

Washington Dec 24 1853

Mr. Southwell,

I have barely time to inclose a few letters which will give you a launch upon London, and when once there launched you will be able to make your own way.

I shall not be able to see you before your mail. If any thing occurs to you that I can do for you I leave as care for me and I will do it. I may send the letters after you by another packet ship, the I think the enclosed will "do your business" am yours very truly

Washington Irving

Kind. Alex. Southwell
