DR. ADRIAN EBELL, a distinguished German scholar, realizing woman's limited opportunity for mental development and the necessity of fitting her to cope more effectively with the strenuous and complex forms of modern life, conceived the idea of establishing an international academy with headquarters at Berlin and tributary chapters in all parts of the world, for the object of developing feminine mentality along serious and scientific lines.

The first of the several chapters on the Pacific Coast bearing his name was the Oakland EBELL, organized in 1876. The Los Angeles EBELL, established in 1894, with its central organization and various study departments, was modeled upon the same lines as this admirably planned Mother Club.

"BUT as the course of life goes on, as its limit comes in sight and we see how short it is, the elective system must come in: Out of the mass of things which we have touched, we must choose these which are ours—the books which we shall read, the men whom we shall know, the power that we shall wield, the pleasure which we shall enjoy, the special point where we shall drop our bit of usefulness into the world's life before we go." — PHILLIPS BROOKS.

Under notes from the field, announcements and reports from the local theaters will be given brief but careful attention.

President's Report

THE YEAR 1911-1912 has witnessed important developments in the financial history of EBELL. At the very beginning of the year, the directors were confronted with the necessity of making some kind of change in the provisions by which we occupied the club house. The lease was about to expire, changes and repairs were imperatively needed, and the Building Association Board were not able to meet even ordinary expenses from the revenue received under the terms of the old lease. Under these circumstances, and in view of the fact that the club already owned over three-fourths of the Building Association stock, it seemed wise to transfer the ownership of the building and ground, and thus consolidate the business management in the hands of one Board.

The change involved the unwinding of considerable legal red tape, but this was successfully accomplished, and on December 28, 1911, in compliance with an order issued by the Superior Court, the deed was executed which made EBELL the owner of her club house.

Even before this time necessary repairs had been undertaken by the new owners, with the consent of the Building Association Board. The worn-out furnace had been replaced by a new one embodying the latest and best ideas in heating and ventilating, and a sanitary drinking fountain was installed in the patio. During the year the front entrance has been changed to obviate the common use of the passageway by automobiles and pedestrians, and several minor changes have been made in other parts of the building. Besides paying for these repairs and extensions, we have purchased nearly four thousand dollars' worth of stock, so that by the end of another year the Club may hope to be entirely free from debt.

[The Ebells of Los Angeles]

The administrative work of the Club has gone forward by the aid of the same offices and committees as hitherto, with two exceptions. The Club last year amended the By-laws so as to provide for an auditor, to be selected by the Directors from their own number, and this office has been filled by Mrs. James Warren Holder, whose efficient service has greatly assisted both the Treasurer and the President, besides providing an additional safeguard against errors in the disbursement of Club funds. A Social Committee was added to the list of Appointed Committees, and has proven a most helpful, and, in view of our increased membership, a really necessary addition to our force of workers.

Article XI of our By-laws, relating to elections, was amended during this year, and the first election under the new plan proved its wisdom by the large vote cast. The tendency of all candidates except the highest to withdraw after the nominating ballot, making that the real election, is a sufficient reason for again amending, so as to provide the same safeguards for the nominating ballot as for the final election.

In the literary and civic work of the Club, our aim has been to adhere to the ideals and purposes of the founders, and yet to keep abreast of the thought of the world, and the changing conditions of club activity. Programs have been planned to provide a due proportion of instruction and entertainment; in the one avoiding both vague, speculative philosophy, and dry, technical discussion; in the other seeking that which elevates and refines while furnishing pleasant recreation.

Remembering that ours is essentially a study club, we have made no effort to initiate civic reforms or found benevolent institutions, to which we might point with pride as our work, but we have attempted by lectures and discussions to promote the growth of civic interest. We believe just this course, by helping the individual woman to a better understanding of public questions, and her relations to social activity, has resulted in benefits to the community quite as valuable as any civic enterprise.

In brief, the officers and directors of EBELL have sought so to direct the Club work as to maintain the position our organization has held from the beginning—a power, working quietly and harmoniously, but effectively, for moral, intellectual and civic advancement. The cordial support and appreciation of our efforts by the members of the Club, and their hearty co-operation in whatever work we have undertaken, have made our labors a pleasure, and brought success when otherwise we must inevitably have failed. So long as this spirit of generous helpfulness and loving loyalty characterizes its membership, so long will the power and influence of EBELL increase.

MRS. EDWARD C. BELLOWS,
President.

Report of the Recording Secretary

ANOTHER twelve months has come and gone, bringing EBELL again to the judgment seat of thoughtful consideration, with the questions—How much has she grown in numbers, intellectual strength, loyalty to one another and practical service to all?

The past year has brought us one hundred seventy-three new members, forty-two of which were temporary; twenty we have lost by resignation, and twelve the Angel of Death has claimed, leaving a total of twelve hundred eighteen regular members. 1218

By her efficient committees EBELL has been guided through the year. The manifold problems of the House Committee have been most effectively solved by Mrs. Edwin A. Curtis and her faithful corps of workers, and our members and guests have ever been assured of welcome by Mrs. B. N. Pratt and her truly named Courtesy Committee. Our Ushers, always watchful for our comfort, our Decorating Committee serving with the gentle ministry of flowers, our Credential Committee the guardian angels of the doorway, and the new Social Committee keeping in personal touch with our members, have created that atmosphere of warm hospitality which characterizes EBELL. To the time and thought of our Program Committee, led by Mrs. John H. Francis, do we owe our thirty-six excellent Monday programs, including a reception and an Arts and Crafts Exhibit. Thirty-three hundred guests have shared these pleasures with us during the year.

We have run the gamut of music from plantation melodies and songs of the Vaterland, through the clear notes of Mr. Meier's violin and Madam Menasco's cello to Kipling's martial songs and the sacred music of oratorio.

History and Educational Methods have been supplemented by discussion of Social Center Work by Edward J. Ward, Factory Inspection by Helen M. Todd, Sex Hygiene, Home Economics and Associated Charity work. To that realm of ethics, sometimes so vague and theoretical, we have been transported by Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Gilman, who discussed the why and wherefore of things right and wrong, while many of these same problems were made warm and personal in the dramatic reading by Mrs. George Goldsmith of Everywoman.

Although we have visited many lands during the year and have seen through the eyes of David Starr Jordan, a prophet of a world peace; although we have laughed at New England's quaint characters and at those across the sea in Dickensland; have been inspired by dramatist and poet from the Celtic fairy lore of Fiona Macleod to the wonderful interpretation of Shakespeare by Professor Southwick; and though beneath our roof have sounded the voices and laughter of children—ours and our foreign neighbors drawn together by the ever-binding spirit of Christmas, these are but fleeting pleasures and somewhat selfish profit, so my report will touch them but lightly and deal rather with the efforts of EBELL along lines which we hope will be of more enduring value.

The Club as a whole has passed resolutions advocating the construction of a road to the California Redwood Grove, thus giving to the people more ready access to another of God's first temples. We have passed resolutions against the White Slave Traffic of our state and of our own city, have endorsed resolutions concerning supervision of street improvements by our City Planning Commission.

At the request of the managers of the Household Show in the fall, the furnishings of a bungalow were chosen and arranged by a Committee of EBELL women who produced a result of unusual artistic merit and practical value.

In the fight Los Angeles citizens are making for a pure milk supply, EBELL has been represented by Dr. Helen Woodroffe on the Pure Milk Commission, and our concern for the care of delinquent boys and girls at the Whittier Industrial School was evinced by the appointment of Mrs. Jay B. Millard to the advisory council of that institution.

The civic interest fostered by our Club has manifested itself in two widely varied committees appointed by the Executive Board. The Committee for Stage Censorship and Elevation of the Drama, composed of Mrs. William L. Jones, Mrs. James W. Holder, Mrs. Edgar L. Swaine, Mrs. Merrill Moore Grigg and Mrs. Frank W. King, investigated quite fully the practicability of an efficient stage censorship and the work of the Drama League, while a committee consisting of Mrs. Sumner P. Hunt, Mrs. John H. Francis, Mrs. William Read, Mrs. Jay B. Millard and Mrs. Charles N. Flint appointed to investigate the conditions of girls in factories and stores, reported most convincingly that a large work lay before Los Angeles club women in advocating and working for higher wages for women, cheaper housing facilities, better places of amusement, and more frequent visitings to beach and country.

In the light opera "Jappyland," a benefit given at Temple Auditorium jointly by EBELL and the Board of the McKinley Boys' Home, EBELL put forth her greatest effort, not only in achieving a great artistic success, but realizing for the Home the sum of $1603.00, $750.00 of which went into the endowment fund, and $853.00 towards a cottage to bear our name.

Through EBELL's Department work and Monday programs she is carrying out her object of individual development, but it is only by giving of her experience, time and thought to those things which make for a better city, and draw together all womankind, that she may write beneath her name, her motto, "I serve."

MRS. JAMES SEARS MONTAGUE,
Recording Secretary.

Annual Report of the General Curator

BELIEVING that all race advancement must proceed from the individual to society, EBELL has always made much of the department work. In order that the varying tastes and interests of twelve hundred club-members may be met and satisfied, nine departments have been organized. The long lists of names reported by the various Secretaries as members of these departments prove their need and their appreciation.

The French Department claims 44 members; Parliamentary Law, 32; Expression, 59; Shakespeare, 83; Art and Travel, 168; Music, 97; Books and Conversation, 155; Drama, 122; and Civics, 100; making a grand total of 860 names. A goodly showing indeed, but this must not be taken to mean that 860 different women attend the departments, for some names occur more than once, a few are found many times. A careful count reduces the enrollment to 481 actual members, or to 40% of the total membership of EBELL.

Statistics are not always tiresome—not if they satisfy curiosity, and it certainly seems interesting to know that of the 481 department members, 292 are enrolled in one department only; 99 attend two departments; 41, three; 20, four; 18, five. Four names occur in each of six departments; 4, in seven; 2, in eight; and 1, in nine. Twelve were temporary members of EBELL, and 37 were admitted to full membership this year. Five instructors were employed at a total cost of $630.00, and books were purchased to the amount of $71.53.

During the department year, 80 papers were prepared and read; 24 readings were given; 47 books and plays, and 38 authors were reviewed. Twenty-two department luncheons furnished variety and afforded relaxation. At each some light literary or musical entertainment added to the social pleasure of the hour.

The Department of French, with Prof. Hector Alliot as Instructor, Miss Marion W. Franklin, Curator, met on twenty-nine Monday mornings to practice French conversation. Some part of the time was given to oral and written composition, with very satisfactory results. Moliere's "Les Précieuses Ridicules" and Pailleron's "Le Monde où l'on s'ennuie" were the books chosen for class reading.

Mrs. Matthew S. Robertson, Curator of the Department of Parliamentary Law, outlined a course for the year which included not only the study of the regular order of procedure, the rank of motions and their relative values with thorough drill and discussion of each, but considered also the organization of societies; the election of officers; the introduction of bills in Congress and in State Legislatures; and every question of parliamentary tactics suggested by the interested and earnest students.

The Department of Expression, Mrs. William L. Jones, Curator, and Mrs. James Warren Holder, assistant, found its time for fourteen Tuesday mornings well taken up with the analytical reading of seven essays in Emerson's "Conduct of Life." This discussion or expression of thought or opinion (they are not always the same) makes for growth, gives self-confidence, allays self-consciousness, and is one of the best features of department work. "Not how much, but how well," is the motto of this department.

The members of the Shakespeare Department, Mrs. Edward North, Instructor, Mrs. William H. Mayne, Curator, while searching the lines of "Othello," "Much Ado About Nothing," and "Cymbeline," for underlying truth-principles, learned something of Shakespeare's philosophy of life; noted the three distinct attitudes toward life represented in these three plays; and perceived that great as Shakespeare had shown the power of evil to be in "Othello," in his more mature "Cymbeline" this baneful influence is completely eclipsed by the greater power of a pure conjugal love.

One hundred sixty-eight ladies in the Department of Art and Travel, Mrs. Edward R. Potter, Curator, made an imaginary "personally conducted" tour of Spain under the guidance of Miss Anna Beckley, who permitted nothing of interest to escape their notice from Gibraltar to Madrid. In fancy they paced dim cathedral aisles, examined museum treasures, or gazed at some of the masterpieces of Murillo and Velasquez. Enough of history, poetry and romance was included to give relief to the description.

Dr. Bruce Gordon Kingsley was Director of the Department of Music, Mrs. Harmon D. Ryus, Curator. At each of the fourteen regular meetings, with a single exception, Dr. Kingsley gave a Wagnerian lecture-recital, the operas interpreted being "Tristan and Isolde," "Tannhäuser," "Lohengrin," and "Die Meistersinger von Nürnberg." The second lecture in February was by request, devoted to "Samson et Delilah" and "Thais." On May twenty-second a special musical program and luncheon completed the year's work.

The wide range of subjects presented in the Books and Conversation Department, Mrs. George Goldsmith, Curator, illustrates the many-sidedness of our literary interests. The serious, the gay, the mystic, the sublime, the critical and the philosophic, all were represented. From the Education of Women as set forth by John Stuart Mill, Ruskin, Merrick, Phillips, and Pierre de Coulevain to Racial Amalgamation as foreshadowed in Mary Antin's "Promised Land" and Max Nordau's "A Question of Honor," the long way was made bright and joyful, or sad and reflective, by the most sublime poetry in all literature, selected from Proverbs, Psalms, Song of Songs, Ruth, Job, and the words of Jesus; by the famous letters of Stevenson, Emerson, Carlyle, Wagner, and Caroline Fox; or by a discriminating study of the latest writings of Shaw, Hauptmann, Sudermann, and William Sharp. Thursday, April the fourth, was fittingly observed by reviewing the old Miracle and Mystery Plays.

Since its organization, Mrs. Ada Henry Van Pelt has been Curator of the Department of Drama. This year Mrs. Mila Tupper Maynard has been instructor. The attendance has greatly increased and the programs have been furnished entirely by members. Twelve British dramatists and fifteen dramas were reviewed. Twelve readings emphasized the more forceful parts, and five lectures by Mrs. Maynard gave the right perspective. The general discussion of facts concerning the drama was stimulated by "Notes from the Field" and the close connection between Drama and Life was made manifest.

That one hundred names should appear on the roster of the Department of Civics organized just one short year ago, speaks eloquently for its timeliness. The Curator, Mrs. James Bert Stearns, adhered to the announced policy of "knowing before doing," and selected for investigation and consideration topics of vital importance to the commonwealth. Women show their appreciation of their enlarged social responsibilities by their eagerness to become informed upon such topics as Ideal Economic Conditions; Good Roads; Society's Responsibility for Women in Industry; How the Poor of Our City Are Housed; Immigrant Traffic; Jails and Penitentiaries; and, not least, the Making of a City Beautiful.

This brief resumé of the year's department work may serve to indicate its scope and importance: for women who read and reflect; who learn to think before they act; who use reason, not impulse, as a guide for civic duty, must make safer and saner citizens.

Respectfully submitted.

MRS. WILLIAM READ,
