Dear Sir

The Irving Institute, after having ceased to exist for a year or more, has recently been revived by one of the brothers, Mr William P Lyon. I am unable, however to give you any further information concerning it than that furnished in its own advertisements. I gave my name as a referee to the original establishment; I see it continued in the advertisements, but I have not had leisure or opportunity to make myself acquainted with its internal concerns since its revival respectfully,

Yours obt Serv^t
