

metal-to-metal bonding is playing a big part in the fabrication of the arrow. This big autoclave "pressure-cooks" the metals together after they have been coated with a special adhesive. Bonding process means added strength and no rivets.

6551