Many Novem 10 - 1811

I intended to have left here this morning with the Steam Boat, but the rain is so great that I have deferred it until Thursday next, when I will return home with the Chancellor, if the weather is very calm and clear you may let Pease meet me at the Landing (Mrs Huntens) about nine O'clock ^{at night} should I not be there before ten he need not wait, but come down the next morning — He had better come down with the Gig — I wish you would see that the grape vines in the Garden are covered first with straw and then with ground to keep them from freezing Mrs Van Cortlandt is yet quite distressed at Marys death — Givree is very well —

I am your friend,

Wm W Miller
