

Sunny Side

Dear Sir,

Nov 29th 10 o'clock a.m.

Washington Irving is dead, he retired to his room about 10 o'clock feeling more languid than usual, and complaining of pain in his side, but apparently not more unwell than he had been for months past, Just as he reached his room, and while his niece was near him he suddenly fell, and in a moment was gone, A Physician was soon with him but no mortal aid could avail to bring him back. - I saw him within an hour from the time he was taken, and he seemed as if in peaceful sleep.

His funeral will take place on Thursday at 1 PM at Christ Church Tarrytown.
The train that leaves Chambers Street at 11 o clock reaches Tarrytown at 12³⁰ and trains leave about 4 and 5 PM —

Please give this notice of his funeral in your Paper and oblige his family and Yours very truly
