

Photograph by HolLynn D'Lil

Because the nation's capital had no accessible transportation in 1977, the San Francisco protesters had to travel in a rented delivery truck with a hydraulic lift.

Photograph by HolLynn D'Lil

The San Francisco protesters held a candlelight vigil outside the White House and even followed President Carter to his church.