

Dear Sir,

Canton February 25th 1835

I write you a few lines for La Hange and at the same time sent forward under Charge of Mr Harris, the Supercargo, all the letters which had come to hand, belonging to you. I shall be brief in this, as I think it not unlikely you will be on the point of sailing for Canton, and not knowing but you may have already left in the ellarmora or Fremont. — It has not been in my power, or rather, it has not been convenient to draw off a Statement of my account, and I shall leave it for a leisure moment after the arrival of one of the last named vessels.

There is nothing new here: the only American arrival since the Cubat, is the Mary Thayer which sailed from Samarra in Company — we look daily for the Haatis, tho' she had not reached Pootoon the 14th of January — She has been in the Carrasco salong that I do not dare say a word to ~~Waltham~~ about her. —

Marina or Fremont. — It has not been in my power, or rather, it has not been convenient to draw off a Statement of Sam's account, and I shall leave it for a lessening moment after the arrival of one of the last named vessels.

arrival since the Cabot, is the Mary Maguire which sailed from Samarra in Company — we look daily for the Waite, tho' she had not reached Putnam the 14th of January — She has been in the Customs Saloon, tho' I do not dare say a word to ~~her~~ ~~her~~
about her — —

I must have written you affably Dick - The poor fellow has been down more than a month and is now in a miserable state - the smallpox has passed off mostly, but he is mottled weak, both in body and mind - with considerable cough also - I am afraid it will be a long time before he recovers sufficient strength to go on board Ship - It shames me to think how little attention a sick person gets in this country - two Seamen from the Logan have watched with him - & the Chinese boys assist - He is very attentive - and Hathaway makes long calls upon him - However should the Logan find you in ellamla, Captain Runcraft will give you all the particulars -

Fishes is now at ellamla recruiting... I find full employment in the weighing, measuring, and shipping off departments -

We shall have the Cubat & Haagly to load soon but hope and trust not before Old William is cleared from the list - He has been here long enough I find much pleasure in pumping, Macle Sem - as you might expect - I am very sincerely
