Dear Sir,
I have been watching all the news on T.V. since the horrible disaster to "Challenger" last night a man on TV said that it would help the children in their grief, if they would write to the families of the brave seven.

Well, I hope you won't mind passing the enclosed letter on to Mr. Mc Auliffe's family at the appropriate time. I don't know where to write to the others, and we all felt that we knew Christa, so we felt closest to her. We felt her happiness at being chosen for Teacher in Space programme.

I cannot fully understand the depth of your grief, because we didn't know Christa personally, but in a greater way, we did know her, because we felt she was one of us, & that we were going to share in the excitement of her quest.

I keep thinking of the Royal Air Force motto ("please forgive my Latin") "Per Ardua ad Astra" "Thro' hardship to the stars." Well, I know Christa & her companions in life & death have found their stars.

My heartfelt condolences to you & your school & the people of Concorde

Sincerely
Julia Logie
(Mrs. Wm. Logie)
