

W. Gilmour

Notwithstanding I have frequently pressed you to send for the Indian Corn you purchased of me last July and have lately told you several times that I lay under a necessity to take it out of my Corn-house to make room for my new crop you have still neglected to send for it I was therefore constrained last Thursday to take it out of the Cornhouse and put it into an old Corn loft that in wet weather leaks very much where it may lay at your risk till you please to send for it there has been no falling weather since it has been removed and it is at present very sound good Corn as may be sufficiently attested let this therefore be a warning to you from 9th Dec^r 1789.
