

Justine Calland age 10
Barton Junior school
~~Torquay~~ Torquay Devon
England Postcode TQ2. 8EX
3/2/86

To the children of U.S.A

May I express on behalf of all children in our school, indeed all the children in the country, our deep sadness of the loss of your teacher and the astronauts in their quest for knowledge. Although we are many miles apart television brings us closer to world affairs, and has we saw the terrible accident, it brings home the risks that have to be taken to further science.

When we look back over history many brave people lost their lives doing these sort of brave acts. But nobody was able to see or hear what they endured, as no television or wireless was here.

Think of the men that set sail from this country in ships that no one would attempt to do to-day, to arrive in U.S.A. Many lost their lives that others might succeed.

This is what has happened since man arrived on earth, and must carry on to make life better.

The heroes of this space accident were the children of yesterday, who knows what the children of today will do tomorrow, but I expect some of them will be heroes aswell.

We as children suffer all the time but we must carry on where others left off.

Please accept this letter of deep sympathy to all, and hope that we will honour these brave people, and console the relatives in their grief

Yours sincerely
Justine Calland

~~PMQ/ES~~

~~Ann Coxon~~

~~Amarda Sedgel~~

Angela Squirrel

~~Casey~~

~~Charl Summers~~

~~Ponna Sheppard~~

~~Sarah Pollard~~

~~Sam Corbett~~

~~Li Lash~~

~~Mathew Nicola Helliwell~~

~~Chloe Mitchell~~

~~Ju Bates~~

~~Victoria Mortimore~~

~~Eta Humphries~~

~~Evelyn King~~

~~Eve Stewart~~

~~Maggie Cane~~

~~Alicia Morgan-Richards~~

~~Sarah Bailey Ann Fisher~~

~~Nick Bell~~

~~Tracy Perry~~

~~Nell Hulme~~

~~A. Reeves~~

~~J.P. Holmes~~

By air mail
Par avion

TO

THE HEAD-MASTER / MISTRESS

CONCORD HIGH SCHOOL
NEW HAMPSHIRE

U.S.A.

