

*With Sincere
Sympathy
From
All Of Us*

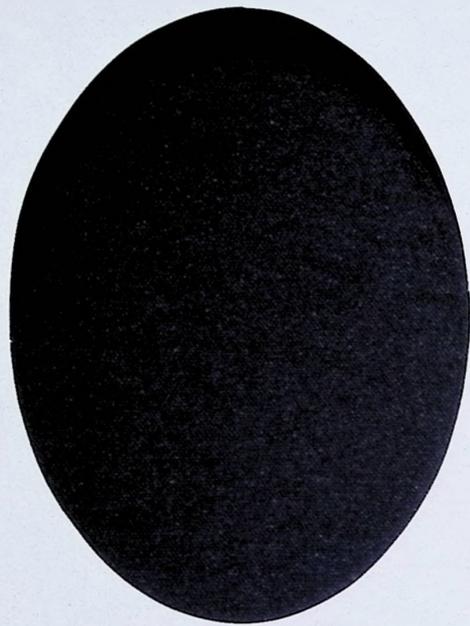

There's a dawn after every darkness
No matter how deep the night,
When the sun comes up in its splendor
& spreading its hope and its light...

So no matter how deeply we're grieving—
And wondering how we can go on—
We are promised a brighter tomorrow
When the darkness gives way to the dawn.

*It's very hard to put in words
The things we'd like to say
Or tell you of the sympathy
That's in our hearts today...*

*But we hope that as you read this
You will know how much we care
And the thought will make your sorrow
Somewhat easier to bear*
