

Dr John Philip

Your Brother and his lady came here yesterday where they found your sister Beckman with us they all stayed and dined and left in the afternoon all well and well pleased they all arrived at the well and its situation which is now completed and has great plenty of water which is laid in the kitchen will be very good as Rain water which makes it a great acquisition

For my last I procured a list of what the Regt. weigh of those that are killed the remaining seven will be kept until the first trip of the vessel going down I don't you how they would be weighed of. The vessel has full freight every trip

As well as before you are aware of which the major difference I have taken a copy of them but have not as yet found the number of their packs they may be on the farm

Also, the King of the Mississippi from work is done to that the better House which will soon be given the Threshing work they are employed in getting the Hay home to W. Haycock and dancing giving the Corn still together, your mother and brother fair better in writing. We have enjoyed a great deal of health thank God since we have been here, Mr. Brown in your this morning to bring the last two loads of Hay to Haycock

He will go over to see about the cattle, there, and bring them home as he thinks best to morrow. I have your letter of the 19th instant as to the house your sister tells me she has written to you about it, I shall have some business but in answer to that the office tells will come in early in the Spring and there so through for the last your mother and sister join me in wishing your health and happiness in your affectionate
