What role did the CIA play in the scrapping of the Arrow? Who in our government was involved in that decision? What did Canada get in return for cancelling the Arrow? What happened to the engineers who worked on the project? And did Arrow technology find its way into the American Stealth fighter/bomber programme?

Now in Storms of Controversy Palmiro Campagna reveals there was much more to the scrubbing of the sophisticated Arrow than design flaws, cost overruns, and obsolescence, the reasons given by federal government officials to justify their decision.

Clearly, step by step, using never-before-released documents concerning the Arrow, Campagna details a political web of intrigue among the Tory government, the Canadian and American military, and the CIA.

PALMIRO CAMPAGNA works for the Department of National Defence in Ottawa and has acted as the Canadian representative to NATO in the area of electromagnetics in military aircraft.
