"TO THE GRADUATING CLASS OF 1957"

As my final message, I wish to challenge you to remember that your education has no time limits and no space limits. Everything we do, every experience of our senses (sight, hearing, taste, touch, smell), every mental exercise, and every feeling in our hearts and souls contributes to our education. Education neither starts in the first grade nor ends with the acceptance of your high school diploma - it is a continuous process.

I challenge you to accept your diploma with the promise, that as the recession ends your experience in Beaver High School, your education will not cease but continue its growth with each and every experience - on your job, in your homes, in your spiritual life. Education is a very humbling experience: the more we learn, the more we realize how little we know, and how very much the God, who is all Truth and Knowledge, must know.

Most sincerely yours,

H. B. Wright, Supv. Principal

Class Prophecy

David Greer, editor of the Army Post suggested that I, Arlene Gunnoe, take a vacation from my job, as International Correspondent on his paper, to return to the old home town, Beaver, Ohio. The year of 1967.

In a few hours after I had boarded my plane, I was very thrilled at the sight of my native village.

First, my guide, Bonnie Jenkins took me to a restaurant for dinner where we had a little trouble getting good service. I suppose that was because Roger Vanfossan was the head waiter. He told us that even though the service was lousy, the food was good. Undoubtedly that was because Linda Givens was the chief cook and bottle washer, and that she had such good training in the school cafeteria.

I was surprised to find that Beaver has a new General Hospital. We went inside and I met several of my old classmates there. No, it wasn't That Kind of Hospital for That Kind of People. First, we ran into Danny Schrader pacing up and down in the fathers' waiting room. We saw a nurse and the doctor trying to get him to stand still as he was wearing a hole in the rug. Later, when they came out to tell Danny that Earnie had an eight pound boy, I found out that the nurse was Beauetta Gerwig and the doctor, Harold Slone. Of course at this news, Danny had to faint and we carried him to a hospital room to recover.

Then I glanced out the window across the street just in time to see Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Pennington, the former Helen Bapst, coming from the grocery with a month's supply of food for them and their twelve children out on the farm.

Next we went to visit the school. I almost passed out when the principal, Rodger Biggs, wrote us our visitor's slip. He hated school so much that I never expected to find him near a school again. He took us on a tour of the building. Our first stop was the Chemistry room and there in front of the class was Paul Brown. He had taken over Mr. Rapp's position. He says that the old practice of stealing semester exams from the waste basket is forgotten now, being that he has such bright students.

When we got to the gymnasium, basketball practice had already started. We weren't at all surprised to see Jerry Bobst as the coach. He says his team has an excellent record. Naturally, the girls' coach was his wife, Frankie Greer, who after ten years decided to say, "yes."

After visiting the school we visited a pretty little bungalow occupied by Mrs. David Gillum, the former Betty Swan. She was very busy sewing a complete layette for her twin sons.

We weren't surprised to find that Mrs. Donald Allen Swick, the former Betty Smith, now owns half interest in the Atomic Plant. While talking to Betty, we see someone coming down the hall with a broom in his hand. He said, "Don't you remember me, Red?" and sure enough it was none other than Bob West who is now the head janitor at the plant.

I was just leaving the plane, when I heard a news flash over the radio that Virginia Rapp, while at one of Azro's personal appearances, had fainted dead to the world. Strange though she keeps calling "Hines."

As we journey out to Glade we find that Jim Hoover & Sons are announcing the opening of Beaver's newest industry, Hoover's Fertilizer. Everyone thinks it will be a huge success.

From there we went to the Beauty Shop for a shampoo. When we got there Carol McKenzie was fixing Roger Given's hair. Apparently Carol has done well for herself with her chain of shops which she calls Givens' Beauty Haven.

Our next destination was the cozy little cottage of Mrs. Richard Conley, the former Irene Rigsby. Irene now has two darling little boys and seems to be living the perfect family life.

At the close of day, I was very sorry to say that it was time for me to return to my job as International Correspondent. My guide took me to Columbus to board my plane. To my surprise whom should I meet but Mickey Overly who is returning to his Naval Base where he is a Sergeant, after a ten day leave.

Well, the class of '57 has met again and had many exciting moments, which is not unusual. It is time for us to depart once more, but we will be back to visit in the coming years.

Earnestine Compton
Arlene Gunnoe

FAREWELL

We the Class of fifty-seven
This year we say farewell.
In B.H.S., we've enjoyed our lives,
More than words can tell.

Faculty, we all are thinking
Of the happy days with you.
The hearts of fifty-seven are linking
And all we express is true.

We'll miss the high school all the time
As we look for occupation,
We hope the school is just as fine
In the coming generation.

Some like school and some do not,
But we know you understand
We'll miss the school an awful lot,
And we think that it is grand.

In the halls and rooms we mingled,
And everyone had fun.
At the ball games we all tingled,
Whether we tied them, lost, or won.

In work and play at Beaver High
We've had good times together,
And as the years go rolling by
These memories will last forever.

As we leave this place of learning
From studies we will not refrain,
Our hearts forever will be yearning
To be at B.H.S. again.

Now we part from B.H.S.
We are leaving Beaver High.
We can't live over these years I guess
So now we will say, "Good-by."

DAMON LEROY DETILLION

It was about 9:30 P.M. on Friday June 8, 1956, that our whole community was shocked by the news that one of the members of our 1956 Graduating Class had been killed. Damon Leroy Detillion was the victim of that terrible head-on collision on State Route 124 between Beaver and Jackson.

Damon was one of the fine young men that has graduated from our High School. He has been greatly missed by all.

It is with sad hearts that, we, the Seniors, dedicate this page in our "1957 Beaver" to one of our former classmates.

Senior Class Will

We, the 1957 Graduating Class of Beaver High School, in the County of Pike, and the State of Ohio, being of sound mind and memory, and knowing that soon we will be forgotten among the ghosts of hundreds of others, do hereby make, publish, and declare this to be Our Last Will and Testament.

To the Junior Class, we will our Sponsor and all senior privileges, such as they are. These are to be used sparingly, especially the sponsor, who can't possibly withstand many more Senior Classes like ours.

To the underclassmen we will the following:

Helen Bapst wills her ability to help teach first grade and draw pictures to Vesta Stutter. Rodger Biggs wills his ability to be majorette to Mr. Corbin. Jerry Bobst wills his ability to steal semester test answers to anybody that can get away with it. Paul Brown wills his ability to woo the women to Pudge Reisinger. Earnestine Compton hereby leaves with Danny Lee. Beauetta Gerwig wills her nickname "Criminal" to "Convict" Sharon West. Roger Givens wills his ability to whisper in English class to Cousin Jonathon. David Greer wills his nickname "Clown" to Shelby Howard. Arlene Gunnoe wills her ability to do the "hula" to Mr. Karr. Jimmy Hoover wills his experience in married life to Carl Irvine and Nancy McGuire. Bonnie Jenkins wills her good times in Shorthand to future Junior Girls. Carol McKenzie wills her nickname "Barn" to Donna Kay Hale. Mickey Overly wills his two big feet to Max Williamson. Ronnie Pennington wills his ability to be a roughneck to Pook Adrain. Virginia Rapp wills Aszro to Pat Sparks. Irene Conley wills her ability to act like a kid to Lucy Vanover. Danny Schrader wills his two front teeth to Goat Weaver. Harold Slone wills his ability to sleep in the study hall to Dick Rapp. Betty Smith wills her ability to be Mr. Wright's secretary to any future Senior girl. Betty Swan wills her thank-you notes to the future Senior Secretaries. Roger Mack Vanfossan wills his Ford to Goat Weaver to go get Nancy Davis in. Bob West wills his panel truck to Johnny Givens to take Judy Rapp home.

Our Coach

If only this group of boys can accept the challenge of life as they have accepted and mastered the challenge of inexperience the past season, they shall be as equally successful in life.
