

Treasury Department
October 3rd 1804.

Sir,

The amount of public monies remaining in your hands, seems to be more than the current demands of your office can require. I have to request that you will pay into bank, regularly, all the monies coming into your hands, retaining only such sums as the necessary expences of your office may demand.

I am, respectfully,

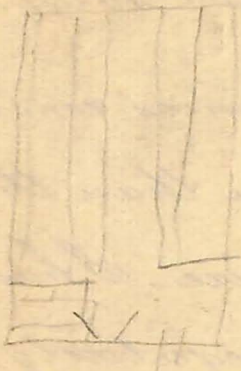

Sir

Your obedient serv^t

Albert Gallatin

Dudley B. Hobart, Esq.
Collector of Bath.

dk.

A. Gallatin
1804

A. Gallatin writing to our friend Jacobus