My name is Hidenobu Miyachi. I have learned English since four years. Now, I can understand English a little. When I knew the sad news. I was sorry to hear about your teacher and what happened to her in the space shuttle challenger. No matter where I go, I'll never forget your teacher. I'll cry out to NASA "Please correct whatever small mistakes I made". It is necessary for us to look into the matter more carefully.

Oh! I have no time to write the letter.

My English is not the best. I'm sorry - please forgive me. Don't give up! Hang in There!

Dear students of Mrs. Christa McAuliffe:

Please let me introduce myself first. I'm a 16 year-old girl live in Japan. My name is Satoko Yoshihara. I have a penpal in America, so I was very surprised to hear what happened to the Space Shuttle "Challenger", and very very sad to hear about your teacher.

We in Japan were also shocked to hear the news about "Challenger" but I'm sure it was a bigger shock for you. It was about 7 o'clock in the morning when it happened. On Japanese newspapers, there was a picture your teacher was smiling .....

Please know that our prayers are with you. It seems like our dreams as human beings have been somewhat lost, but I hope that through the heroic efforts of your teacher, your hearts will be comforted.

Please cheer up and hang in there!

Hello, I was very sorry to hear about teacher and what happened to her on the Space Shuttle.

There is a Japanese Spaceman in my town.

He was to get in the Space Shuttle in 1988. I was looking forward to the day when he goes to the Space.

And, after such an terrible accident,
I yet wish he would goto the Space,
Because I guess the spacemen who got in the Space Shuttle which bursted also hope we, human beings, go to

Dear students of Mrs. Christa McAuliffe.

I am Hikaru Imanishi. I was sorry to hear about your teacher and what happened to her in the Space Shuttle Challenger. I can hardly write English without consulting a dictionary, so my English composition is not good. For all I know, I may be wrong. But don't laugh, please. When it was happening, I was surprised. There still remains much for Japan to learn from the U.S.A. This happening was a bigger shock for you. But, unless you abandon many other things, you can never accomplish a great task. I think your teacher must have been a wonderful person. I'm sure you will miss her. Lastly, I write the Japanese language, including lamentation.

この悲みに負けずに、これならも元氣張って下さい。

(Don't give in the sad news, and hold out, please.)

Dear students of Mrs. Christa McAuliffe

My name is Satoshi Kobayashi. I live in Japan.

I'm a high school student, and I'm 16 years old.

Our English teacher is American named Jeff Hickey from Utah.

He asked us to write a letter for Mrs. McAuliffe's students.

Therefore I write you this letter. I'm sorry my English is far from being perfect. I hope I managed to make myself understood in English.

I was very surprised to hear the news about accident of Space Shuttle Challenger and your teacher Mrs. Christa McAuliffe.

The accident happened unexpectedly. How did you feel?

Perhaps I feel the way you would. I'm very sad.

I think you too. Space Shuttle is world's dream.

But the dream was shattered by the fearful sound.

I think your teacher must have been a wonderful person.

I'm sure you miss her. Sadder still watch her die than never to have known her. I've never seen her.

But I know she is great. She is today's heroine not only America but also all the world.

We all miss her and other six pilots.

We will never forget them.

I think they have gone to Heaven and looking us from Heaven, so don't worry.

I'm very sorry that perhaps I've mistaken.

Because My English is very very far from being perfect.

I can speak and write English a little bit, but that all.

Perhaps there are many mistakes in the letter. But don't care!
