

The book cover is a collage of three distinct images. The top image shows a black jet with orange wings and tail, flying over a green, hilly landscape. The word 'NAVY' is written in white on the orange tail fin. The middle image is a yellow banner with the word 'AND' in red and 'MISSILES' in black. The bottom image shows a black missile being launched from a silo, with a large plume of white smoke and fire. The word 'JET'S' is written in large yellow letters on the left side of the cover.
