

Clubs Play Part In Student Life

Now that school is under way, students are thinking about the clubs they would like to join. Louisville offers ten clubs with programs of special service to the school, advancement of special interests, and recreation as their purposes.

Junior and senior girls are eligible for membership in the Tri-Hi-Y Club. This is classed as a social and service club and membership is limited to 50 girls. High point of the year is the Sweetheart Dance. A group of senior girls who meet especially high standards are honored each spring as honor girls. Mrs. Dora Shamblen is advisor.

The Friendship Club has a similar program for freshman and sophomore girls. Each year the club sponsors Courtesy Week which is climaxed by a dance.

Social and service clubs for boys only are the Senior Hi-Y for juniors and seniors and the Junior Hi-Y for freshmen and sophomores. Mr. James McDougal and Mr. Roy Matheny advise these organizations. Membership is limited. High spots on the calendar are the Hi-Y Variety Show and dances.

Special interest clubs include Science, with Mr. Herman Lutz as advisor; Latin, with Mr. Richard Mickley as advisor; Rostronian, with Mr. Karl Boyle as advisor; Rifle with Mr. Mickley; Commercial, with Mr. Earl Walter and Mrs. Homer Norris; and Home Ec. with Mrs. George Burke.

Tri-Hi-Y, Friendship, Junior Hi-Y and Senior Hi-Y meet at 8 p.m. on club nights. The others, except for Rifle and Latin meet at 7 p.m. All are open to freshmen except Rostronian.

Featuring the Seniors And Their Cars

Peering under the hood of Bob Anania's car to see what makes it run so smoothly are (clockwise) Larry Stump, Gary Christy, Danny Zoba, and Bob Anania.

If you walk down the streets of Louisville today and hear what sounds like a tank coming down the street, don't be alarmed, it's only Danny Zoba in his 1930 Model A Ford coupe. Dan's car is equipped with a 1932 Ford truck motor and his top speed is 65 mph. A little work here and there on the interior, motor, and body, and it runs as good now as back in the thirties.

Right along with Danny's, we have Bob Anania's 1930 Model A 2-door Sedan. Bob got his car from a friend of his who is also interested in old cars. The interior work on his car consisted of new upholstery, the side panel, doors, top, and new carpet. All this he did himself. Many have offered to buy it, but Bob says, "Not for sale."

Larry Stump got himself a '48 Chevy convertible which needed a little work.

But patience, a lot of time, and hard work shows up. With the motor, transmission, and gears given a good going over by Larry and his brother, a new top, paint job, tires, and fiesta props, you've really got a fine looking car.

"The only way to rebuild a car is from the brakes up," said Gary Christy, and that's what he is doing with his '36 5-window Ford coupe. He also plans to drop a late model OHV engine. This will take long hours of work, but he'll really have something when he's done, he feels.

When asked, "Do you think high school students should drive to school?" all agreed, for most of them live outside the city limits. Are teenagers good drivers? All were unanimous in answering this question — YES!

Steppin' In Style

by Linda Samblanet

Ding, Dong! Ding, Dong! Yes, school is once again back in session with the students showing off their new clothes that they have bought with their summer earnings or a donation from Dad and Mom.

Let's start the new school year off on the right foot. On those feet (if you are a girl!) might be a new trend—tennis shoes. The fad seems to have sprung from the television show, Bandstand.

Also back in style are the saddle oxfords which feature now a black collar and an Ivy League Buckle in the back.

Still popular, of course, are the cork, suede, and kid woodchucks in a variety of colors to fit into every girl's wardrobe.

British walkers and bucks seem to be dominating the footlines for the boys this year. The style's the same—only the shine is changed!

Just a word to the wise. Not only do shoes last longer when they are properly cared for, but they also tell a lot about your personality.

So much for footwear fashions for this issue. Until next time, remember to wear a smile and step in style.
