RONALD REAGAN SPEAKING AT TOWN SHORES OF GULFPORT

Speaking before a gathering of some 15,000, predominantly senior citizens, Ronald Reagan told his audience that the Social Security system is in need of a complete overhaul to correct inequities that, he said, deprive women of benefits they earn and keep recipients from working.

Sparing for the Republican presidential nomination, Reagan said "There is something wrong with a system that won't allow people who want to work to do it after age 65 without giving up the benefits they paid for."
