

I am much disappointed my darling one that this hard rain prevents me from seeing you to day, my own impatience quite equals yours. I hope Miss Gaylord will be able to come up and look at our house this afternoon if clear I shall expect her I shall feel much more reconciled to leaving my beautiful home if I think that you are to enjoy it. I have no time

To write more as the boys must go yours ever
