CHESTER,

Orange County, N. Y.

A station on the main line of the Erie Railroad, distant 55 miles from New York City. Chester was incorporated in June, 1892, and includes Greycourt, East and West Chester and Chester Village, and has a population of 1,500; W. A. Lawrence becoming President, Messrs. George M. Roe, T. S. Durland and Joseph Durland constituting the first board; also, Board of Water Commissioners. One of the leading industries is the extensive cheese factory of W. A. Lawrence & Son, manufacturers of fancy cream cheese, also a large onion raising district. Chester is beautifully located, its streets are wide, massive elms and maples afford plenty of shade, and has one of the finest water systems to be found in the State, getting its supply from Walton Lake, 5 miles distant; having an area of 127 acres, at an elevation of 254 feet; having a storage capacity of 3½ feet, each foot giving over forty million gallons, through eight miles of pipe. The water works are owned and controlled by the village, the corporation having sold bonds to the amount of $55,000.00 to build the system. They have again proved the advisability of corporate ownership of water works for villages and cities, the rents paying all interest on the bonds and operating expenses beside passing nine hundred dollars per annum to a fund for extension. The average pressure on the mains is over 100 lbs., sufficient to throw a 2 inch stream over any building in the village. Has one hose company, five churches, and a good academy. There is also excellent railroad facilities. The business men are active and wide-awake to all public interests.

HOWLAND HOUSE,

JOSEPH HUNTER, Proprietor.

Chester, Orange Co., N. Y.

THIS HOUSE has been newly furnished throughout, and in so doing the proprietor has carefully considered the comfort of the guests in introducing all the modern conveniences and appliances. It has a double piazza, both front and rear, and contains 40 rooms with closets on each floor. It is located but a short distance from the depot and is headquarters for commercial travelers. The house is also convenient to the post office, telegraph office, churches and schools.

The barn on the premises is of modern design and one of the best in Orange County, well stocked with horses and carriages to suit all trade.

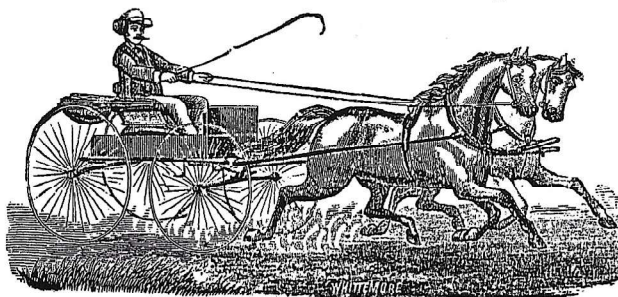

The Howland House is open all the year and can be reached by rail from any direction, the Erie but a short distance away, and the Lehigh and Hudson Railroad, connecting with the Poughkeepsie Bridge Route at Greycourt, only a mile distant.

Hoping to receive your patronage, I remain,

Yours respectfully,

JOSEPH HUNTER.
