My Dear Child

Whilst you are evidently alarmed horrid from the medicine administered by Mr Stronger, and he as well as myself believe that a continuance of it will only retard a perfect restoration of your health, whilst this is the case, how soon I shall be more than anxious for your return to home. I must therefore entreat you to protract your stay the least possible.

Your sister Margaret has been exceedingly ill, but is better and I believe out of danger.
— your Mother & Sister wait with love to you & Sally and the Children, God bless you my Dear Child, ever Affectionately Yours
P. Stronger
