. Schmidling for the loan of his marked catalog of the Golden Gate Show which enables us to give you the winners.

Among Our Folks

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kimpflin have just returned from a visit to Mrs. Berta Ruick in Indiana, and returned to their Chicago home with Ruick's illustrious Ch. Chuckles of Breezewood, whose pedigree shows her to be the out of Tchory. Mrs. Kimpflin says that she has been trying to make Tchory realize that she must therefore treat Chuckles with the respect due her. So far little has been accomplished. "Ever so often one will go to the other and blow in her ear—am wondering if that is some special greeting—or could it be they are giving each other the raspberry," writes Mrs. Kimpflin. (As for that—we know definitely that our own Sams tell each other things, just by touching the other's mouth—and also by nuzzling an ear—they do have a real language—of this I am sure.)

Looks like Tchory and Chuckles are going thin side can continue her meals as before—but for Tchory—no more buttered toast—and Chuckles must omit her "in-between" snack of cottage cheese.

Mrs. Katherine May of Trenton, N. J., writes that Kadra II has just recuperated from a tumor operation on her leg and Yorza was kept busy keeping watch on Kadra, for she took the heavy bandage off twice while her "mom" had to go to the city. Back to the hospital she went on each occasion—and out went her paw to the Doctor as though proud to show him what she had accomplished! (Congratulations, Mrs. May, that your Kadra came through O.K.)

Thanks to Mrs. Lorna Duffy for recommending our W.K.W. Sammy news to Mrs. K. M. Daniels of Reading, Ohio. Mrs. Daniels has had Lasha (from Mrs. Duffy's Kennels) for about two years. Lasha now has seven puppies, a first litter of pups from one's pride and joy! What fun!—and how much one can learn!

We are sorry to report that the promising son of Ch. Suzanne of White Way by Ch. Rainier (which Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Adams had sold to the Walter Scott's of Mountain View and which they delivered in person at Christmas time) recently got out of his yard, and being unused to highway traffic was run over and killed, according to R. E. Schmidling of San Francisco. This pup, at about nine months of age had made a good showing in his class at the January Golden Gate Show. Our sympathy to his grieving owners and to Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Adams of Los Angeles who bred him.

Our second Sammy sled team picture shown in this issue was graciously sent us by Mrs. Adams with the following information. The picture was taken in Apple Valley out in the desert near Victorville. The Inn there is a fashionable winter resort. The trainer at the sled is Bob Ward, his companion is Dr. Ivan Steele, dentist of Apple Valley. (It will be remembered that Dr. Steele's Sno-Beau was one of the top winners at Long Beach in June—placing reserve to the Winners Dog, Mr. and Mrs. John Poletti's Ch. Samoyland's Sergei).

Returning to our story—each year they go out to bring Santa to town by dog team. This year they carried gifts from the Inn to the Community Center three miles away, where was held a Christmas party for 300 children who enjoyed playing with the dogs as much as with their new toys.

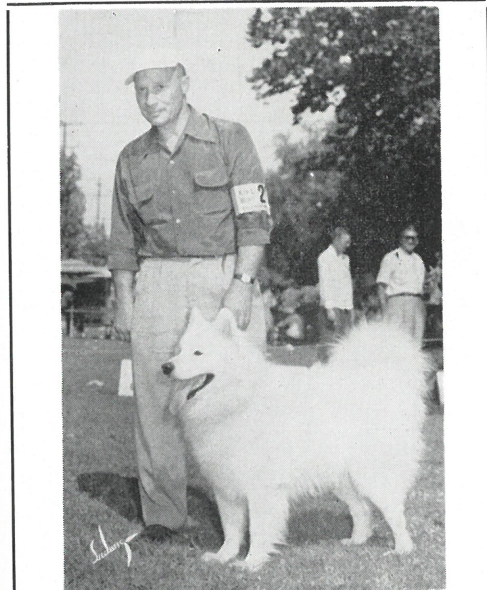

Ch. Starchak led the team, which was composed of his children and grandchildren. The alert dog standing just behind Chat is Ch. Rainier, the one resting is Starchak's Witan (out of Ch. Staryvna of Snowland). The two

The two in the rear are the Adams' two young dogs—on the left is Petrof Suraine and on the right is the pup owned by the Scotts (this pup was Chakova Suraine—the dog that was run down on the highway as previously reported). In the three mile trip the tree pups ran just as willingly as the older dogs.

Another picture which we are happy to reproduce here was sent us by Ruth Bates Young, of Top Acres Kennels in Medway, Ohio. She says that the picture was taken when the pups were seven months old at Fort Knox, before the Allens left for Japan.

The following item from Mrs. Cecil Laughery of Rochester, Illinois, is full of interesting comments, and we believe it might be of help to many of our readers.

Mrs. Laughery says that after waiting for three years she has finally realized a dearest wish—for "out on the porch are five little Sammies! Three 'guys' and two 'gals' born on the stormiest nite ever in the midst of snow, sleet, wind and zero weather. Sherri was restless all day so her box was brought in on the porch where I could keep her warm. At four P.M. Number one arrived at 10 she seemed all thru so I fixed her something to eat and dropped down on the davenport to catch '40 winks'—awakened at one A.M. and all four pups were sleeping peacefully—but, 'came the dawn and when I went to change the bedding again there were five little tails waving.

Three pups already have black on their noses and I'm wondering if kelp is responsible or do Sammies have some black at birth? Silver Kola, the sire and Sherri both have kelp all along. I'm also trying iron tablets on Frosty Kola to see if I can get his nose and eye rims to turn back to their black color. Ever since he was so sick (at nine months old) the black gradually faded out. This fall his nose was so light as to be next to flesh-colored. At the store where I get the kelp they have an 'iron' tablet used for anemia, and since I'd read Iron was for the nose and eye rim coloring, I got some to try on him. His eyerims are turning black again—as are his lips—and his nose is flecked with black so I'm hoping it won't be long now. I've never been able to find anyone who could tell me if prolonged dosage of iron would be of any harm—don't see any reason why it would. Sherri has been given raspberry tea all thru pregnancy to make whelping easier —for her. One of the English kennel owners uses herbs in the raising of all their dogs. This woman recommends several herbs which are available to use here—have been using peppermint leaves (as well as raspberry) tea. She feels that many of the new drugs are harmful to dogs (this we know also) they should never be used except under regular veterinarian advice—and never to excess.

"Peppermint has been a great help in Frosty's trouble—including relieving him of the vomiting attacks. The English breeder (name not given) also recommends feeding only liquids to sick dogs while they have a temperature, recommending honeywater, then honey-milk to resume the feeding. She also feeds lots of vegetable leaves, carrots, parsley, etc. For calcium she gives crushed egg-shells."

(I have found that for a good general aid in keeping dogs in condition—I fully recommend Pervinal.)

Thanks Mrs. Laughery for your letter. Wonder if you will give us the name of the books of which you wrote.

Elizabeth Wyman down in Santa Barbara writes that nearly 12 year old Crystal (Snowy Dawn) is quite a girl! She digs holes in the yard with the help of her daughter Binki and grandson Strazha—and chases cats with as much abandon as ever. Her intelligence is as good as ever too.

Crystal's couch on the porch has a long bolster against the wall. The nights have been very cold recently, so Crystal pulls out the bolster just far enough so that she can get between it and the wall and there she curls up for the night.

Binki as a companion and guardian is hard to beat, says Elizabeth. Binki sleeps in her mother's room. "A few nights ago Mother had a bad nightmare, in which she cried out for some time unable to awaken from the terror of it. Binki came to the rescue and gently nudged Mother until she awakened. You may be sure she received plenty of pats and words of praise and encouragement."

Up in Nova Scotia, Dr. C. Seldon Bezanon's Sams are doing well for our breed. Last summer Dr. Bezanon had a float with five Sams in the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom parade. Out of some hundred floats entered the Sams received first prize. Later in the summer another float entered in the 75th Anniversary parade in honor of the Town of New Glasgow, the Sam float again took first in the parade of 137 floats.

"Just at present we have 13 Sams, of which seven are puppies three and one-half weeks old. 'Terry' (that is Ch. Spark of Altai) was bred to one of his daughters and they seem to have produced the best litter to date. Every pup has marked pigment on the second day." Lots of luck with those pups, folks!

Flash News!

A tragic note has just reached us telling of the sudden death of lovely Imported Suretta of Kobe (Kazack's Michaelof ex Winter Queen of Kobe) the pride and joy of Charles and "Billy" Tucker of Encino, Calif., a victim of the dread "hard-pad."

We voice the sincere sympathy of every Sammy owner (we feel sure) to the Tuckers in their great loss. We trust that Mrs. Maxine Bullock's Nickolas of Rhanor has pulled through his siege of that dread illness which is taking many of our prized Sams.

Perhaps if each of you folks who have experienced this "dreaded curse of dogdom" will write us of your experience with it, your combined reports might help others to know how to learn the first symptoms—and prevent it happening to yours. Please help—won't you? —Vera Lawrence.

P. S.—We understand that the Earl Pulley's Sam made an Obedience score of 195 at Golden Gate show.
