My dear Cousin

Your good letters led us to hope so confidently that we should see you here that we were much disappointed at your forced departure without our seeing you.

I am tempted to regret that I did not get to Paris on purpose.

The Card I enclose has just come from Lady Anglia. As she speaks so warmly & kindly of you I must send it you.

And so now say I am as many friends from America & England. The Reason too is happy for the enjoyment of

The lonely County Surrounding us. I feel that some Accident has caused the loss of a letter, as none has come from you since you left Europe. However I trust you Reached home safe & well & that both you & your dear wife are quite well.

With our joint messages of affection, I am Yours Affly Cousin
Anna Van Wart
