Dear Mr. Foley,

I would be grateful if you would pass on these letters to the family of Christa. The children here were so upset by it all and wanted to write. Here in England everyone has followed the space shuttle with much interest and were devastated when we saw the accident on television. There isn't really much to say except how very sorry everyone here is.

I hope your students soon recover from their shock. It was a great honour for them to know Christa. She did seem a very special teacher.

Thank you for your help.

Yours sincerely,
(Mrs) Gill Swift.

Dear Friend

I hope you can get over your sadness. When I heard the sad news on the television I felt very sorry for all the family. It must of been a terrible shock for the shuttle to blow up like that. All my family said it was terrible for all the people. I know that Jesus will take care of them. They will always be watching over you. They will always take care of you even though you can't see them.

Dear Friend

I am deeply sorry about what happened to Christa. I bet it is difficult to believe it when you saw the space craft blow up. At least she won't be on her own because she will be with the other six crew. I suppose she would feel better up in heaven with God than alive and crippled in a bed or a wheel chair.
