Dear Students,

We are sorry about your teacher Mrs. Christa Mc Auliffe. We were terrified when we heard about the bad news. When the ceremony came on television my friend started to cry.

Primary six's teacher Mr. Foley wrote a special song about the Challenger Seven. He sang it in the assembly this morning.

When I heard about it I felt like it was somebody from Bermuda. We all prayed when they prayed on the television.

Sincerely
Lisa G. B.

Dear Students,

We are very sorry that you had to lose your teacher, Mrs. McAuliffe. It was a very sad time for everybody when the shuttle blew-up in the sky. If Mrs. McAuliffe wrote to you or sent you a picture I advise you to treasure it. Mrs. McAuliffe told you to aim for the stars. Even though she is gone, that doesn't mean you have to stop aiming.

A teacher here at East End school named Mr. Foley, wrote a song about the space shuttle Challenger. We all know you miss her very much. There is one thing you can do, keep her in your memory.

From Antoine.

Dear Students,

I saw the space shuttle crash on tv. I was terribly sorry to hear about the Challenger. Many people who heard about the Challenger were upset too. I was also upset to hear about Mrs. Christina Mc. Aubiffe who was terribly killed I know you are upset about your teacher. But when you hear the song that my P.E Teacher wrote you won't be so upset.

When I heard about the Challenger and then heard the song I felt comforted. I will give you the song later in the term. I know she means a lot to you.

Yours truly,
Tani Simmons.

Dear Students,

We are so sorry to hear about what happened to your teacher, Mrs. Christa McAuliffe and all of the astronauts. She was a very brave astronaut. We will always remember her. We wish that God will bless her family. It felt like it was somebody I know in Bermuda. Mr. Foley, your gym teacher, wrote a special song about the Challenger Seven called, "A Tribute to Challenger Seven."

I know she always told you to aim high and that you can be anything you want if you try. She was a very happy woman, and I know she was a very good teacher. I know you miss her, and so do I.

Sincerely,
Janica.

Dear Students,

I have seen the space shuttle catch on fire with black smoke covering it. I saw it on Television. And I am sorry about Ms. Ouliffe, your school teacher because I heard she was an important woman and she cared about you. I feel sad about it and I know you do too.

Then the next morning we prayed about you and your teacher. And the people down in Bermuda are still praying for you.

Then a teacher name Mr. Foley wrote a special song and the people down in Bermuda loves you.

Love,
Shermel.

Dear Students,

We were sorry to hear about your teacher, Christa McRidiffe in the Shuttle crash. I hope that you don't forget about her. To the students that don't have a teacher, I hope that you get one soon. I know nobody can replace Mrs. Christa McRidiffe. Christa was a brave American explorer. I hope Christa's two children will get along good without their mother, who loved them.

In East End school yesterday a teacher named Mr. Foley wrote a song called 'A Tribute to Challenger Seven' He sang the song today January 31, 1986.

Christa was a happy person. Every time we saw her on T.V. she was smiling. I know all the students at Concord High School miss her. My Class prayed for all of you.

Tom,
Bennis.

Dear Students,
We are sorry about the space shuttle disaster. We are sorry about your teacher, Mrs. Christa Mc. Cliffe too. She was a brave space traveller. Mr. Foley, primary six teacher and pianist wrote a special song about the Challenger seven.

Mrs. Mc. Cliffe always said to her students to aim high and you can be what you want to be. She was a happy person. We know she cared about you. I know you miss her.

Sincerely,
Daniel.
