GREETING

THE 1911 - 1912 Editon of the South Pasadena and Alhambra City Directory is herewith presented to the public and it is believed that it will meet with the hearty approval of all who have occasion to consult it.

The advertisers in this directory represent the energy and push of the community, and it is a pleasure for the publishers to have the opportunity to make the public better acquainted with them through these pages.

The Cities of Alhambra and South Pasadena are so closely connected that the business men have long felt the need of a combined directory, and the publishers of this book have tried to make a directory that will individualize each city and still fill the requirements of a combined City Directory.

Thanks are extended to the patrons for their generous support as well as to all others for their co-operation, without which it would be impossible to publish a reliable directory.

ALHAMBRA

"The Gateway of the San Gabriel Valley"

Alhambra, the City of Homes, is well termed, "The Gateway of the San Gabriel Valley," for through Alhambra passes all the stream of business of this populous and fertile valley.

Alhambra is situated in an ideal spot, three miles from the city limits of Los Angeles and about eight miles from the business section. Distance is no more considered, for the transportation facilities enable residents of Alhamdra to reach Los Angeles as quickly as if they were well within the Los Angeles city limits, and by far more comfortably, as the Pacific Electric Railroad serves us with very frequent car service, and it is well known all over the country that Southern California has the best car service and best car systems in the world.

The city has an abundance of fine water for domestic and irrigating purposes, has splendid drainage and is one of the healthiest places in all California, and, consequently, in the world.

The climate, both winter and summer, is unsurpassed, as we have no cold winds in winter and the summer heat is not felt for reason of the pleasant sea breezes.

The elevation is about 500 feet and the topography of the country is such that there is very little fog and a frost is rarely known.

Alhambra is surrounded with orange and lemon groves, and it is well worth while to spend some time driving along the beautiful drives among the flowers and trees and smell the rich fragrance which is wafted upon the air.

A City of beautiful homes.

No saloons or other questionable resorts. Its social and moral standards are high.

Three steam railway lines and three electric lines.

The best of schools.

Abundance of pure mountain water.

Five and six-room bungalows rent for $15 to $25, larger houses, $25 to $40.

Building lots 50x150 feet on improved streets near schools and churches—$450 to $1250.

Business lots—$35.00 to $200.00 per front foot.

480 feet above sea level.

At the foot of the Sierra Madre mountains, with fine view of "Old Baldy" and the beautiful San Gabriel Valley.

Orange land can be purchased in immediate vicinity for $500.00 per acre. Orchards in full bearing $1000.00 to $2500.00 per acre. Alfalfa land $250.00 per acre.

Truck farmland $500.00 per acre.

One mile west of the San Gabriel Mission.

Thirty miles of cement sidewalks, eighteen miles of improved driveways with attractive parkways and shade trees.

Average yearly rainfall, sixteen inches.

Soil, decomposed granite.

An ideal winter home.

Free mail delivery.

Twelve hundred telephone subscribers.

Eight churches.

Building permits, January 1, 1909, to January 1, 1910—270.

SOUTH PASADENA

This beautiful little city is located in one of the best districts of Southern California, and is so admirably located that it bids fair to become the most thickly populated suburb of Los Angeles. The city is composed of homes of business men who are actively engaged in business either in Los Angeles or their local district, and of those who have retired from the active pursuites, and have desired to settle in a locality where the climate is perfect, the water the best, the social advantages unsurpassed and where one may be close enough to a large city to enjoy all of the advantages and have none of the discomforts.

Property here is not prohibative in price, and the man of small means will find a welcome,and an opportunity of making a home where the school advantages are unsurpassed and where the saloon element does not enter into the calculations of anyone.

South Pasadena is permanently a city of homes.
