

Dear Sir

I find Mr. Greenap has proffered his sale note etc so I shall be poorer in value & richer in cash than I expected. Will you have the goodness to pay Mr Bullock any account he may have against me I enclose a note in which I refer him to you also please to honour a draught in my name to the order of Mr Graham an Irish clergyman for £20.. Also an order for £35 in payment of some carriage harness & when these are ~~ordered~~ honoured you may send me with your convenience a cheque for the balance of £150..

I found all my family well on my return here the Lockharts particularly so especially since this very pleasant conclusion of Christie's unhappy affairs. I think Lord Waldegrave's memoirs the most distinct & elegant work which I ever read it is great pity they ever were so short a space of time.

Lockhart is gone to Liverpool to buy some snuffboxes & Sophia to his father. Anne & I are here with only my youngest daughter & the sole abiding members of my family - I send the enclosed in to the 2^d post and oblige your already obliged Walkefeldt.
