

My dear Ann

Inclosed is a list of the Taverns on your journey to Baltimore. Should you leave this, in the morning, you ought to dine at Bowen's (the ship), and sleep at Downingtown and the next day reach Lancaster, from thence you will find very indifferent accommodations, after you leave York, the best house is Weifs's, and the only one at which you can lodge. so you will be obliged to make two long days journey or three short ones. between Lancaster & Baltimore - unless you conclude to give us an extra half day. lodge the first night at the Buck, the second at Wells and proceed on to Columbia on the third. which will be a more convenient arrangement for the latter part of your ride - which ever way you determine, My dear Ann, be assured you have my best wishes for your comfort & accommodation, I should be much gratified if you will let me hear from you on your arrival at Richmond, and believe me always most affectionately your friend Rly.

Mrs Charles Nicholas
