

Woolly Lindin March 7th 1835

Dear Irving,

I wrote you a few days since but have since received a letter from you by the Tremont which did not come to hand in season - The Logan arrived last night from Whampoa bound to Manilla by which conveyance you will receive your trunk, & the basket containing your sheets, boots & the Spanish & English dictionaries I had of. Now - I send the books, with much pleasure & feel very grateful to you for having given me an opportunity to be of the least service to you. I was not surprised to hear of the death of Mr Durand as I had no idea that he could live long when I left Manilla. My respects to all our friends particularly to those you say you are afraid to visit. Tell for me to friends Edward & hear there is a letter from him for me at Canton & as we are now weighing anchor for Whampoa I shall soon receive it & will send an answer by the first opportunity. I send this by the Logan with your baggage & again sincerely congratulate you on your present prospects

Believe me to be truly yr friend

Sir I will say a few words as time will allow. I was pleased to hear you was pleasantly situated hope you may remain so you have left of me no doubt you will find as comfortable I have been at Macao some Honk Kong 2 night giving my respects to Mr. Green
Mr. Brown

Yours Samuel Lamberton

Dear Sir

Excuse the brevity of this. I want to your prescriptions & think God is in a state of convalescence. And remain your

Sincerely & I well wisher

E. Forham

P.S. If you have an opportunity a few lines from you would prove very acceptable
