Sir,

Through this letter, I wish to share the pain and anguish of the pupils of your school in particular and of the American nation, in general, caused by the tragic death of Christa McAuliffe, your school teacher. We we shared to watch on our TV Challenger bursting into flames and smoke killing all the seven 'heroes' of the mankind. Moments earlier, they had boarded the space-shuttle beaming with smiles and confidence. But in spite of all our scientific and technological development, we are still far from perfection and fool-proof systems. We pray God grant all the departed souls with peace.

Also, I'd like some teacher from your school as a pen friend. Me, a high school Science-Maths teacher, aged 39; married, interested in Indo-U.S. bilateral relations, nuclear disarmaments, plight of the 3rd world countries vs the prosperous West and many educational problems. I'd like to exchange views on all these.

Even correspondence of some students is also welcome.

Looking forward to a suitable response,

Thanking you,

Yours truly,
R. C. Shanno
