Dear Papa

Mama has received two letters from you and was surprised to hear that you had received none from her as she and Corliss had both written to you there is a letter here from Washington for you Ma, would of sent it to you but was fearful it would be miscarried as her letters must of been. - Aunt Beckman left here this morning she expects to go to New York tomorrow Aunt Van Rensselaer is very well she does not expect Mr Van Rensselaer to come for her until after the 18th as he is to be Groomsman to Mr Livingston who is to be married on that day we are all very well here and join with Ma in love to you
