My dear Sir,

I have taken the liberty of introducing to you my cousin & very particular friend Mr Gray of Glasgow. It is far from either his wish or mine to impose any task upon your kindness in shewing him attention - for I know how much your time is occupied. But still having such a friend as you at Cambridge I could not allow my kinsman to visit the place without giving him a passport to your notice.

I remain My dear Sir,

With the greatest regard

Yours very truly

J. Campbell
