

CF-100 In A Loop

First time ever taken on this continent, the breath-taking (literally) pictures herewith of Avro Canada's CF-100 looping the loop are the result of daring flying, painstaking planning and skilled photography under near-blackout conditions. (See story on first page, Second Section.) The combined operation was a salute to the completion, ahead of schedule, of the production contract for the Mk. 3 CF-100 now in multi-squadron service with the RCAF. Some 32 planes have come off the line since the announced first contract. Previously 12 had been produced by
