ABOUT 1912 -

REAR

The old gate of the manor is particularly picturesque in June when blooms thick masses of the mock orange. The gardens are almost as old and char as the house itself

Front gate

rk and Lancaster roses which date back, if not to the Wars of the Roses, at least to the Revolution

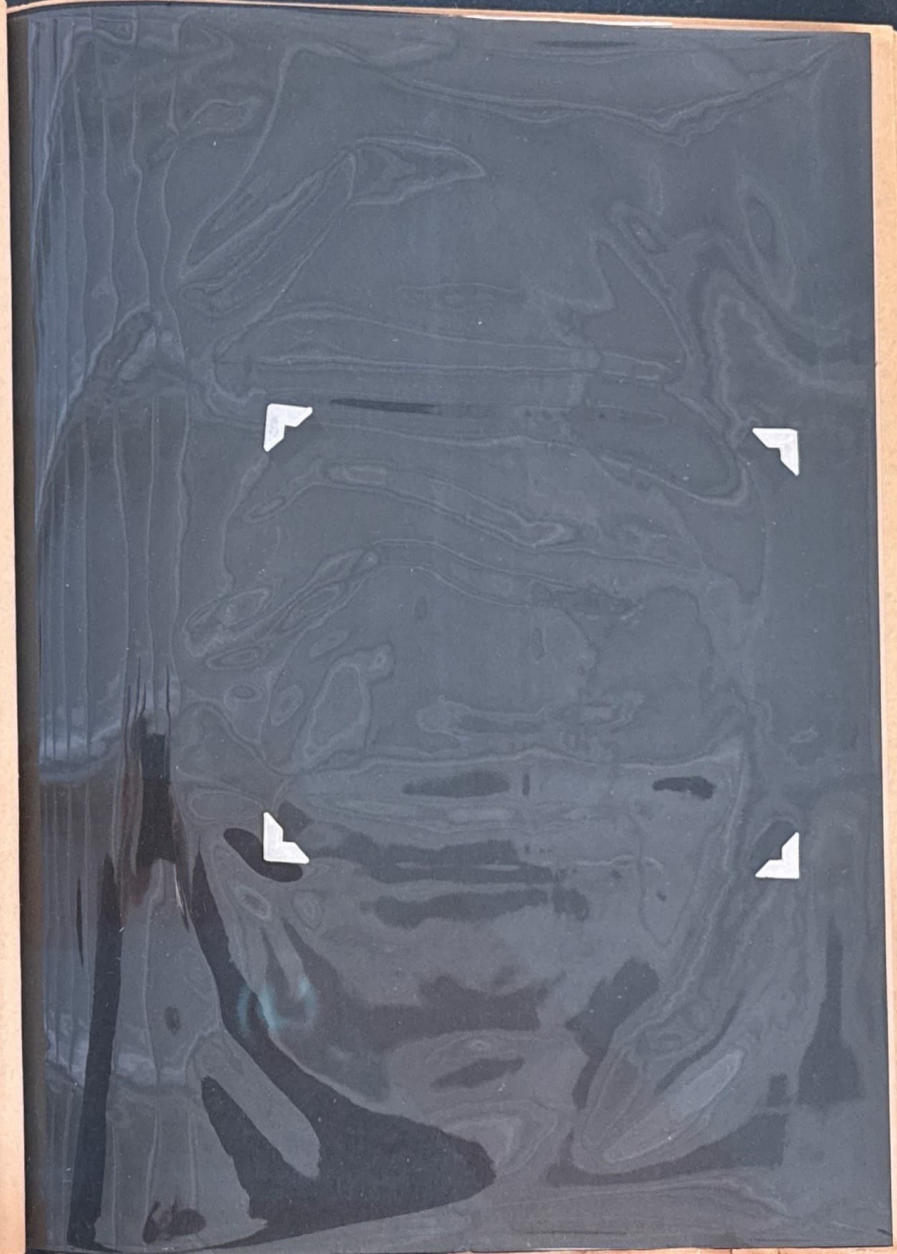

To the left of the house is the old garden, quaintly formal, with rose-grown walk leading down to the river

Door to Summer House.
