Dear Concord High School,

I am very sorry to hear about your teacher. I hear she was a very nice person. To bad she had to die so soon. I feel sorry for the 2 children that she left behind.

I am 10 years old and in grade 5. My name is Oceana Leus. Some of my hobbies are sewing, riding my bike, playing with my 8 year old sister. Her name is Skye. I was born here and we moved away until the summer of 1985. We moved here again. It's fun in school. I guess you don't say that anymore.

It is fun here. We have a coho derby here which means we have a fishing derby. We live next to the Pacific Ocean. Our school is right next to the road by the water. We have gorgeous sunsets and sunrises here sometimes the sky looks like it's burning up.

Well I'm sorry again for your teacher

Yours Sincerely,

Dear Concord High School,

I am very sorry about what happened to your teacher. I understand how you feel. I hope your new teacher is nice. It was a very big shock for everybody. I am 10 years old and in grade 5 and have a nice teacher. My hobbies are hockey, soccer, and models. My best friend is Reid Handley. He is the principal's son. Sandspit is a small town. The population is about 700 people. Most of them are loggers. Some of the fish that are caught are helibut, coho, sockeye, herring and spring salmon. During the summer you can see whales. One of the events in the summer is Loggers Sports Day. Some of the things that are there are pole climbing, log barreling, and axe throwing. At the end they give out prizes to the men with the most points. The man with the most points becomes King Logger.

This event lasts all day. Another big event is the Coho Derby, all is when people go fishing for salmon and weigh them in to see who wins. The person with the heaviest fish wins. This year 1st prize was $600 dollars. The fish that won was 21 pounds and was caught by Jacques Habberg. I am sorry about your teacher.

EXPO

The 1986
World Exposition
Vancouver
British Columbia, Canada
May 2 - October 13, 1986

EXPO 86

a concept so exciting
a country so big
a setting so spectacular, you'll never forget the celebration of the century on land, on water and in the air.

Come Share the Wonders of the World in Motion

Aeons ago our ancestors walked upright for the first time on the vast savannas of East Africa.

It was the beginning of a great and perilous journey through millions of years of trial and error, fortune and misfortune. A journey destined to culminate in the vastness of space at some future date as remote as its beginning.

As we pause on the doorstep of the universe, it is timely to reflect how far we have come together and how far we have yet to travel.

Accordingly, you are invited to EXPO 86, a World Exposition on Transportation and Communications to be held in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada between May 2 and October 13, 1986.

Sanctioned by the International Bureau of Expositions and sponsored by the Government of Canada, EXPO 86 will be presented by the Government and people of British Columbia.

A magnificent milestone on the road to the future, a sparkling jewel in the heart of Canada's most beautiful city. EXPO 86 promises to be the celebration of the century on land, on water and in the air.

EXPO 86: An event of historic significance and universal interest

A salute to past achievement, a celebration of present progress and a signpost to the future, EXPO 86 will provide a compelling chronicle of "Man in Motion" from his earliest steps to the conquest of space.

The theme could not be more timely or more relevant to the daily lives and future of people everywhere. Transportation and communications are as vital to our progress and survival as food and water.

EXPO 86 will be the largest special category World Exposition ever staged in North America and the first to focus on transportation and communications. A bona fide attempt to expand man's knowledge, it will seek new ways to overcome the barriers of time and space, new methods of moving people, goods and ideas.

At EXPO 86 the marvels of modern technology will vie with stirring re-enactments of past travels as mankind's remarkable odyssey unfolds in a kaleidoscope of colour, activity and excitement.

A spectacular showcase for the technical achievements of more than a hundred countries, corporations, states and provinces, EXPO 86 will also provide an international forum for the world's foremost scholars and scientists, its leading educators, artists, inventors and technicians, in which to discuss, demonstrate and share their varied visions of the future.

Most important, EXPO 86 will open the door to tomorrow for millions of people from every corner of the globe and enable them to put the latest innovations in transportation and communications to the test. To operate them, ride in them and realize for themselves the profound influence of such technology on the evolution of our world.

All this and more will have its place in the World of EXPO 86.

EXPO 86: You must see it. You've got to be there

EXPO 86 will be one of the greatest attractions the world is likely to see in this decade and millions of people of every age and interest are expected to visit the grounds between May 2 and October 13, 1986.

Not since Expo 67 in Montreal, still regarded as one of the most successful expositions ever staged, has Canada hosted an event of such international scope and importance.

Centred in the magnificent natural surroundings of Vancouver, the spirit of 86 will spill over into every community in British Columbia. Each will add its own unique interpretation of "Man in Motion" to the galaxy of on-site attractions and special events.

A marvellous mix of science and showmanship, there will be something for everyone. Air shows and sea festivals. Races, regattas and rodeos — on foot, in boats, planes, balloons and other vehicles of every type and vintage. There will be tall ships, tattoos, parades and musical spectacles — even a space shuttle landing is possible.

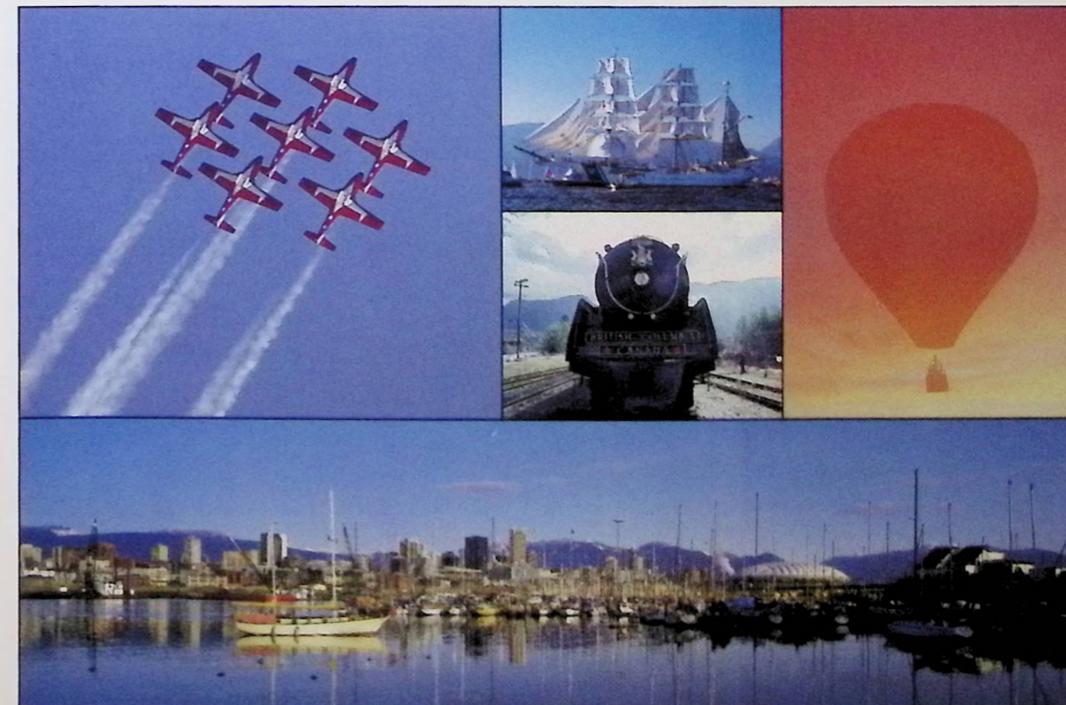

The EXPO celebrations will enliven the 100th Anniversary of the City of Vancouver and EXPO 86 will sponsor a World Festival of the Performing Arts as well as Entertainment 86, an incredible on-site package of over 12,000 performances by some of today's brightest international stars. The EXPO 86 Sport Program, a continuous round of international sports activities and contests, will provide additional thrills and excitement.

For the young, EXPO 86 will offer a tantalizing glimpse of both the past and the future. For business people it will be a unique international showcase of time and money-saving ways to move people, goods and ideas. For the scientist and engineer, a laboratory packed with possibilities.

For everyone it will present a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to experience the beauty and romance, the challenge and excitement of "Man in Motion".

You must see it. You've got to be there.

EXPO 86: The celebration of the century on land, on water and in the air
May 2 - October 13, 1986

THE SITE: Centre of Excitement in 1986

Located on a magnificent 68 hectare (170 acre) site which curves along the waterfront in the heart of Canada's most beautiful city, EXPO 86 will be as visually spectacular as it is convenient to all that Vancouver has to offer.

An integral part of British Columbia Place, North America's largest and most ambitious redevelopment project, the principal site will be linked by state-of-the-art light rapid transit to Canada Place, the magnificent Canadian host pavilion and cruise ship facility on the other side of the city centre. This will expand Expo into the downtown core and provide berths for visiting tall ships as well as an excellent vantage point for rail, deep sea and amphibious demonstrations.

Visitors will be able to move from one "part of the world" to another on the Exposition grounds. In this marvellous mosaic of interest and activity, more than 40 nations plus Canadian provinces and territories and major American state governments will showcase their technology, culture and cuisine in an impressive array of pavilions and exhibits. National and multi-national corporations will provide additional diversity and excitement.

Accessible by land, sea and air, EXPO 86 will be the focus of an incredible variety of transportation facilities including water taxis, ferries, planes, hydrofoils, moving sidewalks, aerial tramways — even dirigibles are being considered. Conventional bus, train and automobile as well as the new light rapid transit system will all contribute to the easy movement of visitors to and from the grounds.

EXPO 86, will be a time for Vancouver and all of British Columbia to celebrate on land, on water and in the air.

THE CITY: Spectacular Setting for EXPO 86

Canada's gateway to the Pacific, Vancouver is the nation's third largest and most beautiful city. Home to more than a million people of virtually every race and origin, it has become the largest and busiest port on the west coast of the Americas, hub of a transportation and communications system covering North and South America and the vast Pacific Rim.

One of the finest places in the world to live and work, Vancouver's ski slopes and sandy beaches, its magnificent parks and island studded waterways, its exciting sports and entertainment facilities provide a magnet for 8 to 10 million visitors every year.

Not surprisingly, the city's hotel and convention facilities are among the most attractive and sophisticated in North America; its multi-modal transportation as varied as its topography. Equidistant from Europe and the Orient, Vancouver is served by more than a dozen domestic and international airlines offering direct service across Canada and beyond to virtually every country and continent.

Just 50 kilometres (31 miles) from the United States border, Vancouver is within easy reach of Seattle, San Francisco and Los Angeles. The city is also the western terminus for several transcontinental road and railway systems as well as British Columbia's own extensive transportation systems.

No city could provide a more splendid or appropriate site for a World Exposition on transportation and communications. No province offers a more hospitable or exhilarating environment for the millions of visitors who will journey here to experience EXPO 86.

EXPO 86: 165 days of pure enchantment

EXPO 86 will not only bring the world to Vancouver, it will offer the world a 5½ month long feast of art and entertainment with drama, dance, opera and symphony vying for the spotlight with pop stars, folkloric troupes and jazz musicians.

The 1986 World Festival will cater to a broad spectrum of tastes and interests; more than 250 performances by the great classical companies and performers of our time as well as the most popular new artists and entertainers will be presented.

Forty or more groups, representing the countries involved in EXPO 86 are invited to participate in addition to Canada's own artistic contribution. Vancouver boasts many professional theatre and opera, chamber music and choral societies as well as a highly acclaimed symphony orchestra.

The city's major performing arts centre, the 2,800 seat Queen Elizabeth Theatre will be used primarily for dance, opera, musicals and popular entertainment. The adjacent 650 seat Playhouse offers a more intimate venue for theatre, chamber music and dance while the splendidly restored Orpheum concert hall will provide a further 2,800 seats for symphony, recitals and other musical attractions.

In addition to the World

Festival, EXPO 86 will offer a continuous round of spectacular entertainment in numerous special on-site facilities ranging in capacity from 200 to 5,000 seats and in the B.C. Place Stadium, a 60,000 seat dome covered amphitheatre.

The big attraction for many visitors will be the chance to return again and again to enjoy some of the 12,000 performances by artists from every continent and culture. There will be wide ranging folklife and childrens' festivals as well as a great number of popular musical and entertainment spectacles.

A constantly moving cavalcade of clowns, jugglers, minstrels and dancers will provide additional on site colour and excitement. There will be spontaneous gatherings of amateur artists and street performers all evoking the marvellous diversity and exuberance of a great international gathering.

You are invited to join us for the experience of a lifetime — 165 days of joyous entertainment.

Super, Natural Attractions enroute to Eighty-Six

Canada's Pacific coast meanders for 25 thousand kilometers from the United States border to the Alaska Panhandle. In this ever-green wonderland earth, sea and sky are married in myriad sunkissed fjords and islands, an endless tapestry of magnificent mountain peaks and valleys.

Here sailed the early Spanish explorers Quadra, Galiano and Perez. Here, in 1778, the great English explorer, Captain James Cook, became the first European to set foot on the soil of British Columbia. Not long after, Captain George Vancouver, would chart the coast and give his name to the splendid harbour where, in this century, one of the most beautiful cities in the world has risen from the forest.

British Columbia, Canada's third largest province, encompasses nearly a million square kilometres of the world's most diverse and dramatic scenery. As big as Germany, France, the Netherlands, Belgium and Austria combined, it could as easily accommodate the U.S. Pacific coast states of Washington, Oregon and California.

Within this vast and varied playground visitors can enjoy an altogether different vacation experience enroute to EXPO 86.

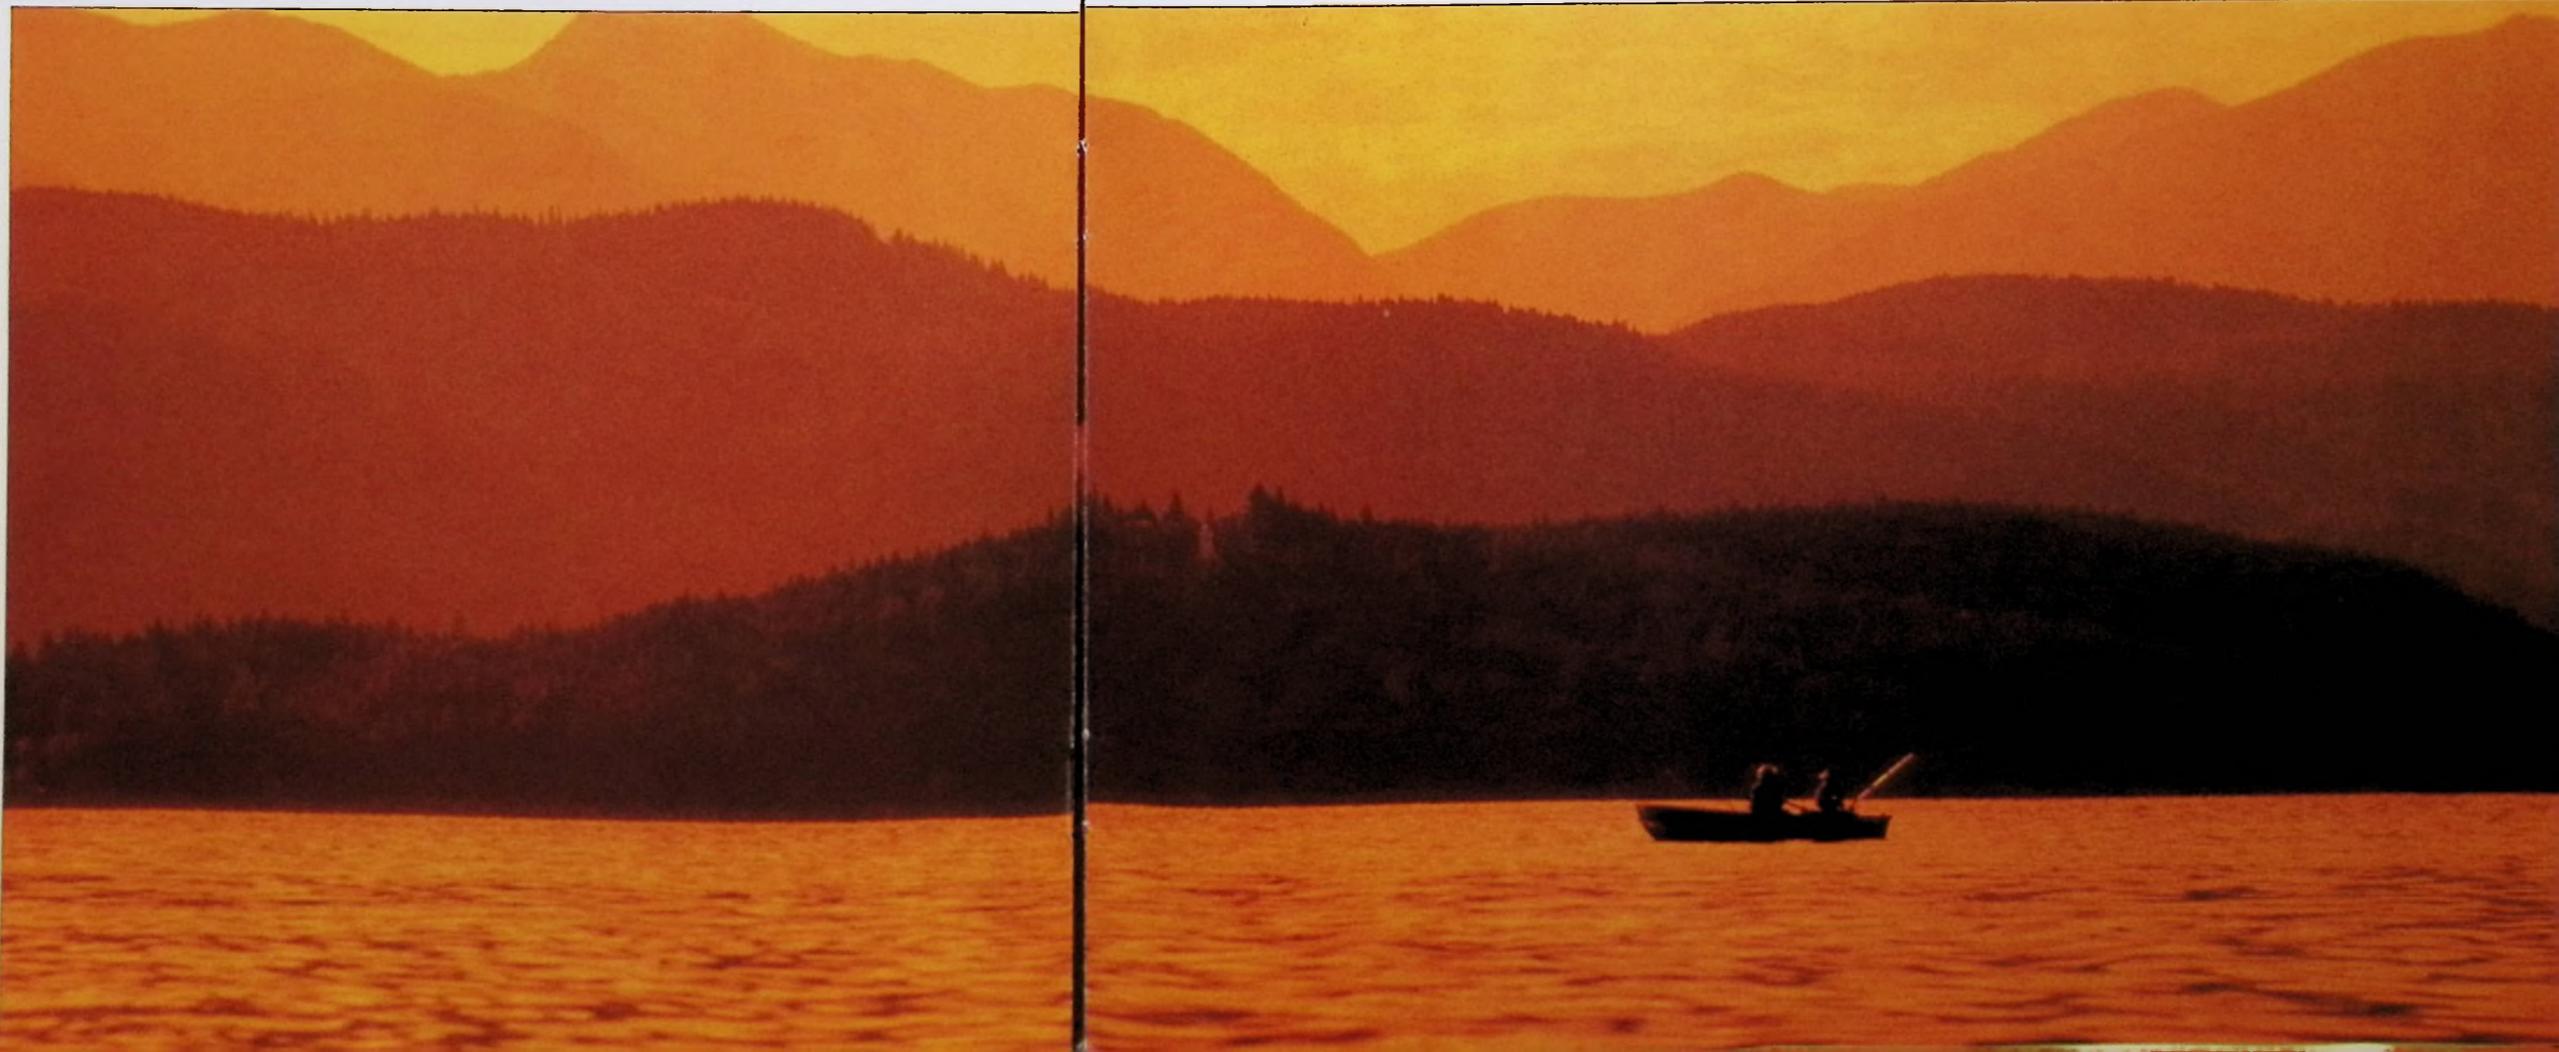

In British Columbia anything is possible. Skiing, sailing and tennis all on the same spring day, all within minutes of downtown Vancouver. And everything is accessible from the glitter and sophistication of the big city to the total serenity of a wilderness lake or a Rocky Mountain peak in one of the province's 370 parks.

Sail the picturesque Gulf Islands, explore a lively "ghost" town like Barkerville, take part in an Indian Pow Wow or a wild west rodeo. For real thrills shoot the mighty Fraser rapids in a raft, fish for world's biggest salmon, ski some of North America's highest mountains or simply settle down in the sun on a quiet beach in Vancouver. It's all beautiful, all British Columbia.

In a normal year millions of people come to experience British Columbia's supernatural attractions. In 1986 we will add the world for good measure!

EXPO 86: The ultimate trip begins right here

Today we stand at the crossroads, faced with the dual responsibility of improving our global transportation systems while pursuing man's epic explorations in space.

It is a challenge worthy of our best efforts, a voyage of discovery unequalled in the annals of travel.

Where do we go from here? How shall we get there? And what will be the results of our travels?

These are the questions which beckon us into an uncharted yet exciting future. A future in which transportation and com-

EXPO CENTRE

Feel the Excitement of EXPO 86.

Open May 2, 1985

LITHO IN CANADA

The first great attraction at EXPO 86 is here now - a phenomenal 17-storey geodesic sphere - the Expo Centre!
 During 1986 it will be the radiant centrepiece of British Columbia's World Exposition.
 Expo Centre opens, May 2, 1985, one year in advance of the Exposition, and what a showplace it is! Breathtaking exhibits. Dazzling shows and films. Entertainment and information. All with a spectacular vision of mankind's global achievements in transportation and communications, a feel of the exciting theme of the 1986 World Exposition.

Expo Centre is more than a taste of EXPO 86 - an entire experience all on its own. A visit takes you to an exhibition hall of the future, the latest in computer graphics and a 17-storey sculpture. Three theatres take you on adventures you'll never forget! There is an opportunity to visit our waterfront restaurant and shop. An amazing scale model of the entire Expo Centre as Expo takes shape around you.
 So come on a magic ride into tomorrow now. Before the rest of the world arrives. Expo Centre is unlike anything you've ever experienced before.

A visual adventure begins as you approach this glistening steel sphere. An architectural marvel, this brilliant structure is already a Vancouver landmark. And it can only hint at the wonders that await within.

DESIGN FOR 2000 Upon entrance to the exhibition level, there's a main rotunda with a towering, eye-catching light sculpture. As you proceed, you will walk through three environmental concepts.

One will be the City, a preview of how our urbanized, electronic tomorrow might be represented by the continuation of our present way of life.

Another will be Nature, where we work with - rather than exploit - the energies of the natural environment.

A third will be Space, the infinite possibilities of the final frontier, with models and predictions of what life and work might be like out there.

Never before have prototypes of future vehicles and lifestyles been gathered together so stunningly for a glimpse of what awaits us. Fascinating, educational and thought-provoking.

FUTURES THEATRE On your way to the Futures Theatre, you'll be treated to a preshow featuring computer graphics created exclusively for the theme and excitement of Expo Centre.

These sights and sounds will help prepare you for the adventure coming next... the theatre itself is an interactive experience you'll remember.

Set into the arms of each seat are computer buttons allowing you to actually vote on a course of future action as described by a host

This system is linked to an awesome array of laser, film and slide projectors which will compute your decisions and show you the results.

What will the future be?

Each audience decides, and in this space age 300 seat theatre where you participate, the future is ever changing because the choice is yours.

OMNIMAX THEATRE The crowning event is the incredible Omnimax Theatre... the largest in the world. A huge hemispherical screen surrounds the 500 seat audience. Gigantic images, nine times larger than shown on ordinary movie screens, will engulf you with scenes and sounds from all sides.

And what a trip for your imagination! The ultimate film experience, "The Freedom to Move," takes you around the world and puts you in places you would never have thought possible. And with Omnimax everyone is right there in the front seat!

Come and glimpse the future before the rest of the world.

Explore all the magic waiting for you inside Expo Centre and feel the excitement of the 1986 World Exposition: EXPO 86 with over 80 participating nations, provinces, states and corporations promises a showcase of events and exhibits.

EXPO 86, from May 2 to October 13, 1986 when British Columbia hosts the world. This will be the largest and most prestigious event in North America since Expo 67.

Don't miss it for the world!
