

I Cornelia Beckman of the Town &c. do make & publish this my last Will & Testament &c.
First, I give & bequeath unto my Grand daughter Cornelia Hammond, all my household furniture, together with the horns, stock of cattle, and farming utensils on the farm on which I now reside, to her heirs and assigns forever.

I do also, give & bequeath all my real & personal estate (Except what I have hereby given & bequeathed to my grand daughter Cornelia Hammond, as above mentioned & expressed) to my Son Stephen D. Beckman, my daughter Ann De Peyster & my Grand daughter Cornelia Hammond, share & share alike, and to their heirs & assigns forever. And I do hereby appoint Nathaniel Bayles & George W. Carter my executors, & this my last will & testament.

In Witness Whereof, &c. the 13.th day of October 1840

Witness

John H. Birdsell

Joseph Baker

William Bunnell

Cornelia Beckman (S.P.)

By advertising to the P^{re}, Put in the above Copy, It is clear, that Mr. Bayles did not write out every word — but the bequeathing parts, & the giving parts appear to be I doubt not, an entire & full, ~~without any~~ Mr. Tompkins might treat it as a full copy — leaving a sufficient Blanks at the P^{re} to be filled in afterwards, which we can do at any time from Mr. Bayles, or Mr. Tompkins can get the original ^{revised} and compare off, & compare with, & I will wonder the above copy

Copy of Mrs Berkman's
will