

J. L. H. conc^d. S^r. Marks.
Sept 26, 1836

Monday morning

My dear sir,

I know you are above the littleness of professional Coquetry, and you will therefore understand correctly my advice to you not hastily to commit yourself to Geneva. Do not let it go entirely, but wait a little while to see what door Providence may open here. I had a talk last evening with P. G. S. about St. Marks & you. Something may come of it, better than Geneva. This is inter nos, except of course as to Mrs. Irving.

Yours very truly

J. L. Hawks

Dear Sir

Mr. Dr. Brown & Irving

